3. Curriculum Revisions

At the same meeting the following curriculum revisions were approved:

- Faculty of Engineering
  - A change to calendar copy for Civil Engineering, removing references to Application information from their Faculty listing page;
  - A clarification to the listed course requirements for the M.A.Sc. in Software Engineering and the M.Sc. in Computer Science;
  - A change to course requirements for the Electrical Computer and Engineering Graduate Programs to offer an enhanced course in research communications. Students will have the option to either complete this new course or the existing communication course to satisfy their degree requirements;
  - For the School of Engineering Practice and Technology the following changes were approved:
    - Adding some eHealth courses and a newly approved SEP course as recommended electives and changing the calendar language from ‘associate director to ‘program lead’ to confirm who reviews elective selections for the Master of Engineering Design program;
    - Addition of a new recommended elective for the Master of Engineering in Manufacturing Engineering;
    - A change to course requirements, switching a required course and an elective and changing the calendar language from ‘associate director to ‘program lead’ to confirm who reviews elective selections for the Master of Engineering and Public Policy;
    - The addition of a newly proposed course as a core course in the Automotive Stream of the Master of Engineering in Systems and Technology
- Faculty of Health Sciences
  - A change to course requirements for the Global Health Ph.D. program to allow more flexibility in the second required research methods course and a change to the language around the remaining two required courses to note that students can either take two electives or up to two independent studies courses under the guidance of their supervisor. The overall number of required courses remains the same; **
  - The introduction of a new required milestone in EDI-IR in the Interprofessional Context for the M.Sc. in Occupational Therapy, Physiotherapy and Speech Language Pathology programs;
  - A change to Comprehensive Examination procedure for the Health Policy Ph.D. in light of the availability of Generative AI to include an additional oral component that will ensure that students are able to defend choices they made in the exam and verify that the answers represent the student's own intellectual work and not the exclusive product of generative AI;***

- A change to calendar copy for the M.Sc. in Child Life and Pediatric Psychosocial Care to clarify which stream in the program is appropriate based on the applicants existing qualifications;
- A change to calendar copy for the M.Sc. in Health Research Methodology so that existing course requirements are more clear;
- A change to program requirements for the Occupational Therapy M.Sc. to develop five elective capstone courses that will allow students the opportunity to engage in more content and depth on several emerging areas in occupational therapy practice (advances research, equity and social justice, innovation and entrepreneurship, and leadership);
- Faculty of Humanities
  - A change to course requirements for the M.Sc. and Ph.D. in Cognitive Science of Language, removing an existing required course to provide more flexibility for students while maintaining the overall number of required courses;
  - A change to the calendar copy for the Cognitive Science of Language Ph.D. to address native speakers of languages other than English as it relates to the Language Requirement within the program, now noting that if students continue to actively use their native language they will be considered to have fulfilled the requirement;
  - A change to course requirements for the Master of Communication Management, switching a required course and an elective;
  - An addition to the list of approved electives for the Gender and Social Justice M.A. program;
  - A change to calendar copy to clarify the logistics of timing for the core course in the program for the M.A. in English;
  - The addition of a list of elective options for the M.A. in English, M.A. in Cultural Studies and Critical Theory and Ph.D. in English;
  - A change to course requirements for the History M.A. program to include a new required course in Applied History;
  - A change to program requirements for the Philosophy Ph.D., simplifying their area requirements and rather than requiring students to demonstrate competence in 5 of 8 possible areas before their Qualifying Exam, students will be required to complete a course in each of the three broad areas of Philosophy.

Detailed Description of the Accelerated MASc Program

Eligible students currently taking their undergraduate degree in the Department of Civil Engineering at McMaster University can obtain an MASc degree in a reduced time period. This provides a faster path to obtaining the highly valued post-graduate degree. The requirements of the MASc degree are not reduced. Instead, the accelerated program capitalizes upon research work that undergraduate students perform in the department, either through summer undergraduate research with one of our faculty members, or through the CIVENG 4Z04 independent study course. In addition, undergraduate students can take one 600-level course, which can provide credit both for their BEng and MASc degree requirements and therefore reduces the MASc course requirements.

To take part in the program the student must be eligible based on their grades, have a faculty member who will supervise their studies for 4 to 8 months before completion of their BEng, and have registered for the Accelerated Option before the end of the penultimate year of their Bachelor's degree. Interested students should inquire at the Department Office.

Applying and Registering

Department of Civil Engineering undergraduate students enrolled in the first or second term of their penultimate year can apply for the Accelerated MASc Option through the Civil Engineering Associate Chair – Graduate Studies (through Graduate Administrative Assistant Amelia Brook brookam2@mcmaster.ca). The student must identify a supervisor from the Department of Civil Engineering with whom they will be working, and the supervisor shall agree to supervise the student for their summer research work with the intension of also supervising their graduate studies. If necessary, the department may help the student in finding a suitable supervisor. It is possible that no suitable supervisor can be found and in that case the student cannot pursue the accelerated program but may apply through the usual route.

The Associate Chair and Supervisor will review the academic performance of the student (i.e., grades, prior research work, publications, etc.), requiring a minimum cumulative average of 9.5 and a sessional average in their last year of studies above 10 to apply for the Accelerated Option. The student will be notified if accepted under the Accelerated MASc Option prior to their first summer work term under the Accelerated Option. Students are highly encouraged to apply for the NSERC USRA program. Students may drop out of the Accelerated Option at any time prior to entering Graduate Studies without any effect to their undergraduate degree. Also, the permission to follow the Accelerated Option as an undergraduate student does not guarantee acceptance into Graduate Studies.

600-Level Courses

A student following the Accelerated MASc Option will be allowed to take one 600-level course required for the MASc program during their final year of undergraduate studies in our Department. All 600-level courses in the department are co-taught as simultaneous undergraduate (400-level) and graduate (600-level) versions, with the 600-level version requiring additional work to complete. The student will complete a form (available from the Department Office) that indicates the chosen course and obtain a signature from the instructor of the course. The instructor is responsible for keeping record of the student's performance and computing both a 400-level grade (based on the 400-level content) and a 600-level grade (based on the 600-level content). The grade at the 400-level will be recorded in the student's undergraduate transcript. At a later date, once the student has enrolled in the MASc program, the student will submit paperwork to the Department to request that the 600-level grade be entered into their graduate transcript, which can then be counted toward degree requirements. It is the responsibility of the instructor to keep the grades related to the additional work for the 600-level separate from the 400-level content. A student cannot use a 400-level course taken prior to applying for the Accelerated Option towards the 600-level course requirement as they will not have completed the extra workload.

Research Project

A MASc student pursuing the Accelerated Option must complete all MASc requirements. The Accelerated Option facilitates that a minimum of 4 months of work towards the research project have been completed prior to admission into Graduate Studies. A maximum of 8 months of work completed prior to admission into Graduate Studies may be completed toward the graduate program. Thus, the graduate program can be completed in about 12 to 18 months after receiving the BEng degree.

Typically, undergraduate students complete at least one 4-month summer undergraduate research term with their supervisor in the summer before their final year as a part of the Accelerated Option. In addition, students may enrol in the CIVENG 4Z04 Independent Study course in which the research project is continued.

Enrollment

The student must apply to Graduate Studies during the final year of their undergraduate program in the Department of Civil Engineering and is expected to begin their graduate program either in May or September of the year during which they graduate from the undergraduate program. Students may not defer enrollment to a later time without the permission of the Department. A student must follow the normal application procedures to Graduate Studies and must meet the admission requirements of the Department and the School of Graduate Studies. Failing to enter Graduate Studies will have no influence on the student's undergraduate transcript.

Master's Degree

A candidate for the Master's degree may proceed by either a thesis (M.A.Sc.) or project (M.Eng.) program. In each case the candidate is required to spend at least one calendar year in full-time graduate study, or the equivalent in part-time graduate study at McMaster University. ~~All full-time Master's candidates must attend and participate in the Department of Civil Engineering Graduate Student Seminar Day each year, for the first 6 terms (24 months) of study. Regulations for Master's examinations are available from the Department.~~

Requirements

Candidates will be required to complete satisfactorily the equivalent of at least two full courses, of which at least one must be from within the Department of Civil Engineering at McMaster University. Additional course work may be prescribed if deemed necessary by the candidate's research supervisor. ~~A dissertation must be presented which will embody the results of an original investigation; the dissertation is to be defended in an oral examination. This program is intended mainly for full-time candidates but may be taken on a part-time basis. Regulations for Master's examinations are available from the Department.~~

In addition to the above course requirements, all full-time Master's candidates must attend and participate in the Department of Civil Engineering Graduate Student Seminar Day each year, for the first 6 terms (24 months) of study. ~~A dissertation must be presented which will embody the results of an original investigation; the dissertation is to be defended in an oral examination. This program is intended mainly for full-time candidates but may be taken on a part-time basis. Regulations for Master's examinations are available from the Department.~~

An Accelerated Option is also available to students currently enrolled at McMaster as undergraduate students in the Civil Engineering Department whereby the M.A.Sc. degree may be completed in 16-20 months of full-time study. In exceptional circumstances, students from other Engineering departments in McMaster may apply for entry into the accelerated option by contacting the Civil Engineering Associate Chair \(Graduate\). Application for entry into the Accelerated Option, through the Associate Chair \(Graduate\), occurs in the penultimate year of undergraduate studies. Applicants must have maintained a minimum cumulative average of 9.5 for their undergraduate coursework with a sessional average of 10 at the time they are applying for the option. The Accelerated Option requires students to complete at least one term of their research project \(typically the summer of their penultimate year of undergraduate studies\) with a supervisor from the department prior to the completion of their undergraduate degree. For students enrolled in the Accelerated Option, research conducted in CIVENG 4Z04 can count towards the accelerated option and therefore towards partial fulfillment of the graduate M.A.Sc. thesis work. A one-term 600-level course is required under the accelerated option in the final undergraduate year for graduate credit provided it is listed within the department. Entry into the M.A.Sc. program under the Accelerated Option must occur less than one year after completing one's undergraduate degree and must meet the same requirements for admission as other candidates.

Rehabilitation Science
ADMISSIONS TO DUAL DEGREE OPTION
GPCC Program Change - Attachment

Describe the existing requirement/procedure

The McMaster Rehabilitation Science Dual Degree option allows students to obtain the established Master of Science in Occupational Therapy (OT) and Doctor of Philosophy in Rehabilitation Science (RS) OR the Master of Science in Physiotherapy (PT) and Doctor of Philosophy in Rehabilitation Science (RS) offered within the School of Rehabilitation Science in 5 years. The Dual Degree option provides students with advantages through integrated scholarship training and professional development and stream-lined time efficiency. Completing the two degrees, an OT or PT professional degree and Ph.D., concurrently rather than sequentially develops clinician scientists who have an understanding of the issues facing the professions, the potential contributions they can make and research expertise to undertake these roles.

Applications to the RS Dual Degree option are screened for eligibility for the professional programs by the OT and PT Program Coordinators, then reviewed and assessed by the RS Admissions Committee (~March). Select applicants are invited for a 45-minute interview with the RS, OT, and PT Assistant Deans (March-April). The objective of the interview is to better understand their potential fit with the program, the anticipated challenges of the program, and strategies they can utilize to manage these challenges. Applicants must fulfill admission requirements for both the Rehabilitation Science PhD program and the professional MSc programs to be considered for the Dual Degree option.

There is no Dual Degree option for Master of Science Speech-Language Pathology (SLP) and Doctor of Philosophy in Rehabilitation Science (RS).

Provide a detailed description of a recommended change

We propose to:

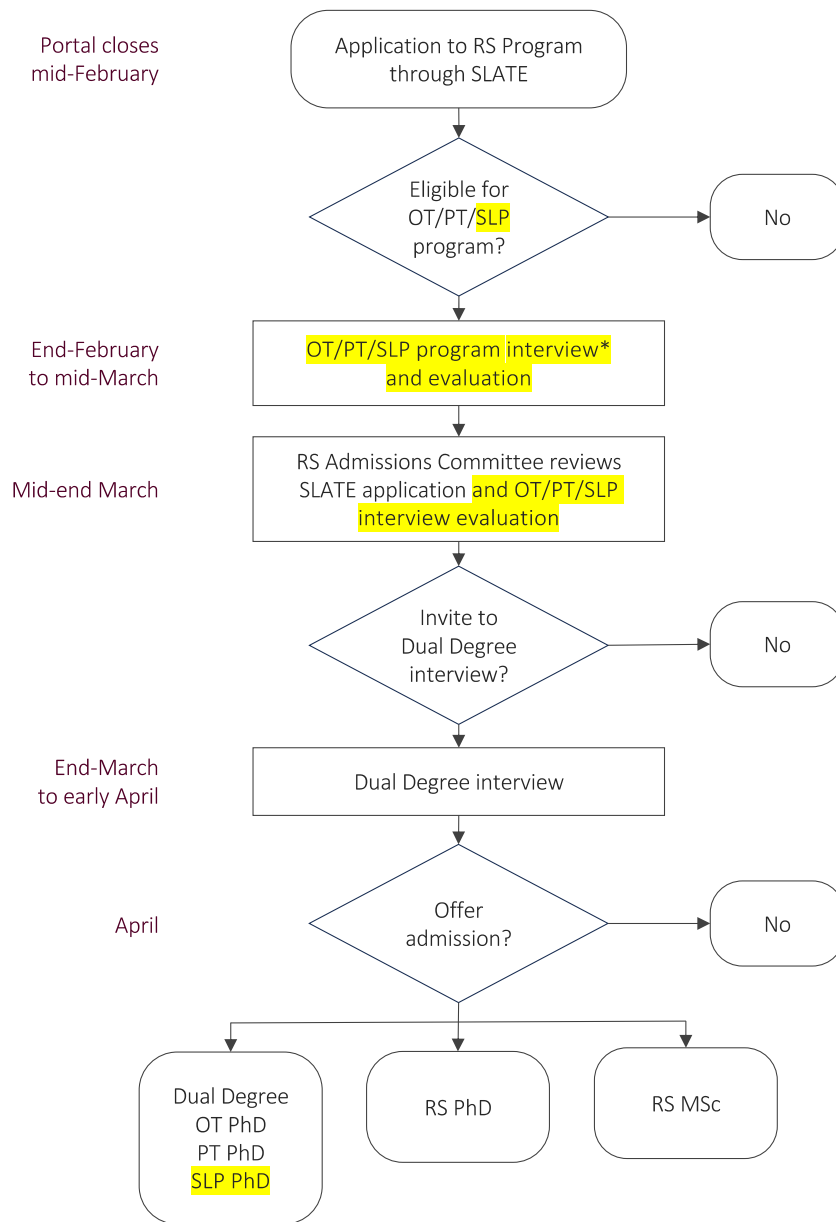

- 1) Add Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology (SLP) and Doctor of Philosophy in Rehabilitation Science (RS) Dual Degree option
- 2) Supplement the RS Dual Degree admission process with online interviews currently used for OT, PT and SLP program admissions (typically end-February to early March). The online interview platform will have text and video questions. Results of the OT, PT and SLP interviews will be used as a pre-screen for applicant fit with the respective professional program. The OT, PT or SLP interview will precede and be in addition to the Dual Degree interview that is part of current RS process (typically in April, in-person or via videoconference) which can focus on applicant fit for the Dual Degree option.

These changes will take effect for the September 2025 admission cycle.

The proposed changes are summarized in the following figure (highlight) and detailed in the next section:

SGS Curriculum Changes – Program
RS Dual Degree Option

*NOTE: No fees to complete the Dual Degree option online interview. Applicants who also apply for admission to OT, PT or SLP alone (though ORPAS, Ontario Rehabilitation Professional Admission Service) will pay any online interview fee(s) per usual process

Rationale for the recommended change (How does the requirement fit into the department’s program and/or tie to existing Program Learning Outcomes from the IQAP cyclical review?)

- 1) The McMaster SLP program started in 2017 and received full 7-year term of accreditation by the Council for Accreditation of Canadian University Programs in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology in April 2022. The SLP program is supported by 4 tenured or tenure-track faculty; all with full graduate supervisory privileges. This is the opportune time to add SLP-PhD Dual Degree option to our menu of options for admissions into the RS program.

LIMITATIONS OF CURRENT PROCESS

There is no current pathway for applicants interested in pursuing integrated scholarship training and professional development in SLP. The McMaster SLP program was new at the time the RS Dual Degree option started in 2017 and not yet accredited.

ANTICIPATED BENEFITS OF PROPOSED CHANGE

Adding the Dual Degree option for Master of Science Speech-Language Pathology (SLP) and Doctor of Philosophy in Rehabilitation Science (RS) will allow the School of Rehabilitation Science to offer the full complement of dual degree training for all professional programs and develop clinician-scientists in SLP.

- 2) Applicants for the RS Dual Degree option must meet eligibility requirements for both the professional (e.g. OT or PT or SLP) and the thesis program (RS). Currently, they are screened for eligibility for both programs for minimum GPA and pre-requisites but evaluated in depth only through a 30–40-minute Dual Degree interview with Assistant Deans of OT, PT and RS. The current interview process aims to assess the applicant for fit with the Dual Degree option with respect to future career goals as a clinician-scientist, anticipated challenges of managing dual degree learning and planned strategies to manage challenges.

In contrast, applicants to the professional programs as a ‘single stream’ are assessed through an in-depth online interview for fit with the clinical programs (Kira Talent interview platform for OT and PT; online multiple mini-interviews for SLP). Professional program interviews are comprised of verbal and written response questions. Information regarding the online interviews are provided on the OT, PT and SLP program websites.

LIMITATIONS OF CURRENT PROCESS

The current Dual Degree interview format assesses applicants for the integrated learning of RS combined with professional education, but it is limited in allowing us to fully assess the applicant for fit with the clinical programs. We do not access OT or PT interviews or interview scores when adjudicating applications to the Dual Degree option.

ANTICIPATED BENEFITS OF PROPOSED CHANGE

We propose that supplementing the RS Dual Degree application with professional program online interviews will provide specific information first regarding fit within the professional programs, and is aligned with our requirement that applicants must fulfill admission requirements for both the Rehabilitation Science PhD program and professional MSc programs to be considered for the Dual Degree option. This will also allow the Dual Degree interview to focus discussion on the integrated learning option. Information from both interviews will be helpful in informing our decision to offering admission to the high-demand and highly competitive Dual Degree option.

We note that many applicants to the Dual Degree option apply to the professional program alone as well. While we screen for GPA and program pre-requisite eligibility for both professional and research programs, the interview processes differ in assessment for fit with the professional programs. Including the professional program online interviews would also standardize the admissions process for applicants for both ‘single stream’ and Dual Degree programs.

There will be no additional interview fees for applicants to Dual Degree option only. Applicants who also apply for admission to OT, PT or SLP alone (through ORPAS, Ontario Rehabilitation Professional Admission Service) will pay the program online interview fee(s) per usual process.

The online interview will serve as a pre-screen for applicants to the Dual Degree option. Results from the online interview will be considered in the assessment for admission to the Dual Degree option, in addition to current application materials and interview.

Provide implementation date

These changes will take effect for the September 2025 admission cycle.

Provide a description of the recommended change to be included in the calendar (please include a tracked changes version of the calendar section affected if applicable)

1

The dual degree option offered by McMaster University will lead to an MSc (Occupational Therapy) and a Ph.D. in Rehabilitation Science or MSc(Physiotherapy) and PhD Rehabilitation Science degree or MSc (Speech-Language Pathology) and PhD Rehabilitation Science degree. This integrates the established programs in Occupational Therapy (OT), Physiotherapy (PT), and Speech-Language Pathology (SLP) and the doctoral (Ph.D.) Rehabilitation Science graduate program offered within the School of Rehabilitation Science (SRS). This degree program option provides the opportunity for training of clinician-scientists who will play an important role in linking research and evidence investigation to clinical applications of new approaches in the treatment of health problems. This dual degree option will be five years in length, the first two years the student will enter the Ph.D. program and complete their course work and the comprehensive exam and will develop the plan for their thesis. The next two years will be spent in the selected professional program and during the fifth and final year the student will complete their research and undertake their Ph.D. Defense.

Requirements

Students in either the MSc (OT) and Ph.D. OR the MSc (PT) and Ph.D. OR the MSc(SLP) and Ph.D. program will complete the professional curriculum requirements (eligible for Occupational Therapy, Physiotherapy, or Speech-Language Pathology programs), and the Ph.D. curriculum requirements. The requirements for both the professional programs and the Ph.D. program are outlined in the relevant sections of the SGS Calendar. One to two students will be accepted into the Dual Degree option on a yearly basis, and reach approximately 10 students in the program at a steady state.

Program Information

The dual degree option of the Masters of Science (Occupational Therapy) and Ph.D or Masters of Science (Physiotherapy) programs and PhD or Masters of Science (Speech-Language Pathology) and PhD is offered with specific blocks of time provided for activities in full time studies in either program. It utilizes the established curriculum in either of the professional programs and the Rehabilitation Science doctoral program.

Program Fulfillment

Fulfillment within the Occupational Therapy, Physiotherapy, or Speech-Language Pathology Program (in the dual degree MSc (OT) and Ph.D. programs or the dual degree MSc (PT) and Ph.D. programs or dual degree MSc (SLP) and Ph.D. programs)

Students in the dual degree option must successfully undertake complete the requirements for the Masters of Science (Occupational Therapy), Masters of Science (Physiotherapy) or Masters of Science (Speech-Language Pathology) outlined in the School of Graduate Studies Calendar. They will complete both the academic and the clinical education courses in either the Occupational Therapy Program, Physiotherapy Program OR Speech-Language Pathology Program. Students who enter this dual degree option will be exempt the course requirements for evidence based practice in the OT, PT or SLP programs. The activities of the evidence based practice course will be replaced by coursework in research methods and analyses in the first two years followed by independent data collections and analyses during the doctoral program. This will allow students to continue with their thesis work during their professional program.

Ph.D. Program Fulfillment

(in the dual degree programs in Occupational therapy or Physiotherapy or Speech-Language Pathology and Ph.D.)

Students must complete the requirements of the Ph.D. (RS) program, as outlined in the relevant section of Graduate Calendar, including the comprehensive examination and the submission and defense of a research thesis (the research proposal should be completed prior to entering the professional program). Students are expected to attend departmental rounds and senior seminars.

Admission

The admission requirements for the Ph.D. are:

1. Completion of a thesis-based M.Sc. degree in rehabilitation or a related field with a minimum of a B+ average. Students in non-thesis-based degrees such as entry-level professional Masters (OT/PT/SLP or other health professional degree) or a course-based Masters in a rehabilitation related field may be considered based on a minimum B+ average, combined with evidence of research experience and scholarly writing.
2. Two letters of recommendation from referees attesting to your academic/research abilities.
3. An up-to-date curriculum vitae.
4. A letter (maximum two (2) pages) outlining the proposed training plan (research interests, proposed research project/line of investigation, identified potential supervisors) and previous research experience/training. The letter should also provide an explanation of expectations for financial support including any applications for external funding. Finally, a brief description of tentative future career plans should also be included.

Applicant On-line Video Interview for Dual Degree Applicants

All applicants who meet the required GPA admission requirements and pre-requisite courses will be invited to participate in an on-line, video-based interview comprised of a series of ‘mini interview’ questions. Once applicants have submitted their online application and paid the video interview fee, the Program will notify applicants of the link to the video interview questions, instructions on how to complete the interview and the due date for completion of this component of the application. Please refer to the Program website for more details. Applicants will require an internet connection, a computer/laptop with a functioning webcam and microphone to complete the on-line, video-based interview.

Degree Requirements

The degree requirements for the Ph.D. are:

- The general regulations for the Degree Doctor of Philosophy appear earlier in the Calendar.
- REHAB 725 / Knowledge Exchange and Translation (3 credits)
- An approved Data Analysis or Methods course (3 credits)
- An approved Content Course Relevant to Thesis (3 credits)
- SGS #101 - Academic Research Integrity and Ethics and SGS #201 Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA) Training (online modules taken by all graduate students)
- The School of Rehabilitation Science has a series of research rounds, workshops and seminars given by rehabilitation scientists. Regular attendance at these seminars is required.
- The student’s Supervisory Committee may require students to take additional courses. Ph.D. students are expected to have previously completed Masters level training in research methods, data analysis, and theory. If these have not been completed during Masters level training, then additional courses in research methods/analysis will be required. If a course on the theory of science relevant to Rehabilitation has not been completed at the Master’s level, students will be required to complete REHAB 700.
- Students may choose additional courses, which may be taken once, approved by the student’s Supervisory Committee.
- Candidates are required to complete and pass the Ph.D. Comprehensive Examination. The Comprehensive Examination will include submission and oral defense of a portfolio designed to demonstrate breadth of knowledge and skills within their field, extending beyond the thesis topic. The candidate will use critical thinking and analysis to complete two components: 1) a scholarly paper prepared for publication and 2) a research protocol prepared for submission to a funding agency. The Comprehensive Examination will normally be completed within 20 months following registration for full time students, and 28 months for part-time students.
- The student will submit and defend a thesis demonstrating an original contribution to Rehabilitation Science. The Supervisory Committee determines when a candidate is ready to write the thesis and proceed to defense. The candidate submits a written thesis and defends it at a Final Oral Examination.

Rehabilitation Science

The School of Rehabilitation Science offers a M.Sc. and Ph.D. in Rehabilitation Sciences for individuals who have a prerequisite degree in Occupational Therapy, Physiotherapy, Speech-Language Pathology or other health-relevant program; and wish to pursue graduate training in Rehabilitation Science.

There are two options within the Rehabilitation Science Master's programs:

- 1) The thesis option, which may be undertaken on a full or part-time basis on campus; and
- 2) The course-based option, which is offered on a part-time basis and can be completed entirely through online education, or include on-campus course options.

The M.Sc. course-based option provides training to physiotherapists, occupational therapists and other health professionals who want to obtain a master's degree relevant to their clinical practice or employment. The program provides flexibility for working clinicians at a distance to complete the program entirely online and on a part-time basis. However, students also have the option to take an on-campus course. Courses emphasize evidence-based practice, clinical measurement/evaluation, critical thinking, qualitative and quantitative methods, and application of knowledge to practice.

The M.Sc. thesis option provides training that will develop knowledge, appraisal, and evaluation skills in Rehabilitation Science. Students study and apply theory, research design and analysis methods both qualitative and quantitative, to a Rehabilitation Science research thesis.

The Ph.D. in Rehabilitation Science provides training to develop rehabilitation scientists who will advance rehabilitation research and transfer new knowledge into practice and policy. This competency-based program educates students in rehabilitation theory, research design and methods, grantsmanship, scientific writing, knowledge exchange and translation, and teaching/learning strategies. This option includes coursework, a comprehensive portfolio and a thesis. Graduates will be prepared to take on academic, leadership or research roles.

The McMaster Rehabilitation Science Dual Degree option allows students to obtain the established Master of Science in Occupational Therapy (OT) and Doctor of Philosophy in Rehabilitation Science (RS), the Master of Science in Physiotherapy (PT) and Doctor of Philosophy in Rehabilitation Science (RS), or Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology (SLP) and Doctor of Philosophy (RS), offered within the School of Rehabilitation Science (SRS) in 5 years. The Dual Degree option provides students with advantages through integrated scholarship training and professional development and stream-lined time efficiency. Completing the two degrees, an OT,PT, or SLP professional degree and Ph.D., concurrently rather than sequentially develops clinician scientists who have an understanding of the issues facing the professions, the potential contributions they can make and research expertise to undertake these roles.

Rationale for the Recommended Change (How does the requirement fit into the department's program and/or tie to existing Program Learning Outcomes from the program's IQAP cyclical review?):

The change will reflect the department's name change to Greek and Roman Studies. This change was made to better reflect the department's areas of teaching and research. The name 'Classics' was decreasingly familiar to undergraduate students and we strive to reach as many students as possible; a name that is more explicit about what we do will give students a better understanding of the department and could help with recruitment. Furthermore, the change is consistent with a trend in the discipline throughout North America of moving away from the name 'Classics' to more descriptive, inclusive department names. We would like the graduate program names to be consistent with the department name and the undergraduate program names.

PROVIDE A DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE RECOMMENDED CHANGE (Attach additional pages if space is not sufficient.)

An Accelerated MSc pathway to be completed in 12 months, will be introduced as an option to McMaster Chemical Biology undergraduate students who complete their BSc in Honours Chemical Biology or Biochemistry and Biomedical Sciences (BBS), complete the undergraduate thesis course (CB 4G12 or BBS 4T15 or alternative equivalent courses). The accelerated MSc is with the same supervisor as the undergraduate thesis course and can be on a similar topic as the thesis project, but it must build on it without duplication. Students will be required to have a average of 10 or greater for the last two years at the time of application and the end of their BSc. Admission without meeting these requirements will require special permission from the supervisor and director of the Chemical Biology Graduate Program (CBGP).

Application to the Accelerated MSc pathway. Honours Chemical Biology and Honours Co-op Chemical Biology students would apply to the Accelerated MSc pathway by mid-November of their last year for admission in May or September immediately following completion of their BSc in Level IV (for Honours Chemical Biology and BBS graduates) or Level V for (Honours Co-op Chemical Biology and BBS graduates). The application form requires a description of their proposed undergraduate thesis project (CB 4G12, BBS 4T15 or alternative equivalent courses) and their Accelerated MSc project as approved by the proposed supervisor. The applicant must obtain the approval of the supervisor, as evidenced by their signature. Additional materials will include a statement of interest in pursuing graduate studies. If appropriate, an additional sheet detailing any previous research, teaching, or work experience related to their proposed area of specialization may be submitted.

After admission. Accelerated MSc students will be required to meet the same requirements as students enrolled in the current Chemical Biology MSc program, as outlined below.

Supervisory committee. Establish a supervisory committee in the first month and complete their first and second meetings within 2 and 10 months of starting their degree, respectively.

Course requirements. Accelerated MSc students will complete the same course requirements as the traditional MSc students. Accelerated MSc students will be required to complete CB 700, a 12-week course performed as two 6-week modules in the Fall and Winter semesters. Complete a 600-level course for which no undergraduate training was previously received or CB 702 by submitting a report of a detailed review of their respective research fields to their supervisory committee. An alternative 3U course, in lieu of a 600-level course or CB702, is also allowed. Eligible students may request advance credit for up to one course based on course taken in their undergraduate degree at McMaster. Requests for advance credit are done by petition to the Associate Dean of the Faculty once enrolled in the graduate program and must be approved by their supervisor and the Director of the CBPG. Courses taken at the 600-level in a student's undergraduate career at McMaster may be considered for advanced credit.

Colloquium. Students will be required to present their research at the April Chemical Biology colloquium with the second year traditional MSc students.

Thesis submission and defense. Students would be expected to submit and defend their thesis in the twelfth month or conduct a PhD transfer exam. If they successfully complete the PhD transfer exam, they will be required to meet all the requirements of the traditional Chemical Biology PhD program with the earliest graduation being 3 years after entering graduate school. The option of a non-accelerated, two-year MSc degree is also still available, if the Supervisory Committee deems that more time is needed to complete the MSc thesis.

Please refer to Appendix A for the proposed addition to the CBGP handbook.

RATIONALE FOR THE RECOMMENDED CHANGE (How does the requirement fit into the department's program and/or tie to existing Program Learning Outcomes from the program's IQAP cyclical review?):
The Chemical Biology BSc program is an intensive 4-year program with significant experiential learning including advanced lab-based and inquiry courses, including a 12-credit undergraduate thesis course (4G12). Many high-achieving students would benefit from an Accelerated MSc pathway for multiple reasons, including: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(1) The expedited degree will match the advanced skill set of our best students. The accelerated MSc capitalizes on synergies between 4th year theses and staying in same lab for MSc. With the accelerated MSc we now recognize and reward such synergy.</li> <li>(2) To the best of our knowledge, the option of an accelerated M.Sc. in chemical biology is quite unique and is expected to also increase our undergraduate enrolment.</li> <li>(3) A B.Sc. degree is often insufficient to secure competitive positions in industry, while M.Sc. graduates in Chemical Biology are currently highly sought after by companies.</li> <li>(4) Efficient preparation for the growing Canadian Biotechnology sector, which requires candidates with advanced skills. According to the 2021 Close-up on the bio-economy: National report by BioTalent Canada (the most recent national report), demand for biological scientists and engineers will outstrip supply. For example, the report states "The bio-economy is expected to grow modestly between 2021 and 2029. Current estimates indicate there will not be enough workers to meet the labour need of 65,000 additional workers by the end of the decade, with significant pressure starting within the next three years and job-opening-to-candidate ratios reaching 4:1 in some cases".</li> <li>(5) Improving their competitiveness for professional post-undergraduate programs.</li> </ol>

Alignment with CBGP core missions. The mission of CBPG is to provide an intensive research environment for high achieving students, which has been traditionally executed with a lower traditional course load and TA commitments to maximize research time. To this end, providing a path for expedited research intensive 1-year MSc will improve access and inclusivity of our program for students with time restraints (e.g., future applicants to professional schools, financial limitations, family constraints) without sacrificing quality. The pathway will provide an opportunity and greater incentive for current undergraduates to enter the MSc program.

Alignment with Program Learning outcomes. The proposed 1-year MSc maintains all requirements from the traditional 2-year MSc, and therefore aligns perfectly with all learning outcomes. Students are still required to take complete the same program requirements as the 2-year Option.

PROVIDE IMPLEMENTATION DATE: (Implementation date should be at the beginning of the academic year)

September 2024

ARE THERE ANY OTHER DETAILS OF THE RECOMMENDED CHANGE THAT THE CURRICULUM AND POLICY COMMITTEE SHOULD BE AWARE OF? IF YES, EXPLAIN.

MSc option is available to Honours Chemical Biology or BBS and Honours Chemical Biology or BBS Co-op students currently enrolled at McMaster University.

PROVIDE A DESCRIPTION OF THE RECOMMENDED CHANGE TO BE INCLUDED IN THE CALENDAR (please include a tracked changes version of the calendar section affected if applicable):

An accelerated MSc option is available to students currently enrolled at McMaster University in Honours Chemical Biology or BBS or Honours Co-op Chemical Biology or BBS whereby the degree may be completed in 12 months of full-time study. Application for entry into the accelerated option occurs in by mid-November of their last year for admission in May or September immediately following completion of their BSc in Level IV (for Honours Chemical Biology and BBS graduates) or Level V for (Honours Co-op Chemical Biology and BBS graduates). Applicants must have a sessional average of 10.0 at the time they are applying for the option.

- Students will need to complete the undergraduate thesis course (CB 4G12 or BBS 4T15 or alternative equivalent courses) with their proposed Accelerated MSc supervisor during completion of their undergraduate degree.
- Advance Credit: Eligible students may request advance credit for up to one course based on a course taken in their undergraduate degree at McMaster. Requests for advance credit are done by petition to the Associate Dean of the Faculty once enrolled in the graduate program and must be approved by their supervisor and the Director of the Chemical Biology Graduate Program. Courses taken at the 600-level in a student's undergraduate career at McMaster may be considered for advanced credit.

Appendix A: Handbook entry for the Accelerated MSc Degree Option in the Chemical Biology Graduate Program (CBGP)

Entrance requirements for the Accelerated M.Sc. Pathway

An accelerated MSc option is available to students currently enrolled at McMaster University in Honours Chemical Biology, Honours Biochemistry and Biomedical Sciences (BBS), Honours Co-op Chemical Biology or Honours Co-op BBS whereby the degree may be completed in 12 months of full-time study. Application for entry into the accelerated option occurs by mid-November of their last year for admission in May or September immediately following completion of their BSc in Level IV (for Honours Chemical Biology and BBS graduates) or Level V for (Honours Co-op Chemical Biology and BBS graduates). Applicants must have an average of 10.0 over the last two years at the time they are applying for the option. Exceptions will have to be approved by supervisor, director of the program, and the Associate Dean.

- Students will need to complete CB 4G12 or equivalent (e.g. BBS 4T15), undergraduate thesis course, with their proposed supervisor during completion of their undergraduate degree. Alternative thesis courses may be allowed but will have to be approved by supervisor and director of the program.

Students are expected to begin in May or September of the year after they graduate at McMaster University from Honours Chemical Biology, Honours Biochemistry and Biomedical Sciences (BBS), Honours Co-op Chemical Biology or Honours Co-op BBS. They will need to follow the normal application procedures of Graduate Studies and must meet the requirements of both the Chemical Biology Graduate Program and the School of Graduate Studies. Students would apply to the Accelerated MSc pathway in mid-November of level IV for admission in May or September immediately following completion of their BSc in Level IV (for Honours Chemical Biology graduates) or Level V for (Honours Co-op Chemical Biology graduates). The application form requires a description of their proposed undergraduate thesis project (e.g., CB 4G12 or BBS 4T15) and their Accelerated MSc project as approved by the supervisor. The applicant must obtain the approval of the supervisor, as evidenced by their signature. Additional materials will include a statement of interest in pursuing graduate studies. If appropriate, an additional sheet detailing any previous research, teaching, or work experience related to their proposed area of specialization may be submitted.

Accelerated M.Sc. Description.

A candidate for the Accelerated M.Sc. degree will spend at least one calendar year in full-time study at McMaster University. Candidates are required to:

- (1) complete CB 700;
- (2) Complete a 600-level course for which no undergraduate training was previously received or CB 702 by submitting a report of a detailed review of their respective research fields to their supervisory committee. An alternative 3U course or two 1.5 credit 700 courses, in lieu of a 600-level course or CB702, is also allowed. Eligible students may request advance credit for up to one course based on course taken in their undergraduate degree at McMaster. Requests for advance credit are done by petition to the Associate Dean of the Faculty once enrolled in the graduate program and must be approved by their supervisor and the Director of the Chemical Biology Graduate Program. Courses taken at the 600-level in a student's undergraduate career at McMaster may be considered for advanced credit.
- (3) give at least one seminar in the Chemical Biology seminar program; and
- (4) present a thesis which will embody the results of original research. The thesis must be defended in an oral examination. Students may be admitted to the doctoral program without completing their Master's degree. These students may be allowed to transfer to the Ph.D. program after 10 months provided their progress is judged satisfactory by the Supervisory Committee. Please see "Transfer from M.Sc. to Ph.D. Program" guidelines for details. M.Sc. Thesis Evaluation Permission to write up a M.Sc. thesis should be requested at approximately the tenth month mark following admission into the program.

Once the student has completed their thesis, they must submit it to their supervisor for formal review. If it is considered ready for defence, it will then be read and evaluated by a committee of two faculty members (including the supervisor). The thesis will be defended by the candidate in an oral examination before this committee. Acting on behalf of the Program Director, the time of the defence will be set by the Graduate Assistant; normally this will be about two weeks after the completed thesis has been submitted to the department. After a successful defence, the candidate must address any necessary corrections and submit the thesis to the School of Graduate Studies. NOTE: A student whose work is unsatisfactory may at any time be required to withdraw from the program. The option of a non-accelerated, two-year MSc degree is also still available, if the Supervisory Committee deems that more time is needed to complete the MSc thesis.

PhD Transfer Examination. This exam provides a direct route from M.Sc. to Ph.D. studies and permits students to significantly reduce their overall time for completion of a Ph.D. degree. This examination can take place as early as 10 months after beginning the Accelerated M.Sc. pathway but MUST be completed by the twelfth months in the Accelerated M.Sc. pathway. Students considering continuing in a Ph.D. in Chemical Biology would need to meet all the requirements of the Ph.D. program.

Timeline for the Accelerated MSc pathway

Entry into the MSc program under the accelerated pathway must occur in May or September immediately following one's undergraduate degree and must meet the same requirements for admissions as other candidates. The timeline for the Accelerated MSc pathway would be as follows:

- Students will officially start their accelerated MSc in May or September (after completion of their BSc, and once they have been cleared to graduate).
- Complete first meeting within 2 months of starting the MSc program.
- Students would take CB 700 that comprises of a 6-week module in the Fall and an additional 6-week module in the Winter.
- Students would complete CB 702 in the Winter if they did not receive credit or advance credit for an approved alternative course.
- Students would present their research at the Chemical Biology Graduate Colloquium in April.
- Complete a second supervisory meeting at least one month before planned defense date.
- Students would submit their thesis at least two weeks prior to their scheduled defense.
- Students would orally defend their thesis by the end of April or August.

We propose merging our existing programs into one MA with two possible streams alongside a program name change to reflect the merged degrees, with no other significant changes to the degree and PLOs.

Rationale for the Recommended Change (How does the requirement fit into the department’s program and/or tie to existing Program Learning Outcomes from the program’s IQAP cyclical review?): In 2021, the department eliminated the thesis option for the English MA due, among other factors, to lack of supervisory capacity. However, many of our strongest English MA applicants propose well-defined independent research projects; indeed, those who apply for SSHRC CGS-M are required to propose such a project. Currently, our English MA students cannot pursue these projects as an MRP; their only option is the public-facing independent project option embedded in English 799. They also do not usually have access to CultrSt 732, which offers an important introduction to key Cultural Studies terms and readings. CSCT MA students, by turn, are required to complete MRPs but do not have the option to take English 799. However, 799’s Public Humanities focus and space for research-creation work are strongly relevant to many of these students. Indeed, many CSCT MA students might well prefer 799’s options for research-creation and/or public facing projects, as opposed to the more traditional writerly, academic-community focused MRP. Learning outcomes will remain the same between the existing programs and the new merged program, as will almost all of the requirements (please see charts below).

As indicated in the charts above, we propose to keep CultrSt 732 under the revised course code ECS 732. Instead of this being a mandatory seminar for CSCT MA students it will be an elective course open to students in both the MRP and the course-based streams (as well as to students in our PhD programmes).

To ensure that students in both streams are adequately supported as they move toward independent work, each stream will also retain one mandatory Winter term course designed to act as a hub for cohort building and a supportive community for students to begin pursuing independent research. For the course-based stream, this hub will remain 799; for the MRP stream, the hub will be ECS 733, a revised iteration of what is currently CultrSt 733. Each core course will include a module designed to introduce students to key terms, frameworks, and practical skills designed to help anchor independent project/MRP work. The colloquium for each stream will also provide all MA students with professionalization skill-building opportunities in knowledge mobilization: each student will present their own research/research in progress for an interdisciplinary audience of peers and faculty members, and participate as an audience member for their fellow presenters.

The English and Cultural Studies MRP proposal, due in early February, will now be 500 words (down from the 1,000 word length of our current CSCT MRP proposal) plus bibliography, to better enable timely and constructive (peer) workshopping within ECS 733, focused around fundamental questions of scope, scale, and how to situate the research. The MRP length itself will be 30-40 pages plus bibliography (rather than 50 pages with bibliography). This reduction in final project length matches current practice in the CSCT MA programme introduced temporarily in response to the pandemic. Regularizing this practice has the added value of supporting MA MRP-stream students in producing journal-article length essays.

The proposed merger resulting in a two-stream degree titled MA in English and Cultural Studies will help us as a department to proactively address tensions noted in our last IQAP report related to the relationship between literary studies and cultural studies. In that report, external reviewers report confusion amongst students regarding how these two modes of inquiry speak to one another, as well as worries among faculty members that both approaches are not valued equally within our departmental culture. The current organization of our MA offerings, with two separate and separately named MA programs in which only elective courses are shared, inadvertently reinforces divisions eschewed by our departmental name change from over a decade ago. Reorganizing our MA programme offerings under a shared name will help to ameliorate this unintended problem by affirming the department's shared commitment to emphasizing productive synergies between literary and cultural studies and will better reinforce what is distinct about our department. (Indeed, we are also proposing to change the programme name for our PhD to English and Cultural Studies, so that all degree programmes within the department will now match the department name.)

Within the newly merged programme, each stream will have a core course that brings together student researchers working across literary and cultural studies frameworks. Each course will thus recognize and foster multiple approaches, and both streams will include student presentations at colloquia to which faculty members will be invited. These colloquia have the capacity to foster more richly interdisciplinary conversations amongst graduate students and faculty members alike.

Proposed Programme Calendar Description

The MA in English and Cultural Studies offers students valuable opportunities to exchange ideas in graduate coursework and to pursue independent research in literary studies, cultural studies, and/or critical theory.

Candidates for the M.A. in English and Cultural Studies will complete one of two possible streams.

Course-based stream: Students in the course-based stream complete six elective one-term graduate courses or their equivalent, with grades of at least B- in each, and one required core course (ECS 799), assessed on a pass/fail basis, that extends across the winter and spring/summer terms. ECS 799 acts as a hub for student-centred community and discussion regarding the Public Humanities, with a particular focus on writing with/in/for communities. Students in this course devise individual public-facing research or research-creation projects and present their projects at a colloquium in early August.

MRP stream: Students in the MRP (Major Research Project) stream complete five elective one-term graduate courses (or their equivalent) over the fall and winter terms, with grades of at least B- in each. They also take one required core course (ECS 733) assessed on a pass/fail basis, in the winter term. ECS 733 focuses on research methods in English and Cultural Studies and acts as a hub for supporting students as they begin planning independent work on their MRPs. Students are welcome to pursue Major Research Projects that engage literary studies, cultural studies, critical theory, and/or synergies between these fields. In late spring students present MRP work in progress at a colloquium and during the summer write a Major Research Project of 7,500 to 10,000 words (30 to 40 pages).

The M.A. degree normally requires one full year to complete.

The minimum admission requirement is a four-year undergraduate degree in a relevant discipline or disciplines, and with an average of B+ in at least six full or twelve half courses beyond the introductory level.

Proposal to Pilot an Equitable Admissions Process for the Arts & Science Program

Submitted by Dr. Beth Marquis, Director (Arts & Science), April 2024

Background/Rationale

As a limited enrolment, by-selection program, the Arts & Science Program is able to offer students meaningful, small-group learning opportunities and to support the development of a rich community of learning wherein students, faculty, and staff know one another and work closely together. Nevertheless, the Program's small size also raises important questions about its accessibility—questions with which we have long grappled. In Combining Two Cultures (Jenkins, Ferrier, & Ross, 2004)—a book that outlines the creation and early history of Arts & Science—for instance, former Program Directors discuss how vital the program's size is to its success, while also noting the importance of ongoing attention to access and pointing out that students from some groups appear to be underrepresented in the program despite its broad diversity. Several steps have been taken over the years to continue to navigate this challenge, including a process (no longer in place) through which a small number of seats in the program were reserved for Indigenous students, and review of supplementary application questions and procedures. Nonetheless, continuing to diversify our applicant pool remains a priority, and was identified as such in a piece co-authored by the current and most recent Program Directors (Marquis & Wilson, 2022).

Areas of particular significance to consider in relation to this goal include the racial/ethnic diversity of the program community and the extent to which Indigenous people are represented within it. Writing in 2004, former Program Director Gary Warner noted that “the ethno-cultural diversity of the students enrolled in the Programme is adequate in terms of students from Asia, but not in terms of students of African or Aboriginal heritage” (p.272). While the diversity of the program appears to have increased in recent years, little demographic information is available to systematically confirm or complicate these perceptions. At the same time, what minimal demographic information exists suggests that some gaps, including those mentioned by Dr. Warner in 2004, are still in need of careful attention. In the Student Census and Experience Survey conducted by the Equity and Inclusion Office in 2021, for example, a strong majority of Arts & Science respondents identified as White, and significant proportions identified as Chinese and as South Asian. Fewer than 5 survey participants selected each of the other response options (with the exception of Multiracial/ethnic, which was selected by slightly more than 5 people). Complicating these findings is the fact that only ~30% of then-current Arts & Science students completed the survey; demographic information for those who didn't participate is unknown.

More recently, OUAC has begun collecting demographic data from applicants to Ontario Universities. As part of our efforts to better understand the specific demographic composition of the Arts & Science program and increase its diversity where needed, we are currently working with the Office of Institutional Research and Analysis and the Equity and Inclusion Office as one of a small number of “use cases” that will help to determine how best to draw on and provide secure access to these OUAC data. This work also includes consultation with the Privacy Office to ensure data protection and equity requirements are part of operationalizing the data use and disclosure processes, including the impact of small cell data on disclosure. While data collected from applicants in 2022-23 (accessed through this use case process) cannot yet be made public, early considerations of those data have been drawn in the development of this proposal.

Alongside this (limited) program specific-data, a considerable body of research considers barriers to postsecondary education experienced by individuals who identify as Black, Latin American/Latinx, and/or Indigenous in Canada. Census data demonstrate that Indigenous and Black Canadians are less likely than many others to hold a university degree (Arriagada, 2021; Melvin, 2023; Turcotte, 2020; StatsCan, 2023), and that, while rates of degree-holding among Latin American/Latinx people are slightly higher than those of the general population, these figures are affected by the increasing proportion of Latin American/Latinx immigrants who have already earned university degrees when they arrive in Canada (StatsCan, 2023<sup>1</sup>). At the same time, a range of longitudinal studies (drawing primarily on data collected by the Toronto District School Board), demonstrate that Black and/or Latin American/Latinx students are less likely to confirm university attendance than those from other racial groups (Gallagher-Mackay et al., 2023; James, 2021a; Malette & Robson, 2021; Robson et al., 2015). Some research also suggests that Black men are less likely than others to attend “prestigious” universities (Davies et al., 2014<sup>2</sup>), and that Black students represent smaller proportions of students in “elite” university programs than they do in “general programs in the Arts and health” (James & Parekh, 2021, p.79). Arts & Science, though it offers a broad-based, interdisciplinary Liberal Arts education, is arguably understandable as a prestigious or sought-after program, given that it is a well-respected, limited enrollment, “by-selection” program.

While some studies point toward recent shifts in the disparities in access to PSE between Black and Latin American/Latinx students and others or don’t fully replicate some of the above findings, even this work highlights the need for caution and continued attention. Gallagher-Mackay and Brown (2023), for example, note that Black and Latin American students in the GTA have seen increased rates of university access over the early years of the COVID-19 pandemic; nevertheless, the data they provide make clear that rates of university confirmation still remain much lower for Black (29%) and Latin American (29.1%) students than for White students (55.3%) in the final year represented by their dataset. Conversely, Robson et al. (2019) demonstrate that while Latin American students experienced reduced rates of university confirmation relative to White students in one cohort represented in the data from which they draw, Black students were more likely to confirm university places than White students when other variables were controlled. Nevertheless, the authors emphasize, “these findings are derived from statistical models that assume ‘all things being equal,’ but as numerous reports by us and others have demonstrated, this assumption of equality (particularly in terms of prior attainment, streaming and special education needs) is often very faulty” (p.39; see also Parekh, Brown, & Abdulkarim, 2021; Robson et al., 2018).

As this comment suggests, a large body of research also documents racism and inequity experienced by Indigenous, Black, and Latin American/Latinx students within the primary and secondary school systems. Students in these groups are more likely than many others to enrol in/be streamed into “applied” vs. “academic” courses in high school (Gallagher-Mackay et al., 2023; Gallagher-Mackay, Yau et al., 2023; James & Turner, 2017; Parekh, Brown, & Abdulkarim, 2021; People for Education, 2022; Robson et al., 2018), a finding which has contributed to the recent decision to de-stream the Grade 9 curriculum in Ontario. At the same time, White students (and particularly White boys with parents in “high status” occupations) are more likely to be identified as gifted than those from many racialized groups (Parekh et al., 2018; James & Turner, 2017; James, 2021a), while Black and Latin American/Latinx students are more likely (than other groups or, in some cases, than overall averages) to be placed in special education programs or identified as requiring an Individual Education Plan (James, 2021a; Parada et al., 2023; Parekh & Brown, 2019; Robson et al., 2018). Several studies document the extent to which Black and Latin American/Latinx students must navigate low expectations and insufficient support from teachers and guidance counsellors, barriers to parental involvement in education, increased levels of discipline and punishment at school, experiences of racism and stereotyping, comparatively low senses of belonging or connectedness, and/or the effects of insufficient representation in curricula and among teaching staff (see, for example, Adam et al., 2023; Edwards & Parada, 2022; Escobar Olivo et al., 2022; F.A.C.E.S. of Peel Collaborative, 2015; George, 2023; George et al., 2021; Gray et al., 2016; James, 2021b; James & Turner, 2017; Parada et al., 2021; Parada, Escobar Olivo & Limón Bravo, 2023; Parada et al., 2023; Patte et al., 2021; Poteet & Simmons, 2016; Thompson & Pinnock, 2022). Parekh, Brown, & Zheng (2021) also provide evidence of discrimination within assessment practices, demonstrating that White students (as well as girls, those without disabilities, and those of privileged class backgrounds) are more likely to receive “Excellent” scores on Learning Skills ratings than are many others, even when achievement levels are similar. (Black students, in contrast, were least likely to achieve a rating of “Excellent” across all levels of achievement among the racial groups studied in this research).

Taken together, these and other research findings provide compelling evidence that Black, Latin American/Latinx, and Indigenous students experience considerable inequity in schooling and must navigate barriers to accessing university in Ontario. At the same time, our limited program-specific data begin to suggest that these barriers and injustices might well be affecting the numbers of students from these groups who apply to and enroll in the program. In line with the Ontario Human Rights Commission’s guidelines for “Special Programs,” we thus wish to develop an equitable admissions process that aims to help address and respond to this discrimination and promote substantive equality for Black, Latin American/Latinx, and Indigenous applicants. This document thus outlines the first planned stream of this proposal, which we hope to pilot in 2024-25 (the next admissions cycle) as one piece of our efforts to further diversify our applicant pool and ensure that our admissions processes are as equitable as possible. This admissions-focused process will be supplemented by additional recruitment efforts focused not simply on attracting applicants (we continue to have strong application numbers), but specifically on ensuring that a wider variety of applicants who would be interested in and qualified for the Program know about it and what it entails, and see it as a potential academic home. A new limited-term staff role has been created to help with this latter task, in part by developing new, equity-conscious recruitment strategies. This proposed addition to our admissions processes will also complement ongoing efforts to further equity and justice across the Program and its curriculum.

Consultation and Guidance

We are indebted, in this work, to the efforts of former Arts & Science Directors and to those of others on campus who have established (and are continuing to establish) equity-conscious admissions strategies. The Honours Health Sciences Program’s Equitable Admission for Black Applicants (EABA) process was a touchstone for us in developing our plans, for example, as were other established processes such as the Faculty of Health Sciences’ Facilitated Indigenous Application Stream, and the School of Social Work’s Indigenous Admissions Process. Ultimately, however, we are proposing a slightly different process that we hope responds specifically to the unique features of our program and complements the growing number of important equity-conscious admissions strategies being rolled out on campus.

An initial version of this process was developed in consultation with Arts & Science faculty (with particular input from Dr. Clare Warner), staff, and students, as well as a small number of alumni, via a range of discussions held in 2022-23, and subsequently refined following feedback and further discussion with Dr. Barrington Walker and staff at the Equity and Inclusion Office, Dr. Dawn Martin Hill and members of the Indigenous Education Council Academic Subcommittee, and the Office of Legal Services. As these revisions were refined, further discussions were held with Arts & Science faculty and students (including Black students who had contributed to conversations about the initial proposal) and with an additional Arts & Science alumnus. We also consulted, at this point, with Dr. Rodrigo Narro Perez and Dr. Stacy Creech de Castro (co-founders of the Latin American Network at McMaster University, and in Dr. Creech de Castro's case, an Arts & Science instructor), with Dr. Juliet Daniel and Dr. Bonny Ibhawoh, co-chairs of the African Caribbean Faculty Association of McMaster, and with Faith Ogunkoya, Director of the Black Student Success Centre. We're also exceedingly grateful for the helpful feedback and input (on equitable admissions processes and related matters) and/or encouragement received from Dr. Kim Dej, Carla Hodal, Celeste Licorish, Melissa Pool, and Dr. Stacey Ritz. These processes of consultation have been extremely helpful, and we look forward to continuing to connect with these and other relevant partners to refine our processes as our pilot unfolds. In the meantime, we appreciate the encouragement we've received to proceed with these plans, with full knowledge that they will likely need continuous review and enhancement but might constitute helpful first steps in the interim.

The Proposed Process

The Arts & Science Equitable Admissions Process would, in the first instance, involve two streams:

1. One open to applicants who identify as Black and/or Latin American/Latinx.
2. One open to applicants who identify as Indigenous (First Nations, Métis, and/or Inuit).

The decision to create a separate stream for Indigenous applicants followed from a recommendation to this effect from the Indigenous Education Council Academic Subcommittee. The preliminary plan for this stream is to create additional spaces in the program for Indigenous applicants who meet all program application criteria (i.e., to add these spaces for Indigenous students to our target intake). This approach, which was also recommended by the IEC Academic Subcommittee, is still being developed, and will be further refined following additional consultation with the IEC. As such, it is not included for approval in this proposal, but will be brought forward for consideration once further consultation is completed.

The current proposal thus focuses only on the first stream of the planned Equitable Admissions Process. The proposed process for this stream would invite applicants who identify as Black and/or Latin American/Latinx to optionally self-identify and choose to have their application considered via the stream. We will provide text in the instructions for our required supplementary application (which ALL applicants must complete) that explains the rationale for the process and asks students who identify as a member of one or more of these groups to indicate whether they would like to participate or not (See Appendix A). Students will not be asked to provide further demographic information at this stage; instead, they will be informed that their demographic information will be accessed from the OUAC demographic survey if they have elected to complete that as part of their application.

Admissions decision processes will subsequently proceed as follows:

1. ALL applicants will be assessed according to the usual procedures (i.e., grade point averages will be calculated by admissions staff and collated; supplementary applications will be assessed by a team of multiple trained readers and a combined supp app score will be calculated). Note: all student supp app readers currently take part in an orientation session that includes attention to equity in the review process. Faculty/Instructor readers receive instructions that likewise attend to equity, and this past year, we also offered an orientation session for faculty readers similar to those provided to student readers (though not all faculty readers were able to attend). We hope to continue to provide this orientation for all new/first-time faculty supp app readers in future. To our knowledge, student and faculty supp app readers already often include individuals who identify as members of equity-denied groups (though not always/necessarily Black and/or Latin American/Latinx people, given the small number of folks from these groups in the program community). We will endeavour to ensure that this remains the case, and/or that readers include a greater proportion of equity-denied students and faculty going forward wherever possible.

2. The majority of offers to the program (~90% of our target intake of ~70 students) will be made as usual, based on admissible applicants' grade point averages and supplementary application scores. Quite likely, some people who choose to self-identify and participate in the Equitable Admissions Process option will receive an offer via this typical process (i.e., they wouldn't ultimately be evaluated under the Equitable Admissions Process, as they would receive an offer regardless).
3. For the final ~10% of the offers, for which there are usually many applicants with similar academic records and supplementary application scores, preference will be given to applicants who have self-identified as Black and/or Latin American/Latinx and opted into the Equitable Admissions Process. That is, among the next set of admissible applicants, spaces in the program would preferentially be offered to applicants who have experienced systemic barriers.

The hope is that this process will both recognize (and attempt to account to some degree for) the systemic barriers and inequities that are well-documented in the literature, and not contradicted by the limited program-specific demographic data available. As noted above, the combined grades and supplementary application scores of many applicants are often quite similar, and we receive applications from many more admissible students than we are able to accept. This proposed process aims to recognize that, for students experiencing barriers, it may in fact be more difficult to receive those comparable grades and scores (e.g., for someone navigating various forms of racism and exclusion, achieving the high grades necessary to receive an offer may be more difficult, and thus comparable scores are all the more impressive). We're also hopeful this process will avoid some of the pitfalls of a quota system (in that we're not "reserving" a set number of seats for students from particular groups, but rather factoring inequity explicitly into the decision-making process for cases right around the offer cut off). This process is also intended to avoid asking students from equity-denied groups to do substantial additional work for their applications (e.g., asking them to answer a question about barriers/challenges they've experienced) and to prevent a situation in which applicants might feel like they need to share difficult experiences in order to increase their likelihood of admission. Most centrally, we hope that this process will help to further enhance the community of learning in the program by providing another mechanism to work intentionally toward increasing the diversity of our student group by mitigating barriers that affect Black and Latin American/Latinx students.

Eligibility / Self-Identification

As with other processes of this nature, an important – and especially complex – question for our pilot concerns which applicants are eligible to opt into this first stream of our Equitable Admissions Process, and, relatedly, how eligibility will be determined and communicated. We recognize that Black and Latin American/Latinx communities are heterogeneous, and that identities are complex, multiple, and overlapping in ways that we will not be able to predict or control for. Existing research also documents that individuals within Black and Latin American/Latinx communities, like others, also experience distinct and intersecting forms of oppression and inequity related to factors such as gender, disability, class/socioeconomic status, immigration/generation status, etc. (e.g., James, 2021a; Parada, Escobar Olivo & Limón Bravo, 2023; Robson et al., 2014; Robson et al., 2015; Villegas & Aberman, 2019). For example, a large body of research suggests that Black boys and men navigate particular forms of racism in the school system, and experience lower rates of access to universities than others, including Black women (e.g., F.A.C.E.S. of Peel Collaborative, 2015; Gray et al., 2016; James, 2021b; Robson et al., 2015; Robson et al., 2018). Relatedly, data indicate that greater proportions of Latin American/Latinx women hold Bachelor's degrees than do Latin American/Latinx men as well (StatsCan, 2022). Nevertheless, we have elected to open this equitable admissions stream to all Black and/or Latin American/Latinx applicants, in line with the concern articulated in the Ontario Human Rights Commission’s “Guide to Special Programs” about not making program criteria too narrow and thus potentially excluding people the program was meant to serve. This feels particularly important, in relation to gender, given scholarship suggesting the need for further consideration of the racism experienced by Black women and girls in Ontario school systems (George, 2020), and the reality that research also indicates that women in Canada and elsewhere continue to experience barriers to STEM education – and particularly to disciplines like Mathematics and Physics, which constitute core parts of the Arts & Science curriculum (Archer et al., 2020; Danielsson et al., 2023; Wall, 2019). Since evidence demonstrates that all Black and/or Latin American/Latinx students may be subject to inequities to some degree, we wish to make all such students eligible for the stream, despite the fact that some will invariably experience particular challenges connected to their intersectional identities. At the same time, we also hope this decision will allow us to avoid establishing an unwelcoming and possibly unjust process wherein varying Black and/or Latin American/Latinx applicants feel the barriers they might experience are being judged as “sufficient” or “insufficient.”

We also wish to avoid the sense that applicants are being asked from the outset to “prove” themselves. As such, like some other equitable admissions processes on campus, we will rely on applicant self-identification to determine eligibility for this first stream of our process. Applicants will be informed that they can opt in to this stream if they identify as Black and/or Latin American/Latinx. While we hope this process offers one way of navigating some of the complexities mentioned above, we recognize that it is imperfect. In particular, we understand that self-identification can be a fraught, inexact, and potentially contentious process, and that there are important concerns about false or disingenuous identity claims that need to be taken into account. If any applicant is found to be misrepresenting themselves or making a false claim to take advantage of the Equitable Admissions Processes, procedures set out in existing academic dishonesty policies will be applied. We will also monitor and review the process following this application cycle, and make further adjustments (to be brought forward in future) as we see how it plays out in practice. Given the growing awareness of fraudulent claims to Indigenous identity, further processes for establishing eligibility for the forthcoming Equitable Admissions Stream for Indigenous Applicants will be established in consultation with the Indigenous Education Council.

Pilot Timeframe and Plans for Assessment

Ideally, this equitable admissions stream will accomplish its goals and become unnecessary as barriers are mitigated and discrimination is addressed. Since it will take several admissions cycles to begin to determine any meaningful trends in enrolment, however (particularly given the small size of the Program), we plan to pilot this stream for a period of at least 5 years in the first instance. Throughout that period, we will examine demographic data collected via the OUAC survey after each application cycle, with an eye to noting potential shifts or additional gaps. Should this more reliable and consistent access to demographic data indicate other groups who might be experiencing barriers to the program, we will also consider submitting an update to add those groups to this stream.

Ultimately, several factors will be considered to determine whether the program has been effective at meeting its goals. Markers of success will include the following:

1. A sustained increase in the number of Black and/or Latin American/Latinx applicants to the program.
2. A sustained increase in the number of Black and/or Latin American/Latinx students accepting their offers and enrolling in the program (at a bare minimum, this would involve percentages of Black and/or Latin American/Latinx students in the program that consistently meet or slightly exceed the rates of people identifying as Black and/or Latin American/Latinx in Ontario).

3. Perceptions among Black and Latin American/Latinx students that they experience a sense of community and adequate representation in the program.
4. Perceptions among Black and Latin American/Latinx students that this stream works effectively and doesn't contribute to their further marginalization.

The first two of these indicators will be assessed through annual review of demographic information. The latter two markers will be assessed via qualitative feedback sought from applicants following the first, third, and fifth years of the pilot. If, after 5 years, the data suggest the program is working but remains necessary, it will be continued. If, on the other hand, these assessments suggest the process is no longer needed, the stream will be discontinued. Refinements based on the collected data may be proposed throughout the five-year period should they prove necessary.

Proposed Timeline for Next Steps

- April 2024: Submit proposal for first stream for consideration via governance processes.
- April-May 2024: Complete final/further consultation with campus partners as needed.
- 15 May 2024: Senate approval anticipated.
- Spring/Summer 2024: Develop and refine materials to advertise the process; incorporate information about the new stream into recruitment strategies. Review demographic data from the 2023-24 admissions cycle once it is made available from OUAC/Institutional Research.
- Fall 2024: Build information about the stream for Black and/or Latin American/Latinx students into the supplementary application tool. Share further information at recruitment events and through various recruitment strategies.
- Fall 2024/Winter 2025: Pending further consultation with the IEC, submit Indigenous Applicant Stream for consideration via governance processes (to roll out, if approved, in 2025-26).
- 15 January 2025: OUAC application deadline.
- 1 February 2025: Supplementary application deadline (for all applicants).
- March-April 2025: Review and score supplementary applications (for all applicants).
- May 2025: Send final admissions decisions.
- Spring/Summer 2025: Complete initial assessment of the pilot and plan for further revision as necessary.

Appendix A

Below, we provide sample text for the opt in question to be appended to the supplementary application. We hope to have this text reviewed by folks with whom we've been consulting (and others, as needed), and will adjust it as necessary. We include it here not for approval per se, but as an example of how we intend to communicate the process to applicants and others. Similar information (again, to be developed and refined in consultation with students and others) will be placed on our website and used in communications about the new Equitable Admissions Stream.

Applicants are eligible to be considered under the Arts & Science Equitable Admissions Process for Black and/or Latin American/Latinx Students if they identify as Black and/or Latin American/Latinx. Via this process, a small percentage of admission offers will be preferentially made to applicants who have met the admission requirements, have comparable academic records and supplementary application scores to other applicants, and identify as Black and/or Latin American/Latinx. This process does not involve quotas, and Black and/or Latin American/Latinx applicants who opt into the process will be expected to meet the same application standards and requirements as all other applicants. Indeed, given that the equitable admissions process will only affect a small percentage of admissions offers, students who identify as Black and/or Latin American/Latinx might receive offers through the regular admissions process, even if they opt into the equitable admissions stream. The aim of the process is to acknowledge and attempt to account for the large amount of evidence that demonstrates the inequities and barriers to postsecondary education experienced by Black and Latin American/Latinx students in Ontario and Canada.

If you identify as Black and/or Latin American/Latinx, please indicate below whether you wish to participate in the Equitable Admissions Process. Your response to this question will be removed from your supplementary application, along with other identifying information, before the application is assessed. You do not need to provide further demographic information here; instead, your demographic information will be accessed from information you provided to the Ontario Universities Applications Centre when you applied (if you elected to complete this information). Please note that falsifying your identity to participate in this process is a violation of academic integrity, and will be treated accordingly.

Revisions to the Undergraduate Calendar
2024 - 2025 Summary and Revision
Justifications
Office of the Registrar, April 2024

Admission Requirements

- Addition of Admission statement regarding new Wilson College program beginning in Fall 2025.
  - Justification: to ensure current high-school students are aware of the upcoming offering.

Admission: Addition to Visiting Students Section

- Addition of Visiting Student Researcher program
- Addition of VSR Course

Application Procedures

- Addition of Wilson College program supplemental application information on supp app info table.
  - Justification: to ensure current high-school students are aware of the upcoming offering.

General Academic Regulations:

- Changes to MSAF language due to recent policy changes

Rationale for Submission in April:

Initially, this submission for a new VSR program would have waited until the Fall 2024, however, with the expectation many students arriving for the spring/summer term, we felt it was necessary to include this information in the 2024-25 Undergraduate Calendar. A similar program exists in the School of Graduate Studies for graduate student visiting researchers.

Justification:

Historically, McMaster has welcomed visiting undergraduate student researchers for brief or extended periods of time within our research laboratories, Centres or Institutes. Collaborating with faculty and students from other institutions aligns with McMaster's Research & Scholarship strategic priority to "be the go-to place for world-class researchers and collaborators who share our values and commitment to working together across disciplines, sectors, and borders to develop knowledge, tackle global issues, and advance human understanding."

This group would include: Mitacs award recipients and internships, EduCanada award recipients, ERASMUS+ KA171 participants, ERASMUS MCSE participants, miscellaneous other scholarship recipients and short-term research visitors.

Visiting undergraduate student researchers do not normally take any courses at McMaster but are expected to pay supplementary fees, as it is necessary for (international) visiting undergraduate student researchers to enroll in the UHIP program to ensure adequate health insurance coverage during their stay.

McMaster currently allows out-of-province and international students to visit in one of two ways: to conduct research in a specific lab; or to participate in an internship with a specific program or faculty member. In any case, students will be enrolled for a maximum of one year. Acceptance is on the recommendation of the department or program at McMaster. For every term that the student is here in residence they must register in VSR 1A00. Visiting students are not permitted to audit courses. It is necessary for international visiting students to enroll in the UHIP program to ensure adequate health insurance coverage during their stay.

A working group comprising the Registrar's Office, School of Graduate Studies, Office of International Affairs and the International & Exchange Student Experience office worked on a proposal to formalize a process for visiting undergraduate student researchers. A process is in place already for graduate student visiting researchers.

Applicants must have permission from both the potential supervisor at McMaster and from their home institution. The McMaster faculty member must submit a form (available online through the Office of International Affairs, the International and Exchange Student Experience Office or the Office of the Registrar). Department chair approval is required. Once this is complete, students will apply through the admissions team in the Office of the Registrar.

REPORT TO THE SENATE FROM THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Open Session

At its meeting on April 24, 2024, the Executive Committee approved the following recommendation and now recommends it to Senate for approval:

1. Accessibility Policy

It is now recommended, that the Senate approve, for recommendation to the Board of Governors, the revised Accessibility Policy, effective June 6, 2024, as circulated.

SENATE: FOR APPROVAL
May 15, 2024

DATE: April 17, 2024

SUBJECT: Proposed revisions to the McMaster University Policy on Accessibility

TO: Members of the Senate Executive Committee

FROM: Dr. Barrington Walker, Vice Provost, Equity & Inclusion and Professor of History

The McMaster University Policy on Accessibility \(2010\) outlines McMaster's commitment to accessibility and is a legislative requirement under the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act \(AODA, 2005\) (Reg. 191/11, s. 3). In 2020, to stay current with the AODA's Integrated Accessibility Standards Regulations \(IASR\), and as required by the AODA, the 2010 Policy on Accessibility began a formal review process.

The review process: The review and revision process was overseen by a committee of individuals, including the Equity and Inclusion Office's Accessibility Program Manager, the Senior Director of Human Rights & Accessibility, and the Chair of the McMaster Accessibility Advisory Council (MAAC). Twelve (12) versions of the Policy were drafted, each time revised following consultations with the MAAC or other community members, or after identifying inconsistencies with the AODA and other policies. The statement of commitment, the legislative basics, and some customer service sections are the only remaining pieces on the 2024 version from the original 2010 Policy.

The redrafting process included an extensive consultative component with the University's community, including but not limited to the McMaster Accessibility Advisory Council (MAAC), responsible central units (e.g., Libraries, Facilities, Strategic Procurement, Human Resources, Student Accessibility Services, etc.), University-wide staff / faculty / student consultations, employee groups, Employee Accessibility Network, Black, Indigenous and Racialized Staff Employee Resource Group, the Human Rights and Dispute Resolution Program, the Senior Advisor for Equity, Inclusion, and Anti-Racism in Student Affairs, Office of the Vice-Provost Teaching and Learning, Joint Indigenous-Administrative Consultation Group, and the President/Vice-Presidents Team. Their rigorous input and feedback have resulted in a stronger, more comprehensive, and more inclusive Accessibility Policy.

From this extensive review and consultation process, a revitalized and significantly improved McMaster Accessibility Policy (2024) has been developed.

Legislative compliance with an institutional focus: The updated Policy now has embedded all five (5) of the AODA's IASR, unlike the previous 2010 version, which only included the AODA's customer service standards in detail. The following are examples of how the AODA's five standards have been embedded within the updated Policy:

1. Customer service: responsibilities of units providing goods and services, including following the University's service animal policies, and ensuring accessible procurement practices.
2. Information and communication: a specific section was included outlining the University's responsibility to have all websites and web content conform with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG 2.0).
3. Employment: a dedicated section is included related to AODA responsibilities of individual supervisors, and Human Resources centrally.
4. Transportation: responsibilities of Parking Services related to accessible parking.
5. Design of public spaces: policy outlines the role and responsibilities of Facilities, for example when building or making changes to public spaces.

Also, the Policy now offers a roadmap for how legislation can be operationalized within the University, strategically depicting (mapping) its centralized and distributed responsibilities. This has been achieved by naming central units and individual roles at the University that are tasked with upholding the Policy and have a dedicated AODA compliance responsibility. Additionally, concrete resources and links to leading practices have been included throughout to support the implementation and operationalization of the Policy.

Progressive approach: The Policy was drafted using a critical disability justice lens, shifting the Policy's approach, definitions and language towards a more progressive framework that is more collective, socio-cultural, and human rights based. The Policy is not an accommodation policy; rather it is designed to complement existing accommodation policies at the University (e.g., the Policy on Workplace Accommodations, 2015, and the Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities Policy, 2020) by going beyond individual accommodations to focus on systemic accessibility and inclusion. Furthermore, the Policy aims to be in line with the Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Strategy, and the University's Discrimination and Harassment Policy \(2022\), offering a more compliance-driven approach to accessibility and disability inclusion at McMaster.

Once approved, the Equity and Inclusion Office, in partnership with the MAAC, will communicate and present the Policy to the McMaster community through a virtual communication strategy, a webinar series, and an accessible HTML version on the website. Additionally, new resources will be developed to further support the policy's operationalization.

Purpose and Scope

Purpose

1. The purpose of this Policy and related guidelines is to:
  - a) articulate McMaster University's (the "University") commitment to accessibility;
  - b) provide guiding principles, rules, and approaches to ensure compliance for the implementation of both the Integrated Accessibility Standards Regulation \("IASR"\) under the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act \("AODA"\), as well as key accessibility goals, as outlined in the University's Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Strategic Framework and Action Plan \(2019\);
  - c) describe the framework the University is following to comply with its obligations under the AODA;
  - d) describe the shared responsibility of McMaster's Employees, students, and Members of the University Community ("Community Members") to ensure an accessible and disability-inclusive University; and
  - e) facilitate the identification, removal, and prevention of barriers to persons with disabilities when accessing the University's workplace and academic environments, information and communication, goods, services, facilities, and premises.

Scope

2. This Policy applies to:
  - a) all Employees, in their day-to-day work at the University, including those with supervisory responsibilities (refer to Section 2: Roles and Responsibilities—Employee Roles: Employees with Supervisory Roles), and including those who publish information and engage in public communications (—Individual

- b) all persons, organizations, and / or businesses who provide goods, services, accommodation, facilities, and premises on behalf of the University (refer also to the Procurement website);
  - c) job applicants and interviewees at the University who may require employment accommodation through the recruitment, assessment, selection, and hiring process; and
  - d) all other Community Members, as appropriate, within the scope of their role at, or relationship with, the University.
3. This Policy provides a high-level, philosophical framework to guide the University's implementation of the IASR, Accessibility Plan, and accessibility priorities, but does not contain operational recommendations or procedures. Such details are contained in the implementation and operational guidance documents published by the Equity and Inclusion Office. Current and future resources and guidance documents can be found on McMaster's Accessibility Hub.

Statement of Commitment

- 4. The University has a shared commitment to meet and exceed, where possible, standards as expressed and defined in the AODA, which places legal obligations on organizations to achieve accessibility for Ontarians with disabilities concerning the workplace, living and academic environments (some of which are described in McMaster's Policy on Workplace Accommodation and Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities Policy), information and communication, goods, services, facilities, and premises.
- 5. The University, and through the direction from the Administration, is committed to:

- a) the frameworks of Universal Design, Accessibility, and usability, as well as the principles of dignity, intersectionality, Integration, Equal Opportunity, Reasonable Efforts, Independence, and Ongoing Evaluation from the User's Perspective;
- b) providing services and programming that is inclusive and usable for everyone and which acknowledges that Universal Design in education and learning extends beyond the universal design in the built environment (often fixed and partial);

Terms and Definitions

6. A full glossary of terms and definitions may be found in Appendix 1. Further terminology is defined within the relevant sections of this Policy.
7. For the purpose of interpreting this document:

- a) words in the singular may include the plural, and words in the plural may include the singular;
- b) members of the Administration may, where necessary and appropriate, delegate their authority;
- c) commonly-used terms in this Policy are defined as follows:

- [1] Administration: For the purposes of this Policy, Administration refers to individuals and entities responsible for creating and maintaining an environment that adheres to the AODA and the principles of accessibility and inclusion. A non-exhaustive list includes the President, Provost, Vice-Presidents, Deputy Provost, Vice-Provosts, Associate Vice-Presidents, Deputy Vice-Presidents, Deans, and Associate Deans;
- [2] Community Members include, but are not limited to: students (graduate, undergraduate, and continuing education), Employees, medical residents, volunteers, visitors (including visiting professors), and institutional administrators and officials representing McMaster University.
- [3] Disability: Disability has various meanings in medical, social, and human rights contexts. Historically, the University has relied on the definition of disability from the Ontario Human Rights Code (the "Human Rights Code") Section 10. Please refer to Appendix 1: Terms and Definitions: Disability \(OHRC\) for the full definition used in the Human Rights Code. The Human Rights Code portrays the concept of disability based on a medical model. The University recognizes and encourages using other models that frame and define disability beyond the medical model. For example, the social model of disability defines disability as a result of socially constructed barriers and discriminatory customs and norms and aims to remove those barriers and prejudicial attitudes. However, to comply with the Human Rights Code's definition of disability and accompanying policies and statements, this Policy acknowledges, upholds, and aligns itself with the definition of disability in the Human Rights Code.

- [4] Senior Director (HR&A): Senior Director (Human Rights & Accessibility) in the Equity and Inclusion Office;
- [5] Employees: Where applicable, Employee is used to refer to staff and faculty:
- Faculty: Academic teaching staff, clinical faculty, and senior academic librarians who are members of the “teaching staff”. Teaching staff as defined in the McMaster University Act means the employees of the University or of a college affiliated with the University who hold the academic rank of professor, associate professor, assistant professor, or lecturer.
  - Staff: Employees of the University, including, but not limited to, The Management Group (TMG), unionized employees, temporary / casual / interim employees, short-term employees, non-teaching staff, sessional faculty, instructors, Post-doctoral Fellows, and Teaching Assistants.
- [6] Reprisal: An action or threat intended as retaliation for claiming or enforcing a right under the Human Rights Code or the Occupational Health & Safety Act (OHSA). Community Members have a right to bring forward complaints under the Code or OHSA without any fear of reprisal.

List of Abbreviations

8. For ease of interpretation, the following are common abbreviations used in this Policy:
- AODA: Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act
  - MAAC: McMaster Accessibility Advisory Council (previously known as the McMaster Accessibility Council (“MAC”))
  - EIO: Equity and Inclusion Office
  - ICT: Information Communication Technology
  - SAS: Student Accessibility Services
  - OBC: Ontario Building Code
  - VPro / AVP EI: Vice-Provost / Associate Vice-President, Equity and Inclusion

- WCAG 2.0: World Wide Web Consortium Web Content Accessibility Guidelines 2.0

Smaller and more frequent reviews may occur to ensure that this Policy is current and compliant with legislative requirements, current professional standards, and leading practices.

Legislative Framework

The Ontario Human Rights Code

10. This Policy upholds current and ongoing responsibilities and obligations under the Human Rights Code prohibiting discrimination and harassment in the five (5) social areas, including employment, housing, services, union and vocational associations and contracts, on grounds of disability, as well as the Duty to Accommodate. The Human Rights Code is inextricably linked to the AODA, particularly through the Duty to Accommodate.

Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA)

11. The AODA is a law that outlines and mandates accessibility standards that public institutions, such as the University, must comply with to facilitate an accessible province for persons with disabilities.

Integrated Accessibility Standards Regulation (IASR)

12. The AODA is actioned through five (5) accessibility standards comprising the IASR: customer service, information and communication, employment, transportation, and design of public spaces. The IASR does not replace or affect any currently existing responsibilities under the Human Rights Code and / or any legislation currently upholding the right to accommodations for persons with disabilities. Where conflict arises, the most accessible option required under either body of legislation will prevail.

Accessibility Plan

13. The University, guided by the Administration and the McMaster Accessibility Advisory Council (the “MAAC”), will continuously, collaboratively, and iteratively work across non-exhaustive operational areas of procurement, hospitality and customer service, student support, education and educational material development, information and communication, employment, facilities, and the built environment and where applicable, transportation services, to develop and implement an integrative and cohesive Multi-Year Strategic Accessibility Plan. This plan will:
  - a) establish accessibility-related goals and implementation timelines to achieve goals of both IASR compliance and accessibility and inclusion aspirations for the campus community;
  - b) be reviewed, at a minimum, every five years, guided by the VPro / AVP EI with input from the MAAC, and in consultation with Community Members with disabilities;
  - c) have progress of measures taken to comply with all AODA regulations to be evaluated and communicated via an Annual Status Report;
  - d) be made publicly accessible from the Plans section of the Accessibility Hub website;
  - e) be published in an accessible and / or conversion-ready format to provide timely versions to any person with a disability requesting an Accessible Format; and
  - f) be monitored and evaluated for compliance through various accountability mechanisms, including regular institutional data collection.

14. The Equity and Inclusion Office (“EIO”) will create supplemental tools to support the implementation of this Policy and Accessibility Plan. Current and future resources and implementation tools are available in McMaster’s Accessibility Hub.

Appendix 1: Terms and Definitions

Ableism: A belief system analogous to racism, sexism, or ageism that sees persons with disabilities as being less worthy of respect and consideration, less able to contribute and participate, or of less inherent value than others. Ableism may be conscious or unconscious and may be embedded in institutions, systems, or the broader culture of a society. It can limit the opportunities of persons with disabilities and reduce their inclusion in the life of their communities.

Accessibility: The term accessibility means giving people of all abilities opportunities to participate fully in everyday life. It is used to describe how widely a service, product, device, or environment is available to as many people as possible. Accessibility can be seen as the ability to access and benefit from a system, service, product, or environment.

Accommodation: A means of preventing and removing barriers that impede full participation and access based on the prohibited grounds of discrimination. Accommodation is initiated when an individual identifies their need to be accommodated, for example, a disability-related accommodation. Below are definitions of academic and workplace accommodations; refer to the full accommodation policies for details:

- a) Academic Accommodation: An individual arrangement that reduces or removes barriers that limit the ability of students with disabilities to participate in formal post-secondary education. Academic Accommodations are developed based on the functional limitation of the student as it relates to the academic environment. Refer also to the University's Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities Policy.
- b) Workplace Accommodation: Under the Human Rights Code, employers and unions, housing and service providers have a legal duty to accommodate the needs of people who are adversely affected by a requirement, rule or standard. The Code requires employers to put an effort, short of undue hardship, to accommodate the needs of persons with disabilities. Accommodation may be temporary or ongoing, with the goal of enabling individuals to compete for jobs and perform the essential duties of their job. Refer also to the University's Policy on Workplace Accommodation.

Accessible Formats and Communication Supports:

- a) Accessible Formats: Other ways of publishing information besides regular print. Some of these formats can be used by everyone, while others are designed to address the specific needs of a user:
- Audio and video files;
  - Accessible PDFs;
  - Microsoft Word documents that use good semantic structure;
  - HTML; and
  - Braille.
- b) Communication Supports: Ways for people who cannot access verbal or audio information to receive it visually or ways for people who are non-verbal to communicate with people who speak. Visit the Accessibility Hub for additional resources. Examples of communication supports could include:
- American Sign Language (ASL) interpretation
  - Speechreading
  - Captions and Text Transcripts
  - Assistive Listening Devices

Barriers: Obstacles that limit access and prevent people with disabilities from fully participating in society. Most barriers are not intentional. Considering the needs of persons with disabilities at the design and development stage of a process may help prevent such barriers.

Culture of accessibility.<sup>3</sup> A culture of accessibility recognizes the value of inclusivity, and everything is viewed through the lens of inclusiveness. For example, teams are developed that include people with disabilities. Products and services are designed for accessibility by all users. Supervisors fully support the culture of accessibility and ensure all staff have access to the resources needed to perform at the highest level. No one in the workplace is left behind because of their disability. This is the culture beyond accommodations.

Dignity: How a service is provided in a way that allows the individual to maintain self-respect and the respect of other persons.

Disability (OHRC): The concept of disability may be interpreted in different ways depending on the context, such as medical, social, and human rights. Historically, the University (and the broader society) has relied on the definition of disability from the Human Rights Code (§10). While this list is not exhaustive, the Human Rights Code includes the following in its definition of disability:

- a) any degree of physical disability, infirmity, malformation or disfigurement that is caused by bodily injury, birth defect or illness and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, includes diabetes mellitus, epilepsy, a brain injury, any degree of paralysis, amputation, lack of physical co-ordination, blindness or visual impediment, deafness or hearing impediment, muteness or speech impediment, or physical reliance on a guide dog or other animal or on a wheelchair or other remedial appliance or device;
- b) a condition of mental impairment or a developmental disability;
- c) a learning disability, or a dysfunction in one or more of the processes involved in understanding or using symbols or spoken language;
- d) a mental disorder; or
- e) an injury or disability for which benefits were claimed or received under the insurance plan established under the Workplace Safety and Insurance Act, 1997.

Refer also to Section 1: Terms and Definitions: Disability, as used in this Policy.

Duty to Accommodate: Under the Human Rights Code, employers and unions, housing providers and service providers have a legal duty to accommodate the needs of people with disabilities who are adversely affected by a requirement, rule or standard. Accommodation is necessary to ensure that people with disabilities have equal opportunities, access, and benefits. The duty to accommodate has both a substantive and a procedural component. The procedure to assess an accommodation (the process) is as important as the substantive content of the accommodation (the accommodation provided).

Equal Opportunity: How a service is provided to individuals in such a way that they have an opportunity to access goods or services equal to that given to others.

Independence: When a person can complete tasks on their own without unnecessary help or interference from others.

Integration: How a service is provided in a way that allows every individual to benefit from equivalent services, in the same place, and in the same or similar way as other individuals, with as many measures as necessary to enable everyone to access goods or services.

Intersectionality:<sup>4</sup> The concept of ‘intersectionality’ has been defined as “intersectional oppression [that] arises out of the combination of various oppressions which, together, produce something unique and distinct from any one form of discrimination standing alone”. An intersectional approach takes into account the historical, social and political context and recognizes the unique experience of the individual based on the intersection of all relevant grounds.

Ongoing Evaluation from the User’s Perspective: How well the design of the environment, services and supportive behavior enables functioning, performance, and well-being.

Reasonable Efforts: Taking approaches that meet the required needs of the individual.

Service Animal: Any guide dog, signal dog, or other animal individually trained to provide assistance to a person with a disability. If they meet this definition, animals are considered service animals. A service animal is not a pet. Service animals perform some of the functions and tasks that the person with a disability cannot perform for themselves.

Stigma:<sup>5</sup> Stigma is experienced by an individual when they “possess an attribute that marks them as different and leads them to be devalued in the eyes of others”.

Student: A student is any individual recorded by the University Registrar as enrolled in an educational course of study recognized by the Senate and for whom the University maintains education records.

Supervisor: There are various types of supervisors within the University Community, which include the following:

- a) Academic Supervisor who oversees the academic work of a student, the most common example being a faculty member overseeing a graduate student’s academic work;
- b) Academic Administrator is any faculty or staff member acting in their capacity as supervisor / administrator within a Faculty, Academic Department, etc., which includes, but is not limited to, Department Chairs, Deans, or other supervisors who oversee the work of a Community Member (e.g., a faculty member overseeing a post-doctoral fellow / technician; an undergraduate or graduate student performing research in the faculty member’s laboratory); and
- c) Workplace Supervisor is “a person who has charge of a workplace or authority over a Worker” (Occupational Health and Safety Act). Supervisors are responsible for knowing the Duties of Supervisors under the Act.

Support Person is any person who provides assistance to a person with a disability.

Systemic Discrimination includes policies, practices, and institutional procedures which, deliberately or not, have the effect of creating or perpetuating disadvantage and discrimination against identifiable groups on grounds prohibited by the Human Rights Code.

Universal Design:<sup>6</sup> As outlined in the Human Rights Code, effective inclusive design will minimize the need for people to ask for individualized accommodation. The concept of universal design, which requires those who develop or provide laws, policies, programs or services to take into account diversity from the outset, is connected to the principle of autonomy and independence in that, when properly implemented, universal design removes from persons with disabilities the burden of navigating onerous accommodation processes and negotiating the accommodations and supports that they need in order to live autonomously and independently. In this way, the principle of autonomy and independence is closely linked to that of participation and inclusion.

Usability: The ease of access and / or use of a product, design, or space.

Visitors: Individuals who are not Community Members, Contractors, Lessees or Volunteers, but who want or need to attend University property for conferences, recreation, sporting events, concerts / performances and restaurant patrons. Guests of the McMaster hotel properties are also considered Visitors.

GUIDELINES

13. McMaster University provides Guidelines on specific accessibility considerations with respect to the application of this Policy. This guide will be updated as required by Human Rights & Equity Services, in consultation with the McMaster Accessibility Council.

1. Use of Assistive Devices Guideline

Personal assistive devices are often used by persons with disabilities to help them with daily living. They are usually devices that people bring with them to the University and may consist of any auxiliary aids such as communication aids, cognition aids, personal mobility aids and/or medical aids.

In accordance with the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, people may use their own personal assistive devices while accessing goods and services at McMaster University, subject to certain limitations.

Assistive devices may include but are not limited to:

- Manual and motorized wheelchairs, scooters, canes, crutches, walkers,
- hearing aids and personal TTYs
- magnifiers,
- oxygen tanks,
- computers and adaptive technology.

Principles

McMaster University is committed to enhancing the accessibility of its education delivery, websites, telecommunications and other infrastructure. As part of this commitment, the University will ensure that persons with disabilities are permitted to use their own assistive devices to access goods and services of the University, subject to reasonable limitations.

Protocol

Upon request, McMaster University will be prepared to assist, or arrange for assistance, while individuals are using goods or services of the University, subject to reasonable limitations.

Availability of Assistive Devices:

The University provides measures to assist persons with disabilities to benefit from the equivalent level of service, in the same place and in a similar way, as other individuals. Where an assistive device or support does not exist on campus, the University will make reasonable efforts to ensure that appropriate devices or supports are made available, subject to reasonable limitations.

2. Guidelines for Service Animals & Support Persons

Purpose:

Service animals and support persons required to assist a person with a disability will be present and welcome at campus locations except where excluded by law.

Definitions:

Service Animal: Any guide dog, signal dog, or other animal individually trained to provide assistance to a person with a disability. If they meet this definition, animals are considered service animals. A service animal is not a pet.

Service animals perform some of the functions and tasks that the person with a disability cannot perform for themselves.

For example, guide dogs used by some individuals who are blind, alerting persons with hearing impairments to sounds, pulling wheelchairs or carrying and picking up things for persons with mobility impairments, assisting persons with mobility impairments with balance.

Support Person: Any person who provides assistance to a person with a disability.

Principles:

McMaster shall not prohibit the use of a service animal by a person with a disability in the conduct of regular business or activities except where excluded by law, these include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Locations that would be deemed as a health and safety risk (e.g. operating rooms, nuclear reactor) and,
- Location where an education placement is performed and the owner/lessor of such locations has a policy or practice governing service animals or support persons contrary to McMaster's Policy.

Protocol:

Within the parameters of the Principles noted above, the service animal or support person must be permitted to accompany the individual with a disability to all areas of the University where members of the public (as applicable) are normally allowed to go. An individual with a service animal may not be segregated from other individuals.

If goods, services or facilities are defined as off-limits to service animals or support persons, the University will make every effort to provide alternate ways for persons with disabilities to access such goods, services and facilities.

To find out if a specific area is off-limits to service animals or support persons contact the designated department head.

The University will provide notice in advance about whether an admission fee will be charged for support persons, if applicable.

In order to respect employees or students whose health may be impacted by the presence of service animals at McMaster, these individuals may request reasonable accommodation suitable to their health needs.

3. Notice of Temporary Disruptions in Service

Purpose:

The University will provide notice to members of the public when there is a temporary disruption of facilities or services (planned or unexpected) that are usually used by persons with disabilities at the University.

Scope:

Service disruptions shall include information related to facilities (e.g. elevators, building ramps, accessible washrooms) or goods/services (e.g. events, lectures, amplification systems, TTY services).

Disruptions to all services, such as during a power outage or during a labour dispute, do not require this special notice. For information on large-scale business disruptions, please reference the University's Business Continuity Plan.

For information relating to University closure due to inclement weather please reference the University's Storm Policy.

Protocol:

Where a service disruption is unavoidable the University shall:

- Post a notice at the location, for example if an elevator disruption then a notice will be posted at the site on all floors,
- Provide advance notice, where possible, to all building occupants and/or affected participants using email distribution lists, website, internal electronic signage

All service disruption notices shall include:

- Name of the service/event impacted
- expected duration of disruption,

- any alternate means of accessing the facility or service,
- who to contact for assistance, and
- any other relevant information for accessing the facility or service

In such cases, the person may be offered the following as a means of accessing the facility, event or service, such as:

- the goods and service delivery agent may provide the goods or service directly to the person with a disability at an alternate place and time, as deemed appropriate; or
- any other assistive measures available and deemed appropriate to deliver goods and services.

Individuals can be added to building email distribution lists via the Department of Facility Services, <https://facilities.mcmaster.ca/mailman-alerts-subscription/>

Template for the Establishment of a McMaster Research Centre or Institute (RCI)

Please provide the following documentation, in keeping with the Guidelines for the Governance and review of Research Institutes Centres Groups (mcmaster.ca)

To be recognized as a formal McMaster Centre or Institute, a proposal for consideration must be submitted to the Office of the Vice-President (Research) and approved by the following McMaster Committees and Governing Boards:

1. Committee on Research Centres and Institutes (CRI)
2. University Planning Committee (UPC)
3. Senate
4. Board of Governors (BofG)

The CRI will comprise the following: VPR (as Chair), the Provost (VP Academic), the Dean of Graduate Studies, the University Secretary, and the Faculty Deans relevant to the specific Institute or Centre. The CRI generally takes approximately two to three weeks to review and provide comments.

After CRI approval, the proposal is submitted to the other committees. Following proposal approval, paperwork to appoint a Centre/Institute Director should then be submitted following appropriate policies. For a listing of governance meeting dates, please visit:

Core Members

The membership of the Research Centre or Institute (RCI) is integral to its mission. It is imperative to define at establishment what constitutes membership; what the obligations of membership are; and what roles members may play in the operations of the Centre or Institute. While the size of membership may vary for different Centres or Institutes, there is an expectation that the membership will be large enough that critical mass for impact may be reached. An updated membership list will be submitted annually to the RCI Governing Board through the annual reporting process.

Definition of Core member: Core members are those who are actively researching topics related to changing work, workers, and workplaces, and who agree to the obligations listed below. They are expected to make significant contributions to the MCREW and be associated with it for a long period of time, such as through co-application for multi-year grant projects. They are currently leaders in their own disciplines, and they will bring considerable expertise to the MCREW. Note that the initial core membership includes 20 professors from six McMaster faculties, thus fostering interdisciplinary approaches to shared research interests.

Obligations for Core Members: Core members will contribute regularly to the MCREW programs and activities, and will attend MCREW meetings, presentations, and other initiatives. Core members will be actively involved with independent research projects about changing work, workers, and workplaces; they will publicly connect these projects to the MCREW. Core members will contribute to grants initiated by other MCREW members. Core members will participate in knowledge exchange, knowledge mobilization, knowledge translation, and the dissemination of research findings to other MCREW members and to the general public; some of this dissemination will occur via the MCREW website (in addition to other dissemination methods), where all core members will maintain a current profile.

Identify the potential operational roles assigned to core members (e.g., Director, Associate Director roles in EDI, operations, outreach etc.): The proposed Director for the MCREW is Dr. Catherine Connelly. She has considerable experience leading large research projects, and she has conducted several interdisciplinary studies. The Director is primarily responsible for overseeing the direction of the planned research and supervising staff. The Director will provide advice to both students and faculty and ensure that projects are carried out to completion. The Director will maintain the membership list and will seek input from the Advisory Committee and the Governing Board. Research staff and students who work for the MCREW will report to MCREW's Director (or relevant Core/Associate members) and support the team in planning, implementing, and overseeing the activities of the McMaster Centre for Research on Employment and Work. Regular MCREW membership meetings will occur to facilitate ongoing coordination and communication. The Director will be a faculty member within the Faculty of Business who will be appointed for a five-year, renewable term by the Senate and Board of Governors upon the recommendation of the Dean of the Faculty of Business to whom the Director will report. The Director will set the agenda for the MCREW in consultation with the Governing Board and Advisory Committee. The Director will report to the Faculty of Business Dean, with whom final authority for all matters regarding the direction and operation of the MCREW rests and will work in collaboration with the Associate Dean (Research). The Director will submit a written report annually to the Governing Board, which will be chaired by the Faculty of Business Dean (or delegate). This report will also inform the annual reporting and five-year external review process required of all McMaster RCIs.

The Director will be formally selected after the MCREW proposal has been approved.

Associate Members

Definition of Associate Member: Associate members are those who are interested in topics related to changing work, workers, and workplaces, and who agree to the obligations listed below. Their association with MCREW is expected to be for a short period of times, such as a collaborator on a research project.

Obligations for Associate Members: Associate members will participate in the MCREW programs and activities, and will attend MCREW meetings, presentations, and other initiatives. Associate members collaborate with others on independent research projects about changing work, workers, and workplaces; they will publicly connect these projects to the MCREW. ## Background:

The COVID pandemic has accelerated changes to Canadian workplaces that were previously well under way. The image that many retain of what it means to be employed – at a single workplace, Monday to Friday – is the reality for fewer and fewer Canadians. As of the spring of 2022, almost half of all Canadians were working from home on at least some days in the week (Environics Institute for Survey Research et al., 2022), and the emergence of the gig economy has meant a growing number of Canadians participating (often in addition to more traditional forms of employment) in what Statistics Canada terms ‘dependent contractor relationships’ (Statistics Canada, 2023), employment that has some characteristics of self-employment and some of traditional employment relationships. The pandemic also caused many Canadian women to leave the workforce or restructure their employment (Ghoussoub, 2021), although recent figures from Statistics Canada suggest that they are returning to full-time employment, with the highest rate of employment for ‘core-aged’ (25-54) women on record since 1976 (Statistics Canada, 2023).

Although much of the research in organizational behaviour, human resources, and management assumes that established theories are sufficient for understanding everyone’s experiences, there is growing evidence that the current body of research fails to capture these and many other workers’ experiences (e.g., Ashford et al., 2007; Bidwell et al., 2013). Post-pandemic, these understudied workers are making up larger and larger segments of the Canadian population, and their experience must be integrated into how Canadian organizations and employees are understood. These challenges are complex and would benefit from interdisciplinary approaches.

In 2013, the Connelly Research Laboratory was established to study changes in Canadian workplaces. In that time, Dr. Connelly has established a world-class research lab that has produced important research on non-standard employment relationships (temporary agency workers, independent contractors, temporary foreign workers, rideshare drivers), knowledge sharing and hiding, workers’ use of communication technologies, leadership, and workers with disabilities. She has published extensively in top-tier academic journals in several fields, including organizational behaviour, human resource management, disability studies and management information systems. Dr. Connelly’s research is highly cited (i.e., she has 9,499 citations in total as of July 20, 2023); her h-index is 35, her i10 index is 56. Dr. Connelly has trained over 40 graduate and undergraduate students, and partners with community organizations in her research.

However, the speed, breadth, and impact of the transformation of Canadian workplaces requires new approaches to scholarship. To fully capture the experiences of understudied workers, and the effects of the changes to Canadian workplaces on them, perspectives from a variety of approaches and disciplines are required. The MCREW will organically bring together researchers from across McMaster working on topics that similarly challenge established theories, bringing together a diversity of methodological and theoretical approaches to important topics. Note that many MCREW members have extensive partnerships (e.g., Canadian Health Human Workforce Research Network, Canadian Medical Association, College of Family Physicians of Canada, Communications Workers of America (CWA), Gravity Payments, Kolabtree, Unifor, United Steelworkers (USW), Tompkins County Living Wage Working Group).

The MCREW will unite leading McMaster researchers who study the experiences of marginalized employees (e.g., temporary foreign workers, sex workers, migrant workers) and employees from equity-deserving groups (e.g., women, workers with disabilities, BIPOC workers), employees working in understudied occupations and work situations (e.g., gig workers, health workers, workers in creative industries, workers operating in a second language, remote workers, workers with unpaid care responsibilities), and employees at the intersection of these two groups (e.g., women in engineering, migrant workers in the hospitality sector). By bringing together a wide range of evidence, the MCREW will fill gaps in the literature about how employees navigate, adapt to, and at times resist changing workplace demands, and how worker behaviors and expectations affect organizations. The insights from MCREW members' research will help to address systemic barriers to building satisfying careers and generate innovations in how employers and governments can ensure access to inclusive and equitable workplaces (e.g., training, mentorship, immigration policy reform, labour standards enforcement).

How does this Centre align with McMaster University's Strategic Research Plan (SRP)?

Research for a Brighter World — Strategic Plan for Research 2018-2023 lays out a series of key strategies to continue strengthening McMaster's research excellence. These include the recruitment and retention of high-calibre researchers and trainees, making the most of our interdisciplinary capacity, offering trainees and early-career researchers a range of research and training opportunities, and the integration of equity, diversity and inclusion, of a variety of research methodologies, and of knowledge mobilization and translation, into our research. A set of core values informs McMaster's commitment to research excellence including the recognition of the importance of fundamental research to the advancement of science, the importance of collaboration across faculties and disciplines as a driver of innovation, and the importance of sharing our knowledge widely to help inform public policy and social practice.

The proposed MCREW clearly advances the Strategic Plan. By providing a context for supporting and amplifying research on changing work, workers, and workplaces, the proposed MCREW will help McMaster to recruit and retain researchers and students who are interested in these topics from a variety of departments and faculties. The proposed MCREW is notable for how it includes a variety of research approaches and methods, thereby enabling its members to further develop their skills. Monthly training and networking opportunities will be provided in support of these goals, and knowledge mobilization resources will be provided to members on an ongoing basis to disseminate research findings more widely to academic, lay, media, and community audiences.

A series of themes have been identified around which to organize McMaster's research and training, including Equitable, Prosperous and Sustainable Societies. The Equitable, Prosperous and Sustainable Societies research theme focuses on the justice and equity issues created by the rapid and wide-spread social, technological, and economic changes of the early 21st century. The Strategic Plan for Research identifies changes in the content, meaning, and role of work in our lives as one of the fundamental changes brought on by globalization and technological advances, and highlights the importance of research that promotes opportunity, social and economic equality, and well-being in the face of these forces.

The proposed MCREW advances equity, diversity, and inclusion aspects of the Strategic Plan. The central focus of the MCREW members' research is on equity issues as they pertain to prosperous and sustainable societies. Members conduct theoretical and empirical research on the experiences of workers who are generally overlooked in the research literatures. For example, MCREW members examine the experiences of workers who are disabled, racialized, migrants, women and 2SLGBTQ+. They also study the experiences of workers who have accents, or who have part-time, temporary, or otherwise precarious employment status. MCREW members also study the experiences of workers who balance employment with caring for children or elderly relatives. Notably, these are not exclusive categories; these topics lend themselves well to intersectional and diverse approaches.

The MCREW will be informed by the core values articulated in the SPR by striving for ethics, equity, and excellence in scholarship, by viewing the work of educating and training our students as inextricably linked to the work of conducting our research, by conducting research that advances society, by working collaboratively across faculties and disciplines, and by partnering with other organizations and sharing our knowledge as widely as possible.

A. Objectives and Proposed Activities:

- i. Objectives: (expand on the thematic research proposed; and explain how the impact of the RCI's work will benefit stakeholders and be measured by the RCI. Ideally, provide goals for the next five years against which success of the RCI may be measured):

The objective of the MCREW is to foster innovative interdisciplinary research at McMaster on changing work, workers, and workplaces. The MCREW will enrich and amplify the core members' current interdisciplinary research programs, becoming a point of contact for other researchers and Centers at McMaster who are interested in these phenomena. As the MCREW develops, it will provide a platform for international and pan-Canadian collaborations, furthering its influence.

Changing work: The nature of work has changed dramatically in the past five years, and it is likely to continue to change, as communication technologies improve and become more accessible and accepted in more industries. Interestingly, existing theories of worker well-being and motivation – which have been developed in the context of permanent full-time employment – may not be relevant in the context of new employment arrangements or work structures. MCREW members will investigate a variety of questions regarding new work arrangements, including “gig” work.

The gig economy is at the forefront of conversations about the transformation of work and its effects on workers (Kaine & Josserand, 2019). While the opportunity to work outside the confines of traditional employment has been touted by some as beneficial for groups facing barriers to paid employment because of the flexibility it offers (e.g., Klimkina et al., 2020), the limited remuneration and regulatory framework has been seen by others as reproducing and, in some cases, amplifying existing inequalities (e.g., Vyas, 2021). Many MCREW members are currently engaged in research on gig workers and the gig economy, investigating the challenges faced by gig workers (e.g., Caza et al., 2022; Granger et al., 2022), the mental health effects of gig work (e.g., Glavin & Schieman, 2022), the effect of the entry of gig workers on stigmatized occupations (e.g., Phung et al., 2021), the effects of gig work on autonomy and social connection (e.g., Glavin et al., 2021), the links between the gig economy, holding multiple jobs, and precariousness (e.g., Glavin, 2020), the potential for labour law to regulate informal work including forms of gig work (Fudge, 2020), and how gig workers experience the undervaluing of their work (e.g., Lefcoe & Connelly, 2022). By combining their existing expertise, MCREW members will be in a position to offer an overview of the experience of gig workers in Canada and globally, contributing not only to the body of research in Management, Sociology, and Organizational Behaviour among others, but also informing public policy.

Changing workers: The Canadian workforce is also changing dramatically. Organizations that seek to be competitive need to respond to fluctuations in labor markets, but empirical evidence is needed that reflects the actual composition of the available workforce. Again, foundational theories of how to motivate and engage workers may not be as relevant to modern workers. The Canadian workforce has changed dramatically, in terms of the growing representation of equity-deserving groups. MCREW members' research focuses on these topics.

Canada's Temporary Foreign Worker Program (TFWP) and similar programs in other countries have attracted widespread attention due to the perceived increase in labour market competition they cause and the abuse and mistreatment reported by the workers they employ. MCREW members have established research programs examining temporary migrant worker programs from a variety of perspectives: analyzing the experiences of employers and workers participating in the TFWP from the perspective of organizational behaviour and human resources management (Connelly, 2023), the legal governance of forced labour and labour exploitation in supply and labour chains (Fudge, 2022a, 2022b, 2023; McCann & Fudge, 2019), the reasons employers choose to use these programs (e.g., Tham & Fudge, 2019), the migration of health professionals from the Global South to the Global North (Chikanda, 2022), and, how employing migrant workers, recruited from the Philippines and Mexico for employment in Canadian quick-service restaurants, places downward pressures and work and employment conditions, promotes competition between labour sending states, and is regulated by a host of profit-driven actor (Polanco, 2019a, 2019b, 2020). By collaborating on this topic, MCREW members will contribute to a growing literature on the TFWP and similar programs in other countries, in Sociology, Legal Studies, Labour Studies, Organizational Behaviour and Human Resources. By combining their expertise, MCREW members will be in a good position to offer policy recommendations to the federal government, as well as to provincial governments who implement programs and policies related directly and indirectly to the TFWP.

While a growing number of workplaces are embracing the need for an equity, diversity and inclusion framework (Stahl, 2021), substantive barriers to the full participation of members from equity-deserving groups continue to exist. MCREW members will continue research that is underway on the experiences of women, disabled, 2SLGBTQ+ and BIPOC workers, such as on gendered inequalities in engineering (e.g., Monteiro, Monteiro, & Jones, 2020; Wells, Jones, & Davidson, 2019), the effect of gender on work-family conflict (e.g., Young, 2019; Young et al., 2023; Young et al., 2020), the effect of workplace gender composition on mental health (Repchuck & Young, 2023), the role of gender in job seeking (Nagib & Wilton, 2020), the gender gap in physician earnings (Kralj et al., 2022), the interaction of labour law and gender (e.g., Fudge & Mundlak, 2022), gender inequality in time-greedy professions (e.g., Padavic et al., 2020), the participation of people with disabilities and mental ill health in the workplace (e.g., Bonaccio et al., 2020; Evans & Wilton, 2019; Fisher & Connelly, 2020; Ho et al., 2022; Nagib & Wilton, 2021, Scott & Wilton, 2021), the intersection of masculinity and disability in work settings (e.g., Wilton & Fudge Schormans, 2020), the mental health of 2SLGBTQ+ workers (e.g., Owens, Mills, Lewis, & Guta, 2022), the workplaces experiences of 2SLGBTQ+ people (e.g., Mills & Owens, 2021; Mills et al., 2020), the participation of indigenous women in large extractive projects in northern regions (e.g., Mazer et al., 2022; Mills et al., 2022), the gendered effect of having a non-native accent in hiring (Ghaedipour et al., 2020). The parallels and differences in the experiences of these workers will allow for collaborations that will contribute to the literature in Engineering, Sociology, Human Geography, Organizational Behavior, Human Resources, and Labour Studies.

Changing Workplaces: Canadian workplaces (i.e., organizations, employers) must adapt to rapidly changing workforce (e.g., increased opportunities for employees with disabilities, migrant workers, female workers) and employment structures (e.g., gig work). Fortunately, MCREW members' research relates to workers that have received insufficient attention in the literature of their respective fields. Insights from research on workplaces in one industry can offer important insights for how to effectively manage workplaces in other industries.

Drost et al., 2023; Havaei et al., 2023; Havaei, Ji, & Boamah, 2022; Havaei, Tang, et al., 2022), nursing faculty members (Boamah, 2022a, 2022b; Boamah, Hamadi et al., 2022; Boamah et al., 2023), biologists and other healthcare professionals (e.g., Dufour et al., 2023; ), sex industry workers and entrepreneurs (e.g., Bacq et al., 2020; Carter et al., 2020; Ruebottom & Toubiana, 2021; Toubiana & Ruebottom, 2022), book reviewers (e.g., Chong, 2019; Chong, 2020, Chong & Bourgoin, 2020), journalists (Reid & Ramarajan, 2021), workers in the food retail industry (e.g., O’Brady, 2019, 2020, 2021a), workers in call centers (e.g., Doellgast et al., 2022; O’Brady & Doellgast, 2021), workers in large extractive projects in northern regions and places (e.g., Mazer et al., 2022; Mills, 2019; Mills et al., 2022), longshoremen (e.g., Andiappan & Dufour, 2021, 2023), workers in customer service roles (e.g., Malik et al., 2021), workers with unpaid care responsibilities (e.g., Sethi et al., 2022; Van Veghel et al., 2023; Williams & Bank, 2022; Yang et al., 2023), workers operating in a second language, and workers combining multiple work roles (e.g., Chong, 2021). Collaborating on these research themes will allow members to bring to light and address systematic gaps in the Medicine, Nursing, Management, Organizational Behaviour, Sociology, Linguistics, Geography, and Labour Study literatures. MCREW members will be able to conduct more and better research as a result of the mutual aid and support (e.g., research methods, graduate students, funding opportunities) that members will provide to each other.

Benefit to Stakeholders

The primary benefit of the establishment of the MCREW for changing work, workers, and workplaces will be to academic stakeholders. MCREW members will develop a cross-disciplinary scholarship around changing work that will serve academics across a range of disciplines. MCREW members will not only enrich their work within their discipline, but the creation of the MCREW will also stimulate new research collaborations and new avenues of inquiry. The resulting benefits to the academic literature will span all the disciplines represented by the core membership. The involvement of graduate students in the MCREW will also constitute an important benefit: the opportunities for research collaboration and feedback on their research programs will significantly add to their training and scholarly output.

The MCREW for changing work, workers and workplaces will also benefit government and para-governmental organizations, by leveraging group expertise to provide guidance to decision makers. Connelly has been asked to consult with the provincial and federal government on a number of topics related to the MCREW mandate in recent years: on portable employment benefits for part-time workers, temporary workers, and gig workers, for the Portable Benefits Secretariat, Ministry of Labor, Immigration, Training and Skills Development of Ontario in 2022; on gig workers and the gig economy, for the Minister of Labour, Immigration, Training and Skills Development of Ontario in 2022; on the Modern Fair Wages Policy, for Employment and Social Development Canada in 2019; on changes to the CPP-Disability Program, for the Innovation Lab, Employment and Social Development Canada, in 2019; on the changing workforce, for the Ontario Ministry of Labour in 2015; and, on improving workforce participation of workers with disabilities: part-time and temporary work arrangements, for the Changing Workplaces Review, Ontario Ministry of Labour, in 2015. The establishment of the MCREW will offer an important resource to policy makers seeking guidance; it will serve as their first point of contact for expert advice on a range of topics related to the ongoing transformation of work and its effects on workers of all kinds. For example, government researchers or officials will be able to contact the MCREW with a general question about changing workplaces (e.g., what are the appropriate employment standards for gig workers), and receive nuanced answers from a wide variety of perspectives.

Similarly, MCREW members are frequently interviewed by media outlets, such as CBC News (e.g., Dr. Glavin interviewed for Balintec, 2021; Dr. Mills interviewed in 2020), The Globe and Mail (e.g., Dr. Reid interviewed for Harris, 2021), Financial Post (e.g., Dr. Schat interviewed for Counter, 2021) The Toronto Star (e.g., Dr. Connelly interviewed for Chong, 2022), and The Hamilton Spectator (e.g., Dr. Williams interviewed for Moro, 2018; Dr. Jones interviewed in 2019; Dr. Young interviewed for Wells, 2021; Dr. Connelly interviewed for Hewitt, 2022, 2023), and also write opinion pieces for newspapers (e.g., Connelly, 2020; Glavin & Schieman, 2021) and The Conversation Canada (e.g., Glavin et al., 2019; Jones, 2019; Lambert et al., 2023; O'Brady, 2021b; Phung et al., 2021, 2022; Reid & Ghaedipour, 2021; Weststar et al., 2020; Williams, 2020; Young, 2020), on topics related to the transformation of workplaces. The MCREW will become a go-to for journalists needing insight from an expert on the changing nature of work, workers, and workplaces, and through this, MCREW members will inform public policy debates and contribute to raising awareness of the research being conducted at McMaster.

How the Success of the Centre will be Measured

In the next five years, the primary goals of the Center are to foster new collaborations between members (e.g., research projects, grants, awards), and to increase the research intensity of members (e.g., research projects, grants), therefore providing increased graduate student supervision capacity. We expect the Center members' increased research intensity and inter-disciplinary discussions to lead to novel avenues of inquiry, thereby providing new opportunities for collaboration and additional research funding. There are several important Tri-council research grants that are suitable for large interdisciplinary teams of researchers (e.g., NFRF), and the MCREW will be well-positioned to apply for these. The first grant that MCREW will apply for will be a SSHRC Partnership Development Grant; it will leverage existing interests and partnerships to take an interdisciplinary approach to studying changing work, workers, and workplaces.

The success of the MCREW will be measured by scholarly output (refereed contributions – journal articles, conference proceedings and papers, books, book chapters – as well as invited articles and presentations), collaboration (co-authorship on refereed contributions), funding secured (in support of the MCREW and collaborations between core members), stakeholder knowledge mobilization initiatives, and HQP trained.

- ii. Proposed Activities: (the proposal must show how the collective membership of the RCI will generate research impact which is greater than that which would be generated by the sum of its' parts. In other words, what value-add is the RCI bringing to the thematic research that could not be achieved by the members working in their individual research groups? The proposed activities must be such that this goal can be reasonably expected. It is not enough to explain that an RCI will house infrastructure, for example, that will be used by members to advance their research. That is the definition of a "Core Platform". It is possible, however, to be a Core Platform and an RCI – but such an RCI/Platform is then required to show it is a Core Platform and an RCI):

The activities of the MCREW will be organized around two objectives: creating new scholarship on the changing nature of work, workers and workplaces, and amplifying the impact of core members' research findings. To foster the creation of new research collaborations, MCREW members will meet regularly to exchange ideas, leading scholars will be invited to present their work to members and the McMaster community, the Connelly Laboratory will be made available to members wishing to collect or analyze data, as will the time of a dedicated undergraduate research assistant. We will ensure as wide as possible a dissemination of core members' research through a MCREW website, through workshops and a yearly symposium, the creation of infographics, and by covering core members' open access fees.

Regular meetings

The core members of the MCREW will meet monthly to discuss the progress of their research, publications, and grant applications. Members will have the opportunity to discuss ongoing challenges with their research (e.g., recruiting participants, analysing data, hiring qualified research assistants, finding research sites) and help each other to find solutions.

Website

A dynamic web page will be created to publicize members' research outputs (e.g., academic papers, knowledge mobilization, media interviews) to the community and each other. This web page will serve as an interface with the McMaster and broader communities.

Workshops

The MCREW will host annual outside speakers (e.g., methods workshops). These workshops will be open to all McMaster faculty members and graduate students, and will be publicized by core members within their faculties.

Speaker series

The MCREW will showcase the leading-edge research of its members through the Forgotten Workers Speaker Series. Every month, a member (except once per semester an invited guest speaker) will present a lecture open to the public and also available online via a livestream. When speakers are willing, video recordings of the lectures will also be available on the MCREW's YouTube channel. The speaker series will allow presenters to distill completed and ongoing research into a provocative, thoughtful and accessible format that will attract other academic researchers, as well as members of the public interested in the transformation of Canadian workplaces.

Yearly symposium

The MCREW will organize and host a yearly symposium focusing on a theme that lends itself well to adopting an interdisciplinary lens to research understudied workers (e.g., Gendering the recovery: What does the post-COVID workplace look like for women?; Working online: Gig work, remote work, and the changing workplace; (Im)migration and work). The yearly symposium will include invited talks by MCREW members. We will widely publicize the call for abstracts on the McMaster campus, as well as across Canadian universities through professional associations and the MCREW website, to ensure that graduate students and interested scholars are aware of the opportunity to attend and to present their work.

Annual student poster day

The MCREW will organize and host a yearly student poster day, where undergraduate and graduate students can present and receive feedback on their research. This will also be an opportunity for students to network with students and faculty members from different departments and disciplines.

Lab space

The MCREW will also offer access to the Connelly Research Laboratory infrastructure and technical expertise to its members. The Connelly Research Laboratory on the fifth floor of the DeGroot School of Business (DSB) on McMaster's main campus will be made available to MCREW members wishing to collect experimental data under rigorous conditions. The lab's specialized equipment includes: a psychophysiology system and a refrigerator for the safe storage of salivary cortisol, both used to measure participant stress; audio-visual equipment to record participant activities and to provide stimuli for participants to react to; computer equipment for participants to complete on-line surveys and communication simulations; software to facilitate the data collection and analysis process; a suite of assistive devices and technologies used by people with visual, mobility, and motor impairments; and, office and boardroom furniture for business simulations. The lab research coordinator has been trained in the use of all of the lab equipment and will be available to support MCREW members wishing to use it.

Undergraduate research assistant

The MCREW will hire an undergraduate research assistant, part time during the academic year with the possibility of full-time employment in the summer. The research assistant will be available on an as-needed basis to core members for literature searches, and data cleaning and preliminary analysis, to allow members to determine the feasibility of new research collaborations, and to work on joint projects.

Infographics

The MCREW will cover the costs of technical writing and graphic design for the creation of an infographic (or similar knowledge translation resource) based on the published research of core members (1 paper per member per year). The infographics will make research findings accessible to a wider audience, including members of the academic community working in different disciplines, the media, and the general public. They will be available on the MCREW website and core members will also be able to distribute them as they wish.

Open access fees

The MCREW will work on securing resources to provide core members with funding support for open access fees for a newly published academic publication. Funding will be sought through connection grants and possibly advancement funds. This will serve to expand the reach of members' research by making it more accessible, especially to interested parties outside of the academic community, as well as scholars in the Global South.

B. Rationale for Establishment of the Research Centre or Institute: (In this section it is necessary to explain the thematic research to take place, and what impact it will have on stakeholders.):

Why is there a need for this Center?

Although there are many extraordinarily talented faculty members at McMaster who study changing work, workers, and workplaces, we do not all know each other. As such, we have been working largely in isolation, across six different faculties. This functional isolation has of course been compounded by the social isolation of the covid-19 lockdown and the shift to (and return from) online learning. Nonetheless, MCREW members each have an abiding interest in researching changing work, workers, and workplaces, from different theoretical and methodological perspectives. Moreover, MCREW members each have shared challenges in conducting this research.

The MCREW will provide a platform for members to support each other's individual projects, and to form the basis for productive and sustainable collaborations. These collaborations will result in additional research grants, greater research productivity, and increased knowledge mobilization of research findings to the community, end users, and government policy makers.

C. Criteria for expanding the membership: (this should be linked to definition and obligations of membership):

Core MCREW members are those who are actively researching topics related to changing work, workers, and workplaces, and who agree to the obligations listed below.

Core members will contribute regularly to the MCREW programs and activities, and will attend MCREW meetings, presentations, and other initiatives. Core MCREW members will be actively involved with independent research projects about changing work, workers, and workplaces; they will publicly connect these projects to the MCREW. Core members will contribute to grants initiated by other MCREW members. Core members will participate in knowledge exchange, knowledge mobilization, knowledge translation, and the dissemination of research findings to other MCREW members and to the general public; much of this dissemination will occur via the MCREW website, where all core members will maintain a current profile.

Faculty members at McMaster who are actively researching topics related to changing work, workers, and workplaces, and who agree to the obligations of being a core member of the MCREW, may request to be considered for membership. In an annual meeting, the Membership Committee will vote on these requests. Likely candidates for inclusion as new members will be new faculty hires and collaborators of current members.

D. Detailed business plan (sustainability must be demonstrated):

i) Financial needs:

- Discuss/explain operating budget and attach Appendix A (Budget template)

The overall cost for the MCREW launch and five years of operations is $809,410. The expenses include administrative and research personnel, meeting costs, communication of results and knowledge translation, as well as additional administrative and research expenses (details in Appendix A).

- What is the amount of funding required?

Funding from external and internal sources will cover these costs, with external sources coming principally from SSHRC and accounting for approximately half of the revenue, with the other half covered by McMaster funding.

ii) Anticipated and secured sources of support:

- Start-up funds? Faculty commitments? External funds?

The start-up costs for the MCREW will be relatively modest because the DSB is providing all the required space. The DSB has committed to contributing $50,000 yearly plus an additional amount for research coordinator salary. We will apply for SSHRC Connection Grants to support the outreach activities of the MCREW, and the core members will develop an application for a SSHRC Partnership Development Grant in 2024, with the aim to apply for a SSHRC Partnership Grant in 2026. We will also apply for CFI funds for MCREW infrastructure. MCREW will also leverage its members government and industry network to engage in research contracts that will create a revenue stream for the centre.

iii) Space needs:

- Please expand on the detail from the “overview” page, identifying the existing or new space requirements for the Centre or Institute, noting whether the Faculty Dean has approved use of that space for this purpose.
- Identify the plans for the location and coverage of the space costs. Has this been approved by the Faculty Dean?

The DSB has committed to provide office space for the MCREW. The existing space in the Connelly Lab (877 square feet on the fifth floor of the DSB) will be integrated with MCREW.

iv) Human Resource needs:

- Explain how the day to day operations will be managed.
- Include faculty assistance or commitments
- Will there be hiring of employees?
- Use of students?
- Add detail regarding roles of research and administrative personnel

Daily operations will be managed by the MCREW Director (1 course release) and the MCREW Coordinator (1 day / week). The MCREW Director will oversee the academic decisions regarding the MCREW’s activities (e.g., chairing meetings, choosing presenters, deciding on content for the website), and the MCREW Coordinator will oversee the logistics of the MCREW (e.g., preparing financial statements, organizing locations for meetings, maintaining the website).

The DeGroot School of Business will provide research finance and HR support to the MCREW. The MCREW will also benefit from the Communications support provided by the MACE team within the DeGroot School of Business; this will enable the activities of the MCREW to be disseminated to a large audience, including DSB alumni and the business community. Moreover, the Faculty will also provide financial support as described above.

A part-time MCREW Coordinator will be hired by the MCREW Director. Funding for this Coordinator will be in lieu of administrative support. The MCREW will also receive USRA funding to hire one RA every summer. An additional undergraduate RA will be hired on a part-time basis during the academic year and for full-time work in the summer. The MCREW Director and Coordinator will be responsible for hiring the undergraduate students. The RAs will gain work experience and learn about important administrative functions (e.g., preparing financial statements, data visualization, project management).

Undergraduate thesis students and graduate students will be actively involved in the MCREW. They will have the opportunity to attend presentations, methods workshops, a symposium, and present their own research posters. The students will learn interdisciplinary approaches to research questions related to changing work, workers, and workplaces; these approaches will be useful to them when they continue their studies, and work in academia, industry, or the public sector.

F. Organizational Structure: (If a potential inaugural director is named in the proposal, ensure that appropriate Senate Committee on Appointments (SCA) paperwork and governance approvals are submitted after Centre/Institute approval):

i) Director:

- An Institute and a Centre is led by its Director, who is normally appointed for a 5 year term.

The Director will set the direction and future goals for the MCREW, in consultation with the membership. They will manage the budget and daily operations of the MCREW, with the support of the MCREW Coordinator. The Director will be accountable to the Governing Board and will lead the internal annual report. The Director's appointment will be for five years, renewable.

ii) Advisory Committee:

- The Director establishes an Advisory Committee (AC) whose purpose is to provide advice to the Director with regard to scientific or scholarly priorities and direction for the Institute or Centre. The AC is chosen by the Director, and is consulted at least every two years, or more frequently at the discretion of the Director.

The Advisory Committee will provide advice to the Director with regard to scientific and scholarly priorities and the direction of the MCREW. The Advisory Committee will be consulted yearly (or more frequently on an as-needed basis).

iii) Committee members:

- Please list Committee members who have agreed to serve or who will be approached.

The advisory committee will provisionally consist of

- 1- Dr. Catherine Loughlin (Professor and Jodrey Chair in Business & Society at the Dalhousie University Faculty of Management)
- 2- Dr. Rosalind Searle (Chair in Human Resource Management and Organisational Psychology at the Adam Smith Business School in Glasgow, Director of the European Association of Work and Organizational Psychology Impact Incubator).
- 3- One member recruited from the community, with the assistance of the DeGroot School of Business MaCE team. This person will have considerable experience in leading organizations, but have an abiding interest in changing work, workers, and workplaces.
- 4- Dr. Mahmut Parlar (Distinguished Business Research Professor for the DeGroot School of Business, McMaster University)
- 5- Dr. Katherine Cuff (Professor and University Scholar of Economics, McMaster University).

iv) External Board Review

The Centre Review Board (CRB) will be appointed by the Dean of the DSB, or designate, every five years. The Dean will determine the composition of the CRB, which may consist of external or internal reviewers and will provide an assessment of the Centre's performance in terms of its aspirations and the status, progress and plans associated with its research program. The CRB will be provided with the Guidelines for the Governance and Review of Research Institutes, Centres and Groups to guide its review, and will submit a report to the Dean of Business.

Governing Board and Role in Annual Review:

The Governing Board will oversee the status, progress, and financial viability of the MCREW. Dean Dr. Khaled Hassanein will serve as chair of the Governing Board. The remainder of the Governing Board will be comprised of:

- 1- The Chair of the Human Resources and Management Area in the DeGroot School of Business (currently Dr. Rick Hackett).
- 2- The Associate Dean of Research of the DeGroot School of Business (currently Dr. Elkafi Hassini), or delegate.
- 3- Rotating representation from: the Associate Dean, Research, Innovation and Partnerships, Faculty of Engineering (currently Dr. John Preston), the Vice-Dean, Research, Faculty of Health Sciences (currently Dr. Jonathan Bramson), the Associate Dean, Graduate Studies & Research, Faculty of Humanities (currently Dr. Martin Horn), the Associate Dean, Research & External Relations, Faculty of Science (currently Dr. Juliet Daniel), and the Associate Dean, Research, Faculty of Social Sciences (currently Jim Dunn).

RESEARCH CENTRES & INSTITUTES

2023 Annual Aggregated Report

An overview of 2023

I am pleased to present the 2023 Annual Report, highlighting the extraordinary achievements of McMaster University's Research Centres and Institutes (RCIs). These hubs of innovation and discovery represent vibrant communities of dedicated individuals who push the boundaries of knowledge every day. As we reflect on this past year, I am continually impressed by the exceptional caliber of work produced through our multidisciplinary and faculty-based RCIs, which stand as a testament to the commitment and talent of our directors, faculty, staff, and students.

Our research excellence is propelled by the collaborative spirit and unwavering efforts of our community. These centres and institutes are instrumental in addressing critical societal challenges, pooling resources, and maximizing both impact and output. This year, we have seen significant advancements in our strategic research objectives, bolstering interdisciplinary collaborations, stimulating partnerships, and enhancing our global research presence. Additionally, our ability to secure funding for major research initiatives has grown, strengthening the nexus between research and teaching.

In 2023, we proudly established the McMaster Centre for Research on Community Oriented Entrepreneurship, under the leadership of Dr. Benson Honig. Furthermore, our adherence to rigorous governance and review guidelines has facilitated critical feedback through external reviews, affirming the excellence of the RCIs and providing valuable insights for future strategic directions.

The Office of the Vice-President, Research continues to champion the RCI Undergraduate Summer Research Program, which has provided invaluable research opportunities to more than 50 undergraduate students across various faculties since its inception in 2021.

Our commitment to fostering an inclusive and collaborative research community remains strong. Through various knowledge-sharing events and initiatives like the Research Centres and Institutes Engagement Fund, we have supported 15 innovative proposals that align with the thematic missions of our RCIs.

This year's report not only quantifies the impact of our 68 centres and institutes but also celebrates their qualitative contributions to academia and society. In the last year, our RCIs enabled over 3,000 publications, 62 Intellectual Property disclosures, 54 patents and 808 licenses to external organizations; provided the training ground for some 4,400 students; and fostered collaborations with almost 1,000 external partners in industry, non-profits, and government bodies.

Thank you for your continued support and dedication to fostering a vibrant research ecosystem at McMaster University.

Research Impact & Influence

Empowering future generations of diverse entrepreneurs

McMaster's newest research centre, the Centre for Research on Community Oriented Entrepreneurship (CRCE), is working with communities across the globe to educate, inspire and empower entrepreneurs. Built on research initiated by business professor Benson Honig's virtual incubator, the Reframery, the CRCE aims to support marginalized and minority persons in examining problems creatively to foster innovative business solutions.

Since its launch in 2023, the Centre has engaged over 25 McMaster undergraduate students, graduate students and faculty members. Members have worked with marginalized and refugee micro-entrepreneurs in Poland, Kenya, Brazil, Canada and the U.S. to research, design and deliver entrepreneurial education programs. The Centre develops tool kits, manuals and replicable models for virtual incubators – online spaces and e-learning platforms where entrepreneurs can access educational resources and cultivate connections.

The CRCE has collaborated with six cohorts to date to deliver programs that help innovators take their ideas from conception to reality and grow successful businesses that enhance their quality of life and community health and well-being. Members of the CRCE are running a Train the Trainers program in Brazil to give individuals tools to promote creativity, innovation and entrepreneurial skills in their communities. The CRCE has plans to expand its work with non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and other community stakeholders in Hamilton, Canada and worldwide.

Evaluating a nurse home visitation program that supports Canadian families

Researchers from the Offord Centre for Child Studies are evaluating a nurse home visitation program that supports pregnant individuals and new mothers as they navigate parenthood.

The Nurse Family Partnership (NFP) is an evidence-based home-visiting program that aims to improve the health, well-being and economic self-sufficiency of families experiencing economic and social disadvantage. It pairs expecting mothers with a public health nurse, who provides ongoing support throughout pregnancy, infancy and toddlerhood, with a focus on promoting and teaching positive health and development behaviours between first-time parents and their children.

The program was originally developed and implemented in sites across the United States. Leaders at the Offord Centre, along with collaborators at Simon Fraser University, have been spearheading studies for over a decade to adapt, pilot, and evaluate the program in Ontario and British Columbia, with the aim of making it widely available to families across Canada.

The Offord Centre has played a critical role in adapting NFP for delivery through public health units and developing the program to meet the needs of Canadian families. This has included the development of national NFP visit guidelines and resources that public health nurses now use daily to deliver the program to families. In Ontario, the research team also developed and piloted training curriculum in four public health units, which now serves as the foundational model of education that new nurses and supervisors complete across Canada. The Offord Centre continues to play a central role in NFP's development and expansion, so that more Canadians can access the program and develop skills to support their children's health and well-being safely and sensitively.

Preparing young engineers for careers in the automotive industry

A new educational initiative developed by the Centre for Automotive Materials and Corrosion \(CAMC\), in partnership with provincial and industry partners, is introducing the next generation of skilled professionals to careers in the automotive sector.

In 2023, CAMC partnered with the Ontario Council for Technology Education (OCTE) – as part of the OCTE's Future Forward program – to launch province-wide educational programming focused on skills-training within the automotive and mobility sector. CAMC's experts in materials and manufacturing supported the development of curriculum that encourages elementary and high school students to explore careers in Canada's world-leading automotive industry.

Thanks to $500,000 in support from the Ontario Vehicle Information Network, the program was successfully rolled-out to 16 school boards and over 10,000 students across the province. Programming focused on a wide variety of core and emerging topics of interest in the automotive industry, from autonomous and electrified vehicle design and manufacturing to mobility planning and infrastructure.

CAMC also hosted an in-person workshop at McMaster for over 200 high school students, who participated in hands-on activities focused on developing in-demand technical skills in automotive research and industry. With a track record of student success and excellence in research and training, CAMC is equipping future STEM leaders with the fundamental knowledge and applied skills they need to succeed.

Bertrand Russell journal introduces new audiences to the philosopher's work

The Bertrand Russell Research Centre (BRRC) is the world's foremost institute conducting and promoting scholarship on Bertrand Russell – one of the twentieth century's most important thinkers. McMaster is home to the Bertrand Russell Archives, the largest collection of Russell material in the world. The Archives enable global scholarship on Russell's writings on logic, science, mathematics, political and social theory, religion, education and more.

The BRRC is focused on two ongoing projects, the Collected Papers and the Collected Letters, which collate Russell's influential writings and letter correspondence for public consumption. The Centre also publishes Russell: The Journal of Bertrand Russell Studies semi-annually. The scholarly journal is devoted to all aspects of Russell's thought, life, times and influence.

After 50 years of publishing Russell in-house, the journal moved to publisher Johns Hopkins University Press in 2023 and is now carried on the widely used digital platform Muse. A new team of editors – Andrew Bone, BBRC Senior Research Associate, and Gülberk Koç Maclean, Adjunct Professor of Philosophy – took over for the journal's original editor and Russell archivist, Kenneth Blackwell. This shift to Johns Hopkins University Press is bringing the journal into countless new libraries and institutions, and to new audiences worldwide who are interested in learning more about the philosopher's life, ideas and legacy.

Advancing social research in the digital age

The Digital Society Lab is spearheading research on the complex societal transformations that accompany our digital world – from digital currencies to online political advertising, AI and the spread of disinformation. Consisting of linguists, statisticians, engineers, political scientists and computational social scientists from around the world, the Lab examines the social, political, and economic impacts of digital technologies while harnessing the potential of these tools to advance scientific and social innovation.

The Lab is currently enlisting a new web development team to support the creation of digital products that address some of our most pressing global challenges. With dangerous disinformation campaigns on the rise on social media, the Digital Society Lab is using AI-powered countermeasures to push back. The Lab is leveraging high-performance computing, algorithms and machine learning technologies to examine how disinformation and hateful content spreads through social media networks, with the goal of developing advanced technological solutions that can help detect and filter fake news.

As new digital technologies continue to reshape our lives, the Digital Society Lab is leading social tech research and innovation to promote a fair and healthy digital age, while training the next generation of scholars and policy leaders.

Building a roadmap for affordable housing in Hamilton

The McMaster Institute for Health Equity (MIHE) is working with community and government partners to develop safe, accessible and affordable housing solutions amidst Hamilton’s housing crisis.

Leaders at the MIHE are working closely with the City of Hamilton and the Canadian Housing Evidence Collaborative (CHEC) – an outgrowth of MIHE’s Housing and Health Equity stream funded by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council and the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation – to implement a Housing Sustainability and Investment Roadmap.

The Roadmap will guide the City’s strategic response to the current crisis in housing affordability and homelessness. Its ‘whole-of-Hamilton’ approach ensures that multiple levels of government, City departments, community stakeholders and academic researchers can work collectively to improve housing conditions and housing accessibility in Hamilton.

As a hub for interdisciplinary research on health equity, MIHE lent their expertise to the development of the Roadmap. The Institute provided and analyzed the latest housing data to guide its focus. In 2023, Dr. Jim Dunn, Director of MIHE and CHEC, appeared before the Hamilton City Council to co-present the Roadmap. It has since been adopted and a Housing Secretariat was established to coordinate collaborative research and knowledge mobilization projects led by the Roadmap stakeholders. The Roadmap also helped inform a series of consultations led by CHEC for the Canadian Ministry of Infrastructure, Housing and Communities that culminated in Canada’s Housing Plan, presented in the 2024 federal budget.

MIHE continues to play a central role in actioning the Roadmap and advancing evidence-based solutions that address Hamiltonians’ diverse housing needs.

Planting 1,000 trees to tackle climate change and advance environmental research

The McMaster Centre for Climate Change (MCCC) is leading an innovative tree-planting project designed to combat climate change and provide unique learning and research opportunities in environmental science. Led by researchers at the MCCC, the McMaster Carbon Sink Forest initiative is developing a model of a carbon sink forest on a one-hectare plot of land in west Hamilton. With the help of faculty, students and community volunteers, the Centre has planted over 1,000 trees, which sequester – or absorb – atmospheric carbon dioxide to help mitigate the impacts of climate change.

In 2023, the Centre organized two tree planting events in collaboration with community partners. Over 150 McMaster and Hamilton community members participated in the planting of over 500 trees. MCCC researchers continuously monitor how much carbon dioxide is being pulled out of the atmosphere by each tree and collect ecological data to monitor the trees' long-term health. This data, along with the Centre's experience in growing the forest, will be shared with researchers across Canada and around the world who are growing similar forests to combat climate change.

The McMaster Carbon Sink Forest has received international attention. It was shortlisted for the David Suzuki Foundation's Future Ground Prize in 2022. The Centre is currently building on the success of the project to establish an urban Greenhouse Gas Observatory at the site. The Observatory will act as an outdoor living learning lab for McMaster faculty and students.

RE: MacDATA Institute: Scientific Advisory Committee and Co-Director TORs

On behalf of the MacDATA Governing Board (GB), please find attached the Scientific Advisory Committee (SAC) and Co-Director Terms of Reference for Senate Committee on Appointments approval.

In accordance with the Guidelines for the Governance and Review of Research Institutes, Centres and Groups policy, MacDATA underwent a five-year external review in 2022. The External Review Board (ERB) found that the Institute Director spent an extensive amount of time on administrative activities rather than initiative planning for the academic and research themes of the institute.

As a result, the GB requested the Institute undergo an internal revisioning exercise. The GB requested that the leadership and governance model be reviewed and that a new data-science mandate be established. The GB implemented the MacDATA Future Steering Committee (FSC) which included a representative from all six faculties.

In the fall of 2023, the MacDATA FSC report found that each faculty has their own unique needs specific to data-science research and training. It was evident that the previous Director model could not successfully support the diverse needs of all faculties. The assessment led the GB to unanimously approve a motion to appoint a new Scientific Advisory Committee and Co-Directorship model with equal representation from each faculty.

The Scientific Advisory Committee will set the mandate and research themes of the institute, while a rotating Co-Director model will allow faculties to alternate annually and drive institute program initiatives.

Thank you.
Encl.

RE: For Recommendation – Academic Director, Learning Spaces & Digital Teaching and Learning

---

McMaster's Partnered in Teaching and Learning Strategy launched in April 2021. One of the impact areas included in the strategy is to Develop Active and Flexible Learning Spaces. A key objective within this area is to develop a Digital Learning Strategy for the University. A Project Team was struck in August 2021 to advance this work in collaboration with a Steering Committee comprised of faculty and staff across McMaster. Last May, the 3-year Digital Learning Strategic Framework was launched to the McMaster community.

As our team contemplated the needs for implementing the Digital Learning Strategic Framework, it was recognized that faculty leadership is an integral part of the change management efforts that are required to achieve the vision set out in the Strategy. As such, it was recommended that Terms of Reference for an Academic Director of Learning Spaces & Digital Teaching and Learning be developed.

The Academic Director will lead strategic activities and build relationships with faculty across campus to support the successful implementation of the strategy. Additionally, they will also be involved in discussions and strategic visioning around our learning spaces. The purpose of this position is to have technological pedagogical content knowledge and provide leadership on the implementation of the strategy across campus, especially with faculty, to support change management efforts. Given budgetary constraints and the delay in implementation, this has been identified as a pilot, two-year appointment.

The Digital Learning Strategy Project Team and Steering Committee have participated in the development of the Terms of Reference, with endorsement from the Provost and AVP Academic Finance & Planning:

- Lorraine Carter, Director, Continuing Education
- Cliff van der Linden, Assistant Professor, Political Science

Report To: Senate Committee on Appointments

Date of Meeting: May 6, 2024

Submitted By: Joint MUFA-SCA Ad-Hoc Drafting Committee to Review Policies with a Faculty Association Observer

Date of Report: April 29, 2024

Subject: Proposed New Policy: Faculty Association Observers at Hearings Policy
Revisions to the: Faculty Grievance Policy, Code of Conduct for Faculty and Procedures for taking Disciplinary Action, and Research Integrity Policy

Recommendation:

That the Senate Committee on Appointments approve, for recommendation to Senate and the Board of Governors, the establishment of the Faculty Association Observers at Hearings Policy, which supersedes SPS D2 - Faculty Association Observers at Appeal Tribunal Hearings and SPS D3 - Faculty Association Observers at Removal Proceedings, effective June 6, 2024.

That the Senate Committee on Appointments approve, for recommendation to Senate and the Board of Governors, the revisions to the Faculty Grievance Policy that include the removal of Appendix B: Faculty Association Observers at Hearings, effective June 6, 2024.

That the Senate Committee on Appointments approve, for recommendation to Senate and the Board of Governors, the revisions to the Code of Conduct for Faculty and Procedures for taking Disciplinary Action, that include the removal of Appendix B: Guidelines Concerning the Appointment and Department of Observers at Faculty Disciplinary Hearings, effective June 6, 2024.

That the Senate Committee on Appointments approve, for recommendation to Senate and the Board of Governors, the revisions to the Research Integrity Policy, that include the removal of Appendix D: Association Observers at Hearings, effective June 6, 2024.

Background:

In April 2023 a Joint MUFA-SCA Ad-Hoc Drafting Committee (“the Committee”) was struck to review the role and responsibilities of Faculty Association Observers under various University policies listed and to propose any needed revisions for approval through the University’s governing bodies.

The Committee found that the role of the Faculty Association Observer and the rules governing them were essentially identical under each of the policies. The Committee concluded that the establishment of a single policy governing Faculty Association Observers (“Observers”) would be the most effective option. The new policy would supersede SPS D2 and SPS D3 and would require amending the other policies to remove the appendices regarding Faculty Association Observers.

As part of the consultation process, the Committee and its consultants met with the MUFA President and MUFA Executive Director to discuss their assessment of the current process and recommendations for improvements to the process.

In the existing policies the process for the appointment of an Observer involved the University Secretariat asking for the faculty member’s consent to the presence of an Observer, and their consent to the Observer receiving copies of the hearing documents. MUFA reported that in some cases, no response was received from the faculty member and therefore no Observer could be appointed. The Committee determined that it would be more effective to have the appointment of an Observer permitted by default, and the faculty member informed they could decline to have an Observer appointed to the Hearing and/or decline the Observer receiving the hearing documents. For hearings that are held over many days MUFA informed the Committee that it can be difficult to find an Observer willing/able to attend all of the hearing dates. This has been accommodated in the past by scheduling several different Observers over the course of the hearing. The proposed new policy formally codifies this practice.

The Committee noted that neither the Discrimination and Harassment Policy nor the Sexual Violence Policy have provisions for an Observer. The Committee is not recommending that these policies be changed at this time but do recommend that the possibility of a Faculty Association Observer be considered the next time each of these policies is reviewed.

Consultation

The Committee invited the MUFA Executive to comment on the new policy prior to submitting its final report.

SECTION I: INTRODUCTION

PREAMBLE

1. This Policy is designed to provide McMaster University faculty members with prompt and impartial adjudication of grievances arising from their employment relationship with the University.
2. This Policy is intended to facilitate and promote informal resolution of grievances and to furnish a formal mechanism of grievance resolution when informal means are unsuccessful. Mediation as a means of resolution of grievances is the preferred method for formal resolution of grievances. Only the most serious grievances which have not been resolved by mediation are appropriate for a Hearing.

TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

3. For the purpose of interpreting this document:
  - a) words in the singular may include the plural and words in the plural may include the singular;
  - b) members of the Administration, and Decision-Makers in this Policy may, where necessary and appropriate, delegate their authority;
  - c) established practice means a practice which is identifiable, certain, known and in force as of the date of the decision or action that is the subject of the grievance. The onus to show that such a practice exists rests upon the party who seeks to rely upon it;
  - d) Faculty Association means either the McMaster University Faculty Association or the Clinical Faculty Association;
  - e) faculty member means those employees of the University or of a college affiliated with the University who hold the academic rank of professor, associate professor, assistant professor or lecturer, and includes clinical faculty;
  - f) grievance means a complaint against an administrative decision made by a Person with Administrative Authority;
  - g) Grievor may be an individual faculty member or a group of such members;
  - h) Initial Decision-Maker means the person with administrative authority that made the initial decision that is the subject of the grievance;
  - i) MUFA means the McMaster University Faculty Association;
  - j) Person with Administrative Authority means members of the Administration: the President, Vice-President, Vice-Provost, Dean, Associate Dean, Vice-Dean, Department Chair, Director of a Program, School, Institute or Centre);

- k) Provost means the Provost and Vice-President (Academic);
- l) President means the President and Vice-Chancellor; and
- m) Respondent means an individual University administrator that is a Person with Administrative Authority to remedy the grievance.

SCOPE

- 4. A grievance is a complaint that the interpretation or application of a duly enacted policy or established practice of the University by any Person with Administrative Authority (clause 3.j.), has not been fair, just or reasonable to the Grievor.
- 5. This Policy is open to all faculty members as defined under clause 3.e. above. However, any such faculty member who is covered by a collective agreement of a certified union or appointed through SPS A3 (Procedures for Other Appointments except in Health Sciences) or SPS A4 (Procedures for Other Appointments within the Faculty of Health Sciences) shall not be eligible to use this Policy.
- 6. The same complaint may not be filed under another University policy and this Policy contemporaneously.
- 7. Grievances about the following matters are not within the jurisdiction of this Policy:
  - a) decisions made and procedures under the jurisdiction of a University policy for which specific review or appeal procedures exist, such as in the:
    - (i) *Discrimination and Harassment Policy*;
    - (ii) *Sexual Violence Policy*;
    - (iii) *Research Integrity Policy*;
    - (iv) Section III and IV of the *Tenure & Promotion Policy*, regarding Tenure & Promotion and Appeal Procedures;
    - (v) Faculty Career Progress/Merit (CP/M) Plan;
  - b) disciplinary measures imposed by a Tribunal under the *Code of Conduct for Faculty and Procedures for Taking Disciplinary Action*, at Stage 4;
  - c) decisions to suspend a faculty member under Section V of the Tenure and Promotion Policy;
  - d) decisions made by a Tribunal convened under Section VI of the Tenure and Promotion Policy;
  - e) decisions or recommendations made by a Faculty Grievance Tribunal under this Policy;
  - f) remuneration (salary and/or benefits). Nothing in this clause is intended to affect adversely the rights of persons to take complaints about their remuneration to the Provincial Pay Equity Commission if

- they have been unable to resolve them to their satisfaction within the University; and
- g) policies enacted and decisions made by University (the Senate and the Board of Governors) and Faculty governance bodies.
8. Grievances about disciplinary measures imposed under the Code of Conduct for Faculty and Procedures for Taking Disciplinary Action at Stages 1, 2 and 3 are within the jurisdiction of this policy.
  9. Disciplinary measures shall be imposed only in accordance with University policy.
  10. For example, and for greater clarity, while it may be perceived as such, an administrative decision affecting a faculty member is not in itself harassment. Under the Discrimination and Harassment Policy harassment means engagement in a course of vexatious comment or conduct that is known or ought reasonably to be known to be unwelcome. "Vexatious" comment or conduct is comment or conduct made without reasonable cause or excuse.

ADVICE AND GUIDANCE

11. Faculty members should consult with the relevant faculty association (either the McMaster University Faculty Association or the Clinical Faculty Association), to determine the most suitable policy or procedures to exercise.
12. Other resources for faculty are the University Secretariat, the Equity and Inclusion Office, the Faculty of Health Sciences Professionalism Office (only for members of that Faculty), or Employee/Labour Relations, as appropriate.

SECTION II: PROCEDURAL GUIDELINES

TIME LIMITS

13. Prompt adjudication of grievances is predicated upon adherence to the time limits set out in this Policy. Where time limits are not specified all parties are expected to make reasonable efforts to respond in a timely manner. Time limits, including those which apply to mediation, may be extended by mutual agreement of the parties.
14. A Grievor who fails to meet a time limit loses the right to proceed to the next stage. If a Respondent fails to meet a time limit, the Grievor shall have the right to proceed to the next stage.
15. Disputes about time limits (e.g., when the Grievor ought reasonably to have known the decision or action that is the subject of the Grievance) shall be adjudicated by the Chair of the Grievance Review Panel.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

16. Faculty members and persons with administrative authority will disclose conflicts of interest or other circumstances which may reasonably introduce or appear to introduce bias into any academic or administrative decision to which they may be a party.
17. Parties to the procedures shall exercise their good judgement regarding conflict of interest and recuse themselves accordingly.

CONFIDENTIALITY

18. Confidentiality shall be enjoined on all parties involved in any stage of this Policy. This does not preclude the discreet disclosure of information in order to elicit the facts of the case or as required by law which includes compliance with a summons or order from another administrative tribunal or court.
19. The University, and its employees and agents, will protect personal information and handle records in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act ,

PROTECTION FROM REPRISAL

20. The University prohibits reprisal or threats of reprisal against any faculty member who makes use of this Policy or participates in proceedings held under its jurisdiction. An individual who believes they are the subject of a reprisal or threat of reprisal shall report this to the Provost's Office, or to the President's Office. Any individual found to be making such reprisals or threats will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

ADVISOR / REPRESENTATION

21. Grievors may be accompanied by an advisor or counsel at any stage of the procedures outlined in this Policy. The advisor or counsel may represent the Grievor at the Hearing. The costs of any accompaniment or representation are the responsibility of the Grievor.

22. The University Secretariat is the administrative office responsible for the scheduling and holding of Hearings before the Tribunal and for the training of Tribunal members.

DATA GATHERING & RECORD KEEPING

23. Records related to a grievance shall be retained by the Provost's Office for seven years after last use.
24. Hearing files shall be retained by the University Secretary for seven years after last use and may be retained longer at the discretion of the University Secretary. The Tribunal's Report shall be retained permanently.
25. The Chair of the Grievance Review Panel is responsible for providing a written, anonymized, statistical report to the Chairs of the Senate and the Board of Governors, and the President of MUFA. In order to protect confidentiality, the statistical report will be held over until a sample size of five has been reached. The report will then provide statistics on a rolling three-year basis. This report may include recommendations for clarification of or changes to University policies, practices or procedures. The report could also contain a summary of the MUFA Special Enquiries and Grievances Chair's activities if submitted.

POLICY REVISIONS

26. Proposals for amending this Policy may be made by the Chair of the Grievance Review Panel, the University administration, the Senate, MUFA, or the Clinical Faculty Association. When such proposals are made, there shall be consultation among these parties.
27. If the Senate Committee on Appointments and the MUFA Executive agree that the revisions are minor and reach agreement on the revisions, the amendments will be presented to Senate by the Senate Committee on Appointments.
28. Otherwise, an ad hoc drafting committee will be established, and shall consist of 3 members named by the Senate Committee on Appointments and 3 members named by the MUFA Executive.
29. The ad hoc drafting committee shall review the proposed amendments and formulate revisions for submission to the Senate and the Board of Governors for approval.

34. Internal mediators or external third-party mediators may be used for mediation. The Provost will propose a mediator. Both parties shall be given the opportunity to object in writing to the proposed mediator.
35. The mediator, who must have had no previous involvement in the case, shall hear both sides of the dispute and shall remain impartial. They shall hold all information in strict confidence and shall issue no public report or statements on the mediation. The mediator may not subsequently be a member of the Tribunal which hears the case if it proceeds to a Hearing, nor may they be called as a witness before a Tribunal.
36. With the mutual consent of the parties, mediation may be requested at any stage in the Policy not already stipulated and timelines for further steps revised accordingly.
37. The costs of mediation will be borne by the University.

Respondent

38. The Respondent is an individual University administrator that is a Person with Administrative Authority to remedy the grievance. Normally, the Initial Decision-Maker reports directly to the initial Respondent with respect to their administrative duties. The Initial Decision-Maker is normally not a Respondent under these procedures.

In the case of a Committee decision, the Initial Decision-Maker will be the administrative officer at the level to which the Committee reports, i.e., in the case of a Departmental Committee it will be the Chair of the Department, of a Faculty Committee it will be the Dean, of a University Committee the appropriate Vice-Provost, Vice-President or the President.

92. The matter will be considered by a Tribunal under the Procedural Rules for Hearings, Section V.

SECTION V: PROCEDURAL RULES FOR HEARINGS

93. Hearings shall be conducted in accordance with the principles of procedural fairness, namely the rights to receive notice, to be heard, and to know the case against one. Adjudications and Hearings shall follow the applicable procedural rules specified in the Statutory Powers Procedure Act \(SPPA\) and set out in this Policy. The Tribunal shall have the right to control its own process, and, in this regard, if the Tribunal determines that variations to the procedures would lead to a fair, just, and efficient resolution of the Hearing, it has the power to make any Order in furtherance of this objective.
94. Where any procedural matter is not dealt with specifically in this Policy or the SPPA, the Tribunal may, after hearing submissions from the parties, establish an appropriate procedure.
95. Any procedural requirement contained in this Policy may be waived with the consent of the Tribunal and of all the parties.

Settlement

96. Parties are encouraged to settle any and all disputes prior to a hearing before the Tribunal. In the event that the issue is settled between the parties prior to any hearing before the Tribunal, the grievance may be withdrawn by mutual agreement of the parties. Once a Hearing has commenced, however, any settlement proposed by the parties must be approved by the Tribunal before the matter can be dismissed or resolved.

Submissions and Disclosure

97. Parties to the Hearing are required to make written submissions prior to the Hearing, as both Parties have a right to know the case to be met and must be given a fair opportunity to respond. Disclosure also helps the Parties prepare for the hearing.
98. Written submissions must include:
  - a) a list of all witnesses the Party intends to call to testify; and
  - b) a copy of all arguably relevant documents or other evidence in their possession;
  - c) and any such evidence shall be made available to the members of the Tribunal and to all parties prior to the Hearing.
99. Prior to a Hearing, members of the Tribunal shall be provided with:
  - a) the Grievor's complaint in the Request for a Hearing Form, which includes the details of the grievance, a statement of the issue or issues in dispute, a statement of the remedy sought, and documentation, including the written decision from the Respondent and any responses from all previous stages of the grievance; and
  - b) all written or other documentary evidence submitted by the parties.

100. Members of the Tribunal must not hear evidence or receive representations regarding the substance of the case other than through the procedures described in this Policy.

Evidence

101. Parties to the Hearing have the right to present evidence in support of their case to the Tribunal and to see any written or documentary evidence presented to the Tribunal.
102. The Parties are expected to produce all arguably relevant documents (with normal limitations of privilege, etc.), a minimum of 10 business days prior to the Hearing.
103. The Tribunal has the power to require production of written or documentary evidence by the parties or by other sources.
104. The Tribunal has the power to rule on the admissibility of evidence.

Witnesses

105. Parties to the Hearing, and the Tribunal, have the right to call, question, and cross-examine witnesses. Other than the parties, witnesses are present in the Hearing room only during the time they are testifying.
106. Any person appearing before the Tribunal as a witness shall be required to give evidence under affirmation or oath.
107. The Tribunal has discretion to limit the testimony and questioning of witnesses to those matters it considers relevant to the disposition of the case.
108. Parties are responsible for contacting their own witnesses; for making all arrangements for witnesses to attend the Hearing; for paying any costs associated with their appearance before the Tribunal; and for absorbing the costs of any legal counsel attending on their behalf.
109. The Tribunal Chair has the power to compel an unwilling witness to attend, and parties may contact the University Secretariat to request the Chair's assistance in this regard. The power to compel a witness is derived from the Statutory Powers Procedure Act. An unwilling witness may be compelled by the Chair under summons to testify where the written request by the party for the summons demonstrates the witness' testimony is relevant and related to the alleged facts of the case.

Closed Hearings

110. Hearings shall be held in camera unless either the Grievor or the Respondent requests that the Hearing, or some part of the Hearing, should be held in public. In the event of such a request, the Tribunal shall hear representations from all parties. In making its ruling, the Tribunal shall consider whether matters of an intimate financial or personal nature are to be raised, whether there is an issue of public safety involved, the desirability of holding an open Hearing and other relevant circumstances.

Parties

111. Parties to a Hearing shall include:
- a) the Grievor; and
  - b) the Respondent.

Onus, Burden of Proof and Basis of Decision

112. The balance of probabilities is the test to be met to show, by the weight of the evidence presented, that all of the facts necessary to make a determination that an injustice or error have occurred, have a greater likelihood of being true than not.
113. The Grievor normally has the onus to present evidence to satisfy the Tribunal that, on a balance of probabilities, the interpretation or application of a duly enacted policy or established practice of the University by the initial Decision-Maker has not been fair, just or reasonable to the Grievor; however, for grievances related to disciplinary measures (section 8), the onus is on the Respondent to show that discipline is just, fair and reasonable to the Grievor.
114. The principles and procedures described in this section shall apply to all proceedings before the Tribunal. Tribunals shall not be charged with investigative duties.

Advisor / Representation

115. Parties have the right to be advised or represented by an Advisor or legal counsel. The costs of any representation are to be borne by the party retaining such representation.
116. An Advisor is a person of the individual's choice who acts in an advisory role (e.g., friend, family member, legal counsel), but is not a witness or potential witness in the matter.

Administrative and Legal Support

117. Administrative support for the Tribunal will be provided through the University Secretariat. Legal counsel for the Tribunal shall be provided as needed through the University Secretariat.

Other Parties

118. If other persons, in addition to the Grievor and the Respondent, have been specified as parties to the proceedings, the Hearing procedure shall be altered by the Tribunal to provide an opportunity for such additional parties to be heard.

Recess or Adjournment

119. The Tribunal may consider and grant a recess or an adjournment at the request of either party to allow them to review written or documentary evidence submitted at the Hearing.
120. The Tribunal may grant an adjournment at any time during the Hearing to ensure a fair Hearing.

Recording

121. Although the Hearing shall be recorded in order to obtain an accurate record of the proceedings, such recording is done for convenience purposes only and the malfunction of the recording device or subsequent loss of the recording shall not invalidate, in any way, the related Hearing.
122. The recording shall be held in confidence by the University Secretariat for a period of three years from the last date of the Hearing. Any party to the Hearing may request access to the recording and the reproduction thereof, upon reasonable notice and payment of the reasonable costs associated therewith.

Similar Questions of Fact or Policy

123. If two or more proceedings before the Grievance Review Panel involve the same or similar questions of fact or policy, the Chair of the Panel, after seeking written input from the parties, may decide:
  - a) to consolidate the proceedings or any part of them; or
  - b) to hear the proceedings at the same time; or
  - c) to hear the proceedings one immediately after the other.

WRITTEN HEARINGS*Notice of Written Hearing

124. The parties shall be given reasonable, written notice of the Written Hearing submission deadlines.
125. The notice shall include the process and timelines for submissions for the Written Hearing. Any party whose reasons for failing to participate in the process that are not considered valid by the Tribunal's Chair, or whose failure to participate may cause unreasonable delay, shall be notified that the Tribunal will proceed in that party's absence.

HEARINGS*Notice of Hearing

126. A Hearing shall be commenced as soon as possible following the appointment of the Tribunal.
127. An attempt shall be made to schedule the Hearing at a time and place convenient for the Tribunal and for the parties to the Hearing. However, any party whose reasons for absence are not considered valid by the Tribunal's Chair, or whose absence may cause unreasonable delay, shall be notified that the Tribunal will proceed in that party's absence.

128. The parties shall be given reasonable, written notice of the Hearing.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF FACULTY MEMBERS

1. Unless stated otherwise in the letter of appointment (and/or the annual contract, if applicable), faculty members have obligations to McMaster University in three areas: (a) teaching; (b) research, scholarly, or creative activities; and (c) university service.
  - a. Each faculty member is responsible for teaching effectively and in a conscientious manner. Without limiting the generality of this requirement, faculty members
    - will follow Senate and Graduate Council policies regarding course outlines, and will inform students of assignments and methods of evaluation;
    - will make themselves accessible to students for consultation, for instance, by posting and maintaining reasonable office hours;
    - will adhere to the published time-table in all but exceptional circumstances, and will take reasonable and appropriate steps to inform both students and the University of any necessary cancellation and rescheduling of instruction; and
    - will be conscientious in grading student assignments and commenting on theses in a timely fashion, and will adhere to the schedules for submission of grades and evaluations by Departments, Faculties, and the School of Graduate Studies.
  - b. Each faculty member will devote a reasonable proportion of time to research, scholarship, or creative work. All faculty members will make the results of such work accessible to their peers in the scholarly community, and, where appropriate, to the general public, through publications, lectures, and other means.
  - c. Each faculty member is responsible for participating in the life of the University, in its governance and administration. They will normally do so through participation in committees of the University, and/or by accepting a fair and reasonable share of the administrative responsibilities in their Department, their Faculty, and the University.
  - d. Each faculty member is responsible for conducting himself or herself in a professional and ethical manner towards colleagues, students, staff, and other members of the University community. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, faculty members at McMaster University
    - will not infringe the academic freedom of their colleagues;
    - will not discriminate against any member of the University community on grounds prohibited by Ontario Human Rights Code;
    - will observe appropriate principles of confidentiality, particularly regarding students;

- will, in their published work, whenever it is appropriate, indicate publicly the assistance of academic colleagues or students;
- will disclose conflicts of interest or other circumstances which may reasonably introduce or appear to introduce bias into any academic or administrative decision to which they may be a party; and
- will observe all of the published rules and policies of the University and its legislative bodies.

PROCEDURES FOR TAKING DISCIPLINARY ACTION

2. The procedures below describe four stages of disciplinary action, one or more of which might be initiated against faculty members who fail to meet their responsibilities as academic members of the University. It is envisaged that these disciplinary procedures will most often be applicable in the realms of teaching, research and university service, (e.g., repeated below par performance in regard to career progress merit, repeated refusal to accept committee responsibilities and the like). Should the Chair decide that the case falls within the jurisdiction of another University policy (such as human rights, sexual harassment, research ethics, and consulting), the procedures set out in those policies shall apply.
3. In the spirit of the Senate-approved "Terms of Reference for Department Chairs" it is also envisaged that in most cases the Department Chair will be the initiator of the disciplinary actions described below.
4. Whenever questions arise, either within or outside the Department, about the behaviour of a faculty member, the Department Chair should be so informed and he or she must take appropriate steps to satisfy him/herself that there is a problem, including talking with the faculty member on an informal basis, with a view to resolving the problem.
5. In certain situations, such as where the issue involves the conduct of the Department Chair or where the Department Chair is in a conflict of interest, it may be appropriate for the Faculty Dean to initiate the disciplinary procedure.
6. If at any stage in these procedures, the Faculty Dean feels compromised by an earlier involvement (e.g., if the Chair consults the Dean early in the process), the Dean shall appoint a delegate to carry out his or her responsibilities in Stage 3.

STAGE 1

7. When the Department Chair concludes that the behaviour or negligence of a departmental colleague requires correction and the application of this Code of Conduct, the Chair will so inform the colleague in writing and will invite the person concerned to discuss the problem with the Chair. The Chair should also invite a senior departmental colleague to be present, and the department member concerned shall be free to invite a faculty colleague also to be present.
8. On this occasion, the Chair will inform those present of the problem and of his/her proposals for its correction.
9. The Chair will make a note of the views expressed by those present on the matter under consideration and of the corrective measures which the faculty member is required to take. The Chair will also indicate a deadline by which he/she expects to see an improvement or issue a warning about the consequences of the inappropriate behaviour being repeated.
10. A copy of the Chair's note, with these details, shall be given to the faculty member concerned. The Chair will keep his/her note separate from the faculty member's personal file in the Department. Should the faculty member concerned refuse to cooperate or be present for these proceedings, they will continue nevertheless.

STAGE 2

11. Should the Chair have cause to believe that the problem continues after the deadline indicated during the initial discussion (Stage 1), the Chair shall draw up a formal letter of warning to the faculty member concerned. This letter shall state the nature of the unacceptable behaviour, take note of the previous discussion, describe the course of action that must be followed by the faculty member, and establish a new deadline. The Chair shall make clear to the faculty member concerned that should there be no improvement or correction by the new deadline, the Chair will refer the matter to the Dean of the Faculty (Stage 3).
12. The Chair shall send the letter by registered mail to the faculty member concerned and shall invite him or her to respond in writing.
13. A copy of the Chair's letter, with any response, shall be placed in the faculty member's personal file in the Department.
14. Should the faculty member involved refuse to cooperate or to be present, the process will continue in his/her absence and the Chair shall take whatever action he/she considers appropriate and so inform the faculty member.

STAGE 3

15. If the deadline stipulated in Stage 2 passes without, in the Chair's judgment, the problem being corrected, the Chair shall inform the Faculty Dean of the situation.
16. The Dean will invite the Chair, the faculty member concerned and an adviser of the latter's choice to discuss the matter. The Dean may also invite other University officers (e.g., Dean of Graduate Studies, Vice-President [Research], Director of Personnel Services) to be present, if he/she deems their presence would be relevant or appropriate.
17. If, after hearing from both parties, the Dean decides that the complaint lacks merit, she/he will inform both parties in writing and will instruct the Department Chair to destroy any relevant letters placed in the concerned faculty member's file.
18. If the Dean decides that the matter should be pursued, he/she may write one final letter of warning to the faculty member concerned or refer the matter to the Provost.
19. Should the Dean decide on a letter, this must clearly restate the nature of the unacceptable behaviour or negligence, indicate the steps necessary for its correction, and stipulate a deadline by which time the correction must be evident.
20. Should the Dean conclude, after the deadline has passed, that the problem still remains, she/he shall inform the faculty member concerned in writing that the matter is being referred to the Provost.
21. As in previous stages, Stage 3 will proceed even in the absence or non-cooperation of the concerned faculty member.
22. When the Dean refers a disciplinary matter to the Provost, either in lieu of the letter referred to in Stage 3, or because the deadline stipulated in Stage 3 has passed without, in the Dean's judgment, the problem being corrected, he or she shall provide the Provost with copies of all previous correspondence on the matter and shall also copy the letter of referral to the faculty member concerned. The letter of referral shall include a recommendation with respect to the disciplinary action the Dean believes should be taken against the faculty member.

STAGE 4

FACULTY DISCIPLINE BOARD AND DISCIPLINE TRIBUNAL

23. There shall be a Faculty Discipline Board, consisting of twelve tenured faculty members at the rank of professor. Members of the Board shall be appointed by Senate for staggered three-year terms, once renewable, effective July 1.

~~24.~~ If the Dean refers the matter to the Provost under the provisions of Stage 3,

~~26.~~ ~~24.~~ the Provost shall proceed to establish a Faculty Discipline tribunal in accordance with the stipulations of clauses 26 and 28 below, and

~~i. the Provost shall send a copy of the "Guidelines Concerning the Appointment and Department of Observers at Faculty Disciplinary Hearings" (Appendix B) to the faculty member concerned and request his or her consent to the presence of an Observer, as provided for in clause 29 below. If the faculty member consents, the Provost shall notify the McMaster University Faculty Association of its right to send an Observer, as specified in clause 29, and the Association shall inform the faculty member and the Secretary of the Senate who the Observer will be.~~

~~27.~~ ~~25.~~ The Provost, upon receiving from a Faculty Dean a letter of referral concerning a disciplinary matter (see clause 22), shall, through the University Secretariat, give the faculty member concerned an opportunity to respond in writing to the letter of referral. In compliance with the Faculty Association Observers at Hearings Policy, the faculty shall be asked for their consent to the presence of an Association Observer.

~~28.~~ ~~26.~~ The Provost shall also forward to the Dean and the faculty member (the parties to the Hearing) a list of the members of the Faculty Discipline Board and they shall be given the opportunity to express to the Provost, in writing, any objections they may have concerning any members of the Board. After careful consideration of any such objections, the Provost shall select the members of the Discipline Tribunal from among the members of the Board, in accordance with the requirements of clause 28. The Provost shall also designate which of the Board members shall serve as Chair of the Discipline Tribunal.

~~29.~~ ~~27.~~ When the Provost has decided upon the members and the Chair of the Discipline Tribunal, he or she shall so inform the Tribunal members, the parties to the Hearing and the Secretary of the Senate.

~~30.~~ ~~28.~~ The Discipline Tribunal shall consist of three members of the Faculty Discipline Board who do not have a conflict of interest; at least one of the three shall be from outside the Faculty of the person who is the subject of the Hearing.

~~31.~~ ~~Subject to the agreement of the faculty member who is the subject of the~~ ~~Hearing, the McMaster University Faculty Association shall be permitted to send an Observer to the Hearing described in clause 30. The Observer shall be entitled to receive all the documentation available to the faculty member concerned, subject to the consent of the faculty member. Such an Observer shall be non-participating and subject to the "Guidelines Concerning the Appointment and Department of Observers at Faculty Disciplinary Hearings" (Appendix B).~~

PROCEDURES FOR DISCIPLINARY HEARINGS

- a. The principles and procedures described in Appendix A shall apply to all proceedings before a Faculty Discipline Tribunal. Discipline Tribunals shall not be charged with investigative duties.
- b. At the Hearing, the onus shall be on the Faculty Dean to adduce evidence to satisfy the Discipline Tribunal that the alleged unacceptable behaviour or negligence has occurred.
- c. Parties to the Hearing may be advised or represented by a friend, colleague, or legal counsel (see also clause 35).
- d. Administrative support from the Discipline Tribunal will be provided through the Office of the Senate Secretariat.

DISCIPLINE TRIBUNAL DECISION

~~32-29.~~ The Discipline Tribunal shall report in writing to the Provost within 120 days of being struck, except in extraordinary circumstances or unless circumstances clearly warrant a longer period.

~~33-30.~~ The report shall be copied to the parties to the Hearing, to those members of the Faculty Appointments Committee not involved in the Hearing, and to any other individuals the Discipline Tribunal deems appropriate.

~~34-31.~~ The report shall include:

- a. the membership of the Discipline Tribunal;
- b. the background of the case, including the nature of the alleged unacceptable behaviour or negligence;
- c. a summary of the cases of the parties to the Hearing;
- d. the Tribunal's majority findings [This section shall clearly indicate which allegations(s) of unacceptable behaviour or negligence is (are) supported and which is (are) not]; and
- e. the Tribunal's majority recommendation(s) and the reasons for the recommendation(s).

35-32. The Discipline Tribunal may recommend:

- a. that no disciplinary action against the faculty member is warranted; or
- b. such disciplinary action as the Discipline Tribunal deems appropriate.
Such disciplinary action may include, but is not limited to:
  - i. instruction to the appropriate administrative officers and/or committees that they take the findings of the Discipline Tribunal into consideration when the individual is next considered for career progress/merit increases;
  - ii. instruction to the appropriate administrative officers and/or committees that they take the findings of the Discipline Tribunal into consideration when the individual is next considered for promotion, if applicable;
  - iii. a recommendation to the President that the faculty member be suspended, with or without pay, for a specified period, in accordance with relevant University policies;
  - iv. a recommendation to the President that the appropriate procedures for removal be initiated, in accordance with existing University policies.

The disciplinary action recommended by the Discipline Tribunal should be proportional to the severity of the unacceptable behaviour.

It is expected that the Tribunal will reach a unanimous or a majority decision regarding the disciplinary action to be recommended. If it cannot, then the following procedure shall be followed. Two members of the Discipline Tribunal, neither of whom is the Chair, shall each submit in writing to the Chair of the Tribunal the disciplinary action he or she believes is appropriate. The Chair shall select one of the two proposals as the Tribunal's recommendation.

36-33. If no disciplinary action is recommended by the Discipline Tribunal, the Tribunal shall decide what portion of any reasonable legal expenses incurred by the faculty member shall be borne by the University.

37-34. Decisions of the Discipline Tribunal are binding and cannot be appealed.

38-35. Within ten days from receipt of the report from the Discipline Tribunal the Provost shall, if the Tribunal has recommended disciplinary action, forward the report to the President.

39-36. The President, upon receipt of the Discipline Tribunal's report, shall promptly implement the recommendations of the Tribunal, as appropriate within the terms of existing University policies and/or contractual obligations.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

40-37. The Faculty Dean and the Provost shall undertake to avoid conflicts of interest at the respective levels of these proceedings. Any changes required to preserve arm's length dealing supersede the requirements of these procedures. Should the Faculty Dean or Provost not be at arm's length from the matter under these proceedings, the Dean of Graduate Studies shall act for the Dean and the Vice- President (Research) shall act for the Provost. Should the Dean of Graduate Studies or Vice-President (Research) not be at arm's length, the President shall appoint a Faculty Dean not otherwise involved in the proceedings to serve in his or her place.

APPENDIX A

PROCEDURAL RULES FOR A DISCIPLINARY HEARING

1. The Statutory Powers Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, (SPPA) establishes minimum rules by which certain tribunals must proceed, to ensure that the rules of natural justice have been observed. These rules are divided into two separate parts: (1) persons whose rights are to be affected by the decision being taken have a right to be heard before that decision is taken, and (2) a person has the right to have his or her case decided by an unbiased decision-maker.
2. Faculty Discipline Tribunals established under this policy must incorporate these principles in their procedures in order to satisfy the requirements of being fair to the parties before them.
3. Because the SPPA provides fundamental rules, rather than a detailed set of procedures for the conduct of hearings, tribunals have some discretion to establish the actual manner in which the hearing will be conducted. However, nothing in this document should be interpreted to mean that the parties involved have given up any rights under the SPPA.
4. All Discipline Tribunals convened under this policy shall follow the procedures detailed below.

PARTIES TO A HEARING

5. Parties to Hearings shall include:
  - a. the Faculty Dean who referred the matter to the Provost; and
  - b. the faculty member who is the subject of the Dean's referral (hereinafter called "the respondent").

HEARINGS

6. Hearings are normally open to the public, but any party to the Hearing may request a closed Hearing. The possible disclosure of certain matters may indicate the need for a closed Hearing, such as matters of public security, intimate financial or personal details, or other matters that may have a substantially adverse effect on the interest of any person or on the public interest.

If a request by a party or the parties to the Hearing to close the Hearings is made prior to or during the hearing of a case, the Chair of the Discipline Tribunal shall close the Hearing for the purpose of discussing the request. After listening to the arguments for closing, the Tribunal shall decide whether, in accordance with Section 9(1) of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, sufficient cause for closing exists. If not, the Hearing will be re-opened.

7. An attempt shall be made to schedule the Hearing(s) at a time and place convenient for the Discipline Tribunal and for the parties to the Hearing. However, any party whose reasons for absence are not considered valid by the Discipline Tribunal Chair, or whose absence may cause unreasonable delay, shall be notified that the Tribunal will proceed in the party's absence.
8. The Hearing(s) shall be commenced as soon as possible following the appointment of the Discipline Tribunal. Each party to the Hearing shall be sent a Notice of Hearing.
9. Prior to the Hearing, members of the Discipline Tribunal shall be provided with the letter of referral from the Faculty Dean to the Provost, together with all attachments, and with the written response (if any) from the respondent.
10. Parties to the Hearing shall be given the opportunity to submit written or other documentary evidence prior to the Hearing and any such evidence shall be made available or be accessible to the members of the Discipline Tribunal and to all parties prior to the Hearing.
11. Members of the Discipline Tribunal must not hear evidence or receive representations regarding the substance of the case other than through the procedures described in this Appendix.

THE ORDER OF THE HEARING

12. a. The Chair's opening statement shall:
  - i. identify the parties,
  - ii. identify the nature of the case, and
  - iii. list the evidence already before the Discipline Tribunal.
- b. The Faculty Dean is the first party heard.
  - i. This party's opening statement shall contain a brief description of his/her case, including what he/she believes is the faculty member's alleged unacceptable behaviour.
  - ii. This party will then present his/her evidence relating to the alleged unacceptable behaviour, which may include any or all of the following:
    - a. his/her oral testimony;
    - b. oral testimony of his/her witnesses; and

- c. documents or other written evidence in support of this testimony.
    - iii. Questioning of this party and his/her witnesses by the Respondent and/or by the Discipline Tribunal occurs at the close of each person's testimony.
  - c. The Respondent then presents his/her case.
    - i. The opening statement of the Respondent shall contain:
      - a. a brief reply to the first party's claims; and
      - b. the main arguments of his/her defense.
    - ii. The Respondent will then present his/her evidence to support his/her defense, which may include any or all of the following:
      - a. his/her oral testimony;
      - b. oral testimony of his/her witnesses; and
      - c. documents or other written evidence in support of this testimony.
    - iii. Questioning of the Respondent and his/her witnesses by the first party and/or by the Discipline Tribunal occurs at the close of each person's testimony.
  - d. The Faculty Dean has the right to offer testimony and call witnesses or other evidence in reply to the issues raised in the Respondent's case. Only arguments or evidence related to evidence of the Respondent can be introduced by the Faculty Dean at this stage.

AFTER THIS POINT IN THE HEARING, NO NEW ARGUMENTS OR EVIDENCE MAY BE INTRODUCED.

  - e. The parties are entitled to make closing arguments, and to summarize briefly the main points of their cases, in the following order:
    - i. Faculty Dean,
    - ii. Respondent,
    - iii. Faculty Dean.
  - f. The Discipline Tribunal may alter the order described in sub-sections (a) to (e) above in the interest of fairness to any or all of the parties.

THE EVIDENCE

13. Parties to the Hearing have the right to present evidence in support of their case to the Discipline Tribunal and to see any written or documentary evidence presented to the Tribunal.
14. The Discipline Tribunal has the power to require production of written or documentary evidence by the parties or by other sources.

WITNESSES

15. A person appearing before the Discipline Tribunal may be required to give evidence under affirmation or oath.
16. Parties to the Hearing have the right to call, question and cross-examine witnesses.
17. The Discipline Tribunal has discretion to limit testimony and questioning of witnesses to those matters it considers relevant to the disposition of the case.
18. Parties are responsible for producing their own witnesses and for paying the costs associated with their appearance before the Discipline Tribunal (see also, clause 35 in the main policy).
19. The Discipline Tribunal Chair has the power to compel a witness to attend, and parties may request the Chair's aid in this regard.
20. Witnesses normally are present in the hearing room only during the time they are testifying.

DELIBERATIONS BY THE DISCIPLINE TRIBUNAL

21. Following the formal Hearing(s), the Discipline Tribunal shall deliberate in closed session. The Tribunal shall have the right to engage independent legal counsel to aid it in internal legal discussions.

DISCIPLINE TRIBUNAL DECISION

See main policy, clauses 31 to 38.

APPENDIX B

GUIDELINES CONCERNING THE APPOINTMENT AND DEPARTMENT OF OBSERVERS AT FACULTY DISCIPLINARY HEARINGS

1. ~~As described in clause 29 of the Code of Conduct for Faculty (referred to below as the "Procedures"), the McMaster University Faculty Association is permitted, subject to the consent of the faculty member who is the subject of the disciplinary hearing, to send an Observer to the hearing described in clause 30 of the Procedures.~~
2. ~~The function of the Observer is to allow the Faculty Association to monitor the workings of these Procedures. It is the role of the Observer to comment in the Report on the adequacy of the procedures, with a view to making recommendations to improve relevant policies, not to comment in the Report on the conduct or the judgement of the tribunal.~~
3. ~~As outlined in clause 24 (ii) of the Procedures, the Provost shall send a copy of these guidelines to the faculty member concerned when a Disciplinary Hearing is initiated and shall ask the faculty member in writing (with a copy to the McMaster University Faculty Association) whether the faculty member consents (a) to the presence of a Faculty Association observer, and (b) if so, to all the documentation being provided to the Observer. The Provost shall notify the Faculty Association and the Secretary of the Senate of the faculty member's response. If the faculty member consents to the presence of an Observer, the Association shall inform the faculty member and the Secretary of the Senate who the Observer will be.~~
4. ~~The Observer does not attend on behalf of the faculty member. That function is fulfilled by counsel or by an agent chosen by the faculty member, if desired. Nor does the observer attend on behalf of the President of the University. The Observer nominated by the Faculty Association should be an active or retired member of the Association and should be at "arm's length" from the case.~~
5. ~~The Observer must be familiar with the Code of Conduct for Faculty (including these guidelines) and should carry a copy of the document to the Hearing.~~
6. ~~Seating arrangements at the Hearing are at the discretion of the Chair. The Observer may not speak without an invitation from the Chair.~~
7. ~~The Observer shall be provided with all the documentation available to the faculty member, subject to the faculty member's consent. This documentation shall be considered confidential. It shall be surrendered to the Chair at the close of the Hearing.~~

- ~~8. The Observer is not entitled to be present when the Discipline Tribunal members recess for discussion among themselves.~~
- ~~9. The Observer shall receive a confidential copy of the document in which the Discipline Tribunal reports its decision to the Provost.~~
- ~~10. After the Hearing is over, the Observer should ask the parties separately if they were satisfied with the procedures followed, and whether they wish to comment on them.~~
- ~~11. The Observer shall then write a report of the proceedings for the President of the McMaster University Faculty Association using the attached form. The Observer shall limit comment to procedural matters and take care not to quote either from confidential documents or confidential utterances, unless it is absolutely necessary to do so to make a point concerning procedural issues. The Observer's report should include a statement of what proportion of the Hearing the Observer attended and a description of any comments on, or expressions of dissatisfaction with, the procedures by either party. The Observer's report should not be confidential, except that any quotations from confidential documents or confidential utterances should be confined to a confidential appendix to which only the Presidents of the University and of the Faculty Association should have access. If major procedural irregularities are noted by the Observer, the President of the Faculty Association should inform the President of the University.~~

PREAMBLE

1. The University states unequivocally that it demands research integrity from all of its members. Research misconduct, in whatever form, is ultimately destructive to the values of the University and society; furthermore, it is unfair and discouraging to those who conduct their research with integrity.
2. This Policy applies to all institutional personnel. "Institutional Personnel" means faculty, postdoctoral fellows, graduate students, undergraduate students, and other research support staff and any other personnel, including senior administrators, involved directly or indirectly in research, including, but not limited to, research associates, technical staff, adjunct professors, librarians, visiting professors, volunteers, observers, and institutional administrators and officials representing McMaster University.
3. University research requires the individual integrity of all institutional personnel. Researchers at McMaster demonstrate integrity in many ways, including the following:
  - they practice intellectual honesty in the process of acquiring and extending knowledge.
  - they adhere to ethical requirements in their research.
  - they acknowledge fully the work of others by providing appropriate references in papers, essays and the like and by declaring the contributions of co-investigators. Researchers do not take credit that is not earned.
  - they strive to ensure that others are not put at an unfair disadvantage in their pursuit of knowledge. they do not withhold material that should rightly be available to all.
4. Any allegation of research misconduct will be processed in accordance with this Policy, which aligns with the principles and requirements of the Tri-Agency Framework: Responsible Conduct on Research. The term Tri-Agency, when used in this document, refers to the funding agencies: Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR); Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada (NSERC); and the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada (SSHRC).
5. Where institutional and/or policy jurisdiction is unclear the procedures outlined in Appendix E: Jurisdiction and Appendix D: Jurisdiction will be followed. Policies are already in place governing research with human and animal subjects. This document is not intended to supersede them.
6. For the purpose of interpreting this document, words in the singular may include the plural and words in the plural may include the singular.

RESEARCH

7. Research is an undertaking, or a commitment to an undertaking, intended to extend knowledge through a disciplined inquiry or systematic investigation. This definition of research in this policy includes, but is not limited to, the following scholarly activities:
  - a) the preparation and publication, in either traditional or electronic format, of scholarly books, articles, reviews, translations, critical editions, bibliographies, textbooks, and pedagogical materials;

- b) creative works in drama, music and the visual arts (including recordings, exhibitions, plays and musical compositions, which may take form as remixes, homages or parodies);
  - c) literary works in prose, poetry, and drama; and
  - d) contract research and consultancy contracts.
8. Students (graduate and undergraduate) are often involved in research as part of their academic work, employment, and/or volunteering activity. Research by students may lead to academic credit, payment, and/or academic merit (e.g. reference letters, publications, etc.).

RELATED POLICIES

accomplishments in a manner consistent with the norms of the relevant field. This includes certifying when necessary that they have no findings for a breach of responsible conduct of research policies such as ethics, integrity or financial management policies that would make them ineligible to apply for and/or hold funds from Tri-Agency funding sources or any other research or research funding organization world-wide.

14. Principal funding applicants must ensure that others listed on the application have explicitly agreed to be included.

Management of Grant and Award Funds

15. Researchers are responsible for using grant or award funds in accordance with relevant policies, including the Tri-Agency Financial Administration Guide and Agency grants and awards guides; and for providing true, complete and accurate records and information on documentation for expenditures from grant or award accounts.

Requirements for Certain Types of Research

16. Researchers must comply with all applicable requirements and legislation for the conduct of research, including, but not limited to:
  - a) Tri-Council Policy Statement: Ethical Conduct of Research Involving Humans (TCPS 2);
  - b) Canadian Council on Animal Care Policies and Guidelines;

SUPERVISORS

18. For the context of this policy there are two types of Supervisor which are not mutually exclusive:
  - a) an Academic supervisor oversees the academic work of a student, the most common example being a faculty member overseeing a graduate student's academic and research progress;
  - b) an Employment supervisor is any faculty or staff member acting in their capacity as supervisors within a Faculty, Academic Department, and/or Workplace. They oversee the work of an employee, which includes, but is not limited to, a faculty member overseeing a Post-Doctoral fellow / technician / undergraduate or graduate student performing research in the faculty member's laboratory.

19. Supervisors are expected to be competent researchers and are expected to understand the demands of ethical conduct of research and reporting research results. Supervisors provide direction on good research practices and serve as a mentor and example through their own research activities and their supervision of others. A Supervisor's duties include, but are not limited to:
  - a) providing an adequate degree of oversight which identifies deviations from acceptable practice in a timely fashion;
  - b) taking appropriate steps to address research integrity concerns when they come to their attention;

    - (iii) the acceptable methods for undertaking research and reporting it.
  - g) keeping records of training on the Research Integrity Policy for the institutional personnel under their supervision;
20. In an academic research setting a supervisor has specific duties. The failure to fully execute their duties as supervisor may result in a degree of responsibility for any research misconduct committed by individuals under their supervision.

GRADUATE STUDENTS

21. Under this policy, a person is considered a graduate student if enrolled either part-time or full-time in a graduate studies program at the time of an alleged research misconduct violation. Graduate students, having been deemed admissible to higher studies, are expected to be competent in the acknowledgement of other people's work, whether that work is in print, or electronic, or other media.
22. Graduate education concentrates on the formation of appropriate research skills and prepares students to undertake independent inquiry. All graduate students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the definitions of research integrity and research misconduct in the University policies.

OFFICE OF ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

23. The Office of Academic Integrity is the administrative office responsible for the receipt and processing of allegations of misconduct at the investigation stage, and for providing procedural advice and administrative support for University Officers. This Office participates in planning, assisting and coordinating appropriate research integrity education and research misconduct prevention activities.

24. The Office of Academic Integrity assists all those conducting research under the auspices of McMaster University, with matters of research integrity, and provides policy and procedural guidance in addressing research misconduct concerns and/or allegations.

UNIVERSITY OFFICER

25. The term “University Officer” as defined in Appendix B and used in this Policy, refers to the individual responsible, with support and resources provided by the Office of Academic Integrity, for investigating allegations of research misconduct in a timely manner, as appropriate in the circumstances.
26. The University Officer is also responsible for presenting the investigation results at the Hearing and reporting to the appropriate administrative officer any reports of reprisals or threats of reprisals that come to their attention.

UNIVERSITY SECRETARIAT

27. The University Secretariat is the administrative office responsible for the scheduling and holding of hearings before the Hearings Committee and for the training of Hearings Committee members.

VICE-PRESIDENT (RESEARCH)

28. The Vice-President (Research) is the decision-maker responsible for determining what, if any, Interim Measures are required at any stage of a research misconduct allegation, and overseeing the communication, implementation, and review of such measures.

ADMINISTRATION

29. The term “Administration”, as used in this Policy, refers to individuals and entities responsible for the University’s research endeavours. A non-exhaustive list includes: Chairs; Directors of Schools and Programs; Associate and Assistant Deans; Deans; Research Office for Administration, Development & Support (ROADS); Health Research Services (HRS); the Vice-Provost (Faculty); the Vice-President (Research); the Provost; and the Senate.
30. Administrators are responsible for developing and updating policies and procedures related to maintaining the research integrity of the University community and providing the resources required to support these activities. In addition, they are responsible for promoting awareness of what constitutes the responsible conduct of research, including the relevant granting agency requirements, and providing resources so that members of the University are able to function with the highest standards of integrity, accountability, and responsibility in their research pursuits. Activities may include disseminating information about the expectations for research integrity and providing education on the responsible conduct of research.

SECTION III: POLICY VIOLATIONS

REMEDIES AND SANCTIONS

- 33. The Hearings Committee shall order remedies and recommend sanctions based on the merits of the case and proportional to the severity of the violation. If there are mitigating and/or contextual factors in determining/implementing the remedy/sanction, the reasons shall be clearly articulated by the Hearings Committee.
- 34. The existence of any previous findings of research misconduct will be taken into account when remedies and sanctions are determined, and the severity of remedies/sanctions may be greater as a result. Remedies and sanctions may be used independently or in combination for any single violation and may be varied according to what the Hearings Committee considers appropriate.
- 35. Remedies and sanctions for research misconduct may have other consequences for the Respondent (e.g. the Tri-Agency may impose their own sanctions, such as the withdrawal of funds). These possible additional consequences shall not be a factor when deciding on remedies/sanctions; the remedies/sanctions are decided based on the merits of the case.
- 36. Regardless of the remedies ordered and/or the sanctions recommended, the Hearings Committee does not have the power to limit disclosure of the sanctions or findings to the appropriate granting council or agency.

Remedies

- 37. Remedies may include, but are not limited to:

The costs of any accompaniment or representation are to be borne by the party.

FRIVOLOUS OR VEXATIOUS COMPLAINTS

47. A researcher's reputation is crucial to their career, and serious consideration must be given to the possible harm to his or her reputation before making any allegation of misconduct. The University will take care to ensure that those making legitimate accusations in good faith are protected from reprisals, but will not tolerate allegations that are frivolous, unreasonable, vexatious or wholly without foundation. If such allegations are found to have been maliciously motivated, disciplinary actions against those responsible shall be initiated by the University.

Interim Measures may also be necessary to safeguard the interests of individuals, agencies or corporations who are not the subject of an allegation, but whose interests may be directly affected by the alleged misconduct or an Investigation process. See Appendix F: Interim Measures Appendix E: Interim Measures.
52. The Vice-President (Research) shall give due consideration to the effect that the filing of an allegation may have on both parties in the case of a supervisory relationship, as well as the need to preserve academic program/studies and future working relationships.

RESPONDENT STATUS DURING AN INVESTIGATION

53. If criminal charges are laid against the Respondent, the Investigation or Hearing may be suspended, pending the outcome.
54. While under investigation and/or before a Hearings Committee has rendered a decision, a faculty or staff member may formally resign from the University. However, this will not prevent the continuation of the investigation or the hearing.

<sup>3</sup> In order to protect confidentiality, the statistical report to Senate and Board will be held over until a cell size of five has been reached. The report will then provide statistics on a rolling three-year basis.

Students: Transcripts and Registration

55. When a charge of research misconduct is made against a student and until the case has been resolved, the student will not be issued transcripts directly but, at the student's request, transcripts will be sent to institutions or potential employers. If the student is subsequently found guilty and the conviction results in a transcript notation, the recipients of any transcripts will be so informed by the Registrar.
56. While under investigation for, or subsequent to being found guilty of research misconduct in a course(s), a student shall not be permitted to withdraw formally from that course(s).
57. While under investigation for research misconduct, a student shall be permitted to withdraw formally from the University. However, this will not prevent the continuation of the investigation or the hearing.

80. Except for sharing information with their Advisor all those who meet with an Investigator (including the Advisor) are required to keep confidential the meeting and any information shared to ensure the integrity of the proceedings. Failure to do so could be considered a breach of confidentiality/privacy, and may result in disciplinary action.
81. An individual who was not previously identified as a Respondent but who, during the course of an investigation, is identified as a potential Respondent will be notified and given an opportunity to meet the University Officer and to respond to any allegations.
82. Where, during the Investigation or any subsequent Hearing, the University Officer has reasonable and probable grounds to believe it is appropriate that research activity be suspended, in whole or in part, or that interim measures are necessary to protect the research/supervisory environment, the University Officer shall inform the Vice-President (Research). ## ~~APPENDIX D: ASSOCIATION OBSERVERS AT HEARINGS~~

- ~~1. The relevant trade union or association is permitted, subject to the consent of the Respondent, to send an Observer to the hearings. In this context, the appropriate trade union or association (Association/Union) is that organization recognized at McMaster University as formally representing a group of individuals. This is the Faculty Association for faculty, the relevant trade union or staff association for staff (such as CUPE or UNIFOR), the Librarians' Association or, where appropriate, the Faculty Association, for librarians, the Clinical Faculty Association for clinical faculty, and so on. Individuals lacking formal or recognized representation may choose either a faculty or staff association Observer.~~
- ~~2. The function of the Observer is to allow the appropriate representative Association/Union to monitor the workings of the Policy. It is important that the University have full confidence in the Policy. The presence of an Association/Union Observer is an additional guarantee of fairness and may provide information leading to an improved policy.~~
- ~~3. The University Secretariat shall send a copy of these guidelines to the Respondent when a Hearing is initiated and request the Respondent's consent to the presence of an Observer as provided for in the Policy. If the Respondent consents, the University Secretariat shall request the appropriate Association/Union to provide the name of the Observer.~~
- ~~4. The Observer should be an active or retired member of the Association/Union and should be at "arm's length" from the case. The Observer does not attend on behalf of the Respondent and should avoid interacting with any of the parties. At no time should the Observer engage the parties or the Hearing Committee in any discussions regarding the matter being heard.~~
- ~~5. The Observer must be familiar with the Policy on Research Ethics at McMaster University, the Statement on Conflict of Interest in Research and the Research Integrity Policy.~~

- ~~8. The Observer shall receive a confidential copy of the Hearings Committee Report.~~

- ~~10. The Observer shall write a report of the proceedings for the head of the appropriate Association/Union. They shall limit comment to procedural matters and take care not to quote either from confidential documents or utterances, unless it is absolutely necessary to do so to make a point concerning procedural issues. The report should include a statement of what proportion of the Hearing the Observer attended and a description of any comments on, or expressions of dissatisfaction with, the Policy by either party. The report should not be confidential, except that any quotations from confidential documents/utterances be confined to a confidential appendix to which only the Presidents of the University and of the Association/Union should have access. If major procedural irregularities are noted by the Observer, the President of the Association/Union should inform the President of the University.~~

APPENDIX ED: JURISDICTION

1. The same allegation on the same set of facts cannot be submitted under two different University policies at the same time. If necessary, the Academic Integrity Officer can advise on the most appropriate route for an allegation.
2. Where there is a substantial overlap of jurisdiction between the Academic Integrity Policy and the Research Integrity Policy, the Academic Integrity Officer in consultation with the University Secretariat may determine that the allegation should be considered by an appropriate joint Hearings Committee.
3. When an allegation is made regarding research that was not conducted under the auspices of McMaster University, the Office of Academic Integrity shall, in consultation with the University Secretariat, determine whether the allegation should be referred to the institution where the research was conducted, with a request to be informed of the outcome of the other institution's investigation.
4. Nothing in this Policy is meant to supersede the terms and conditions of any collective agreement, or any other contractual agreement, entered into by the University and its employee groups. In the event that the provisions of this Policy contradict any such collective or contractual agreement, the collective or contractual agreement governs, to the extent of the contradiction.
5. To the extent this Policy affects the terms and conditions of employment of faculty of the University, it may be subject to discussion and approval in accordance with the University policy entitled, The Joint Administration/Faculty Association Committee to Consider University Financial Matters and to Discuss and Negotiate Matters Related to Terms and Conditions of Employment of Faculty, revised by the Board of Governors on October 20, 1988 (the 'Joint Administration/Faculty Association' policy).
6. Proceedings under this Policy may be carried out prior to, simultaneously with civil or criminal proceedings, at the discretion of the Vice-President (Research).
7. Any alleged mismanagement of research funds will be dealt with under this Policy.
8. In cases where the Vice-President (Research) determines that processing an allegation under this Policy might prejudice another internal (e.g. Internal Audit Investigation) or external process they may suspend these proceedings indefinitely or pause the investigation pending the outcome of these other proceedings.

PROCEDURES FOR DETERMINING JURISDICTION INVOLVING AFFILIATED INSTITUTIONS

9. McMaster's affiliated institutions are required to follow a process and guidelines for notification of an investigation that are harmonized with the McMaster University Research Integrity Policy.
10. Any allegations of research misconduct received by McMaster's Office of Academic Integrity which predominately fall under the auspices or jurisdiction of McMaster University will be investigated according to University policy and procedures.

University or Affiliate	Cross appointee not included above	Other institution's responsible officer

13. The jurisdiction of the University, of the affiliate, or of both to deal with an allegation of research misconduct is based on the strongest connection, as determined by the balance of:
- a) the primary organizational affiliation of the accused;
  - b) where the research work is being conducted;
  - c) where the research work is being supervised;
  - d) where the research funding was administered;
  - e) which institution was party to the research contract;
  - f) which institution reviewed any certifications, e.g. REB, Biosafety, etc.; and
  - g) if the accused is jointly supported e.g. CRC.

Example Cases	Jurisdiction
Student or University employee or trainee and research connection strongest to the University	University
Employee/Appointee of affiliate and research connection strongest to affiliate	Affiliate
Cross appointed or neither of above	Strongest connection or joint jurisdiction

14. Jurisdictional Responsibilities:
- a) communication to all parties;
  - b) appointment of investigators/committee members;

15. Where a jurisdictional dispute has arisen, a senior officer of the affiliate, e.g. Hospital CEO, and the University Provost in conjunction with University Vice-President (Research) and counterpart at the affiliate, will attempt to resolve the jurisdictional dispute. In the absence of any agreement to the contrary, the University will proceed with the investigation according to University policy and procedures.

2. Interim Measures may also be necessary to safeguard the interests of individuals who are not the subject of an allegation or external research sponsors, but whose interests may be directly affected by the alleged misconduct or an Investigation process.
3. The Vice-President (Research) shall give due consideration to the effect that the filing of an allegation may have on both parties in the case of a supervisory relationship, as well as the need to preserve academic program/studies and future working relationships. Where appropriate, the Vice-President (Research) may contact the appropriate administrator in line with the reporting structure of the party (e.g. contacting the Associate Dean or Department Chair where the student is under the supervision of the person alleged to have engaged in research misconduct, to make arrangements for the work and/or examinations, if any, of the student to be evaluated by a disinterested party and, if necessary, for the student to be removed from the environment of the person alleged to have engaged in misconduct in research and scholarship.<sup>4</sup>)
4. The Vice-President (Research) shall decide and oversee the communication and implementation of Interim Measures. The Vice-President (Research) may work with the appropriate Vice-Provost to determine appropriate Interim Measures.
5. Internal Audit shall notify the Vice-President (Research) when conducting an investigation related to research funds under the Fraud Policy, who shall determine if Interim Measures are necessary.
6. Persons in Authority may impose appropriate and provisional Interim Measures, before a formal allegation of Research Misconduct has been filed, if they deem the situation to require immediate action for the reasons stated in clause 1 above. They shall notify the Vice-President (Research) and the Office of Academic Integrity within 48 hours of having implemented these measures.
7. Notwithstanding any Interim Measures, the person in authority shall report an allegation of research misconduct to the Office of Academic Integrity within 10 business days of any interim measures being implemented.

11. The Vice-President (Research) shall also give consideration to safeguarding relevant materials and documents, including laboratory data books (by sequestering them either in the Office of the Vice-President (Research) or elsewhere) and providing for maintenance of sensitive research materials and equipment. Supervised access by the Respondent and the University Officer to such material will be permitted for preparing a defense or carrying out the Investigation. Where appropriate the Vice-President (Research) will seek an amendment to, among other things, the letter of approval from the appropriate Research Ethics Board for access to research data or other information.
12. The Vice-President (Research) shall endeavor to minimize harm through the implementation of Interim Measures that are reasonable and necessary in the circumstances. For example, due consideration shall be given to other researchers' access to the equipment in question and/or research results, whether it is necessary to continue or modify the research if it involves human or animal subjects, the possible need for changes to the supervision of students, and to the start-up costs of any research activities that are suspended, etc.
13. When there are reasonable grounds to believe it is appropriate that Interim Measures be implemented, and where one or more granting agency has an interest in the Research, the Vice-President (Research), following consultation with the external research sponsor, may take immediate action to protect the administration of the funds. These actions may include:
  - a) suspending the research activity in whole or such part as the Vice-President (Research) shall specify;
  - b) making any order with respect to the funding of the research activity as the Vice-President (Research) considers reasonable and necessary in the circumstances; and
  - c) independently, or at the external research sponsor's request, taking immediate action to protect the administration of the external sponsor's funds. Immediate actions could include freezing grant accounts, and/or requiring a second authorized signature on all expenses charged to the researchers' grant accounts.
14. In the event an employee is directed to an administrative leave as an Interim Measure, the conditions of the administrative leave shall accord with the terms of any applicable collective agreement. In the absence of an applicable collective agreement [e.g. where the employee is faculty or The Management Group (TMG)], the leave shall be without loss of pay or benefits. It is understood that an administrative leave as an interim measure is non-disciplinary and is designed to separate a person from a situation or another person until the matter has been resolved. During such period, the person can continue to access relevant University support services.

15. The Vice-President (Research) may exercise the foregoing authority notwithstanding that the investigation may not be complete and/or that the Respondent has not responded.
16. Interim Measures will be reviewed by the Vice-President (Research) on an ongoing basis, at a minimum of once per month, throughout the process to ensure they remain necessary and appropriate in the circumstances. Interim measures are temporary and do not extend beyond the Hearings Committee's decision.
17. Interim measures shall not be construed as evidence of either guilt or a finding of violation of this Policy, or as an affirmation of innocence/finding of non-violation of this Policy.

APPENDIX GF: TRANSCRIPT NOTATIONS

1. When a grade of “F” in a course has been levied against a student found guilty of research misconduct, the notation “Grade of F assigned for research misconduct” shall appear on the student’s transcript opposite the course. Provided there are no subsequent findings against the student, the notation will be removed, and the record of the violation destroyed, upon the shorter of:

RE: Parchment Change - Dissolution of McMaster-Syracuse MCM Partnership

In 2007, McMaster and Syracuse created a joint degree in Communication Management (MCM).

In fall 2011 the attached parchment was submitted for approval.

In 2023 after consultation with the Dean of Humanities and the Dean of Syracuse's Newhouse School it was determined that the partnership would be dissolved and the program continue under McMaster's administration. On February 13th Graduate Council approved the change and Senate approved on March 20th.

The School of Graduate Studies has consulted with Quality Council and it has been determined that this change will be handled through a major modification to meet the administrative requirements of the Quality Assurance Framework. The major modification report, including this item, will be submitted to Quality Council in June 2024, per our usual process.

We are now submitting a request to update the parchment for the Master of Communication Management to remove reference to the partnership with the Newhouse School. This change would be effective on parchments after Senate has approved the major modification through curriculum processes and will first appear for the graduating class for students admitted in September 2023.

Revisions to the Terms of Reference for the Senate Academic Integrity Committee were provided to the Committee for discussion and approval. Proposed revisions were suggested in 2022-23 however Senate had concerns regarding the number of ex-officio members and did not approve the changes. To address the concern, it was proposed that the Vice-Provost, Teaching and Learning, be removed from the membership list.

At the meeting, members discussed the removal of the Vice-Provost, Teaching and Learning but felt that the position should remain an ex-officio member. Instead, the committee agreed to increase the membership and quorum of the Committee.

2022 – 2023 Annual Report Office of Academic Integrity

Summary

During this reporting year, we observed a decline in academic dishonesty incidents, with the number of offenses dropping from 652 to 414 compared to the previous year. This was also reflected in the reduced number of hearings conducted, which decreased from 91 to 58. Although our office continues to handle a higher-than-normal caseload, it's encouraging to witness a shift towards pre-pandemic levels.

Additionally, the hiring process for the new Academic Integrity Specialist is nearing completion. This pivotal role will facilitate an expansion of community education initiatives offered by our office and enhance our responsiveness to inquiries. By maintaining ongoing partnerships with campus support services and key personnel, we aim to bolster preventative education efforts.
